TITTONI IS OUT: FIUME.

Italian Government Informed Last July of D'Annunzio's Intentions.

Premier Interviewed by Poet's Friends, Who are Warned of Consequences.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

ROME, Sept. 23.—Tomasso Tittoni, Italian Foreign Minister, has resigned because of the Fiume incident, according to an announcement by the Giornale d'Italia.

PARIS, Sept. 23.—Uneasiness is growing in Peace Conference circles in regard to the situation in Fiume. It is feared that the movement started by Gabriele d'Arnunzio may spread to other parts of the Dalmatian coast and result in the occupation of Zara, Cattaro and other towns with large Italian populations, located in districts where the majority of inhabitants are Jugo-Slavs.

The Jugo-Slav delegation in Paris is extremely apprehensive and the situation generally is regarded as one which might conceivably develop into a serious war.

NO LONGER ROMANCE.

The general disposition at first in several of the Entente delegations here was to regard D'Annunzio's movement as a beautiful romance. This disposition apparently is disappearing as the realization is becoming general that Greece, or even Germany, might adopt similar tactics to gain control of disputed territory.

No reply has been received from President Wilson to the proposed compromise of the differences regarding Fiume. The compromise plan in final form did not leave Paris until last Wednesday and delays in cable transmission as well as the process of decoding would consume several days.

KNEW D'ANNUNZIO'S PLAN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The Italian government was informed last July of the plans of Lieut.-Col. Gabriele d'Annunzio for his Fiume adventure, according to the Italian Socialist paper, Avanti, extracts from which were cabled today from Geneva to the official information bureau of the kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes. The paper also asserted that the Allies were told of the action of D'Annunzio's accomplices in Fiume long before the soldier-poet carried out his campaign.

"At the beginning of July, immediately after the great demonstration and the attacks in the press against Sig. Nitti, the Avanti was quoted as saying Gabriele d'Annunzio sent one of his most trusted friends to the Premier to inform the latter that he (D'Annunzio) was ready to come to an understanding with him, but that he asked to be allowed to carry out, on his own responsibility, the expedition in regard to which the government had already received certain information, and which it was trying to VIENNA WALKS: NO COAL.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VIENNA, Sept. 23.—The 2,000,000 inhabitants of this city absolutely are without means of getting about except on their own legs or on horseback or horse-drawn vehicles. All street-car traffic has stopped because there is no coal to make electric power. Use of automobiles on Sundays has been forbidden for some time.

The nonarrival of coal promised by the Czechs and the general scarcity of coal everywhere brought this condition, which seems likely to last until Thursday, anyhow.

All restaurants, coffee houses and places of amusement were ordered to close at 8 o'clock, but the order was modified so they may keep open later if they use carbide or some kind of light not electric. All electric elevators have stopped and the people must climb the stairs. There hardly is enough coal for kitchen fires and it is proposed to have great general kitchens in which food will be cooked for the general public.

WORK GOES ON IN HAMMOND PLANTS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

HAMMOND (Ind.) Sept. 23.—The steel strike situation in Hammond independent plants was unchanged tonight. Virtually the usual number of men were at work.

At Indiana Harbor, however, the strike had resulted in all large plants closing. There has been no trouble and picketing has practically ceased.

At East Chicago the plants are operating under the union scale, with the exception of some smaller ones.

GARY (Ind.) Sept. 23.—Several departments of the United States Steel Corporation were being operated today with small forces. Union representatives declared that 95 per cent. of the men employed by the corporation are out, and predict that the entire plant will be closed down within a few days. Officials of the company declined to make any statement.

Free Thought Leader is Dead.

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 23.—John Eleazor Ramsburg, one of the leaders of the Free Thought movement in the United States, died here today at the age of 71.

BULLETINS.

PORTLAND, Sept. 23.—It was stated at the Merchants' Exchange here today that word had been received that the Johanne Smith, a steamer, and La Primera, a steam schooner, had collided, presumably in a fog, below Cape Blanco. The vessels proceeded under their own power.

DETROIT, Sept. 23.—Control of all stock in the Ford Motor Company has been secured by Henry Ford and his son Edsel, it was announced here today, through purchase of the minority holdings of James Cousens, millionaire Mayor of Detroit and former vice-president of the company.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Gunnery Sergeant Harry Ruble of Sugar Grove, O., and Corp. Frank Campson of Minneapolis, United States Marine Corps, were killed in Haiti, September 21, when a detachment of marines fired on a squad of constabulary to which the two men were attached. The constabulary unit, the Navy Department was informed today, was mistaken for a bandit party.

PLACERVILLE, Sept. 23.—Forest fires in this vicinity swept toward Placerville early tonight, threatening the Eldorado County Hospital and the town itself. All the buildings at the Placerville ranch and the mill at the Baring Gould mine were burned today.

ADVOCATE NEW INDUSTRY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Dr. Charles Baskerville of New York, speaking tonight before the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, urged development of the shale oil industry in view of the fact that petroleum production in the United States is not keeping pace with consumption.

STEEL OFFICIALS PLEASED AT GAIN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 23.—"The conditions that prevailed during the day at our biggest plants in the Monongahela continued tonight," it was said at the offices of the Carnegie Steel Company tonight by an official who is in close personal touch with the situation. "We have had no reason to revise our feelings on the present situation and are still gratified at the gains that are being made.

"Of course, the Duquesne plant is most pleasing in its showing of 100 per cent. It is running normal tonight.

"Edgar Thompson works continue to operate with a better showing tonight than it had today, having gained a few men.

"Homestead, too, gained a few men tonight, while during the day sufficient men came back to put in operation one of the blast furnaces at the Carrie plant.

"At all other plants the condition was unchanged and, with the exception of at Farrell, there was no disorder at any of the mills or towns. At Farrell there are continual clashes between the State police and the strikers, but operations are still being carried on."

STRIKE SUMMARY.

ASSOCIATED PRESS RESUME.

Organized labor gained ground in Chicago, Youngstown and other western centers on the second day of the great steel strike, which was marked by increased violence, but, according to officials of the United States Steel Corporation and various independent companies, made but little headway in Pittsburgh and other eastern mills. From the south were received decidedly conflicting reports, such as from Birmingham, where union leaders claimed 4000 men were out and plant officials asserted there was such a surplus of labor that hundreds of men were set to sweeping floors for lack of other tasks.

In the Chicago district, where union leaders claim an additional 10,000 men had gone out; more steel plants were closed in South Chicago and Indiana Harbor, although at the latter place officials of an "independent" explained their shut down had been ordered merely to avoid responsibility for industrial warfare. Yesterday only the Gary mills of the United States Steel Corporation, some small plants in East Chicago and five independent mills in Hammond attempted operation.

OPPOSING CLAIMS.

In the Youngstown district proper, strikers achieved their most marked success, causing complete suspension of work in every plant in the Mahoning Valley by calling 44,000 men away from their posts.

Union leaders boldly heralded a spread of the strike, declaring that whereas only 284,000 of the 500,000 workers affected had marched out of the mills on the opening day, their ranks now numbered 327,100. They predicted that today or tomorrow would see the closing of many more plants and announced they hoped to extend the strike to Great Lake seamen and union trainmen.

Industrial leaders, while withholding their own figures, challenged the claims of labor's leaders. Representatives of the Carnegie company, the largest subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation, declared that the situation was "much improved." An estimate was made that in the Pittsburgh district alone 21,000 men had returned to vat and furnace.

RIOTING MARKS DAY.

The second day of the struggle was marked by rioting. Monday's disorders in Newcastle and Farrell, Pa., were renewed, with increasing casualties, so that additional num-

MOB ATTACKS TROOPERS WHO FIRE ON STRIKERS.

Third Clash at Farrell Brings a Bloody Retaliation and Agitators Flee Into Ohio.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

FARRELL (Pa.) Sept. 23.—Two men were killed and two others were wounded in another clash between State police and strikers and their sympathizers here tonight.

The trouble started when a crowd congregated and refused to disperse. When the troopers charged the crowd they were fired upon, it was alleged. The mounted officers returned the fire, killing two men, eyewitnesses say.

Tonight's riot occurred at the same place where one was killed and many were injured in an outbreak last night.

The rioting was started when Paul Kosimshi, 25, a workman, was attacked by a dozen or more men while on his way to the plant of the American Steel and Wire Company. Special Policeman Samuel Carter, a negro, went to Kosimshi's rescue. By this time they were surrounded by a mob of several hundred persons.

The two men sought shelter in a butcher shop. The crowd is alleged to have attempted to enter the building and fired a number of shots. Joseph Hungartz, 21, said by the police to be a striker, fell with a bullet wound in the abdomen. He was trampled by the men as they rushed into the shop.

The windows of the place were shattered with clubs and bricks and meats were strewn about the floor. Carter and Kosimshi, cornered, fought for their lives and were about exhausted when police came to their rescue.

Mounted police and special officers dispersed the crowd. Three arrests were made.

Hungartz is in the hospital in a critical condition. Carter, who suffered a probable fracture of the left arm and left shoulder blade and was beaten about the face and body, is also in a serious condition.

More than a dozen shots were fired at the troopers before they used their pistols, it was stated. They were also assaulted with bricks, stones and missiles flung by the crowd.

Police authorities reported at 8:30 o'clock that they had the situation well in hand.

Ill feeling against the State Constabulary is believed to have been largely responsible for tonight's outbreak, it was stated.

Two persons were shot, neither seriously, and several others were injured in renewed rioting this morning when State police and local authorities dispersed crowds that had congregated on the main street.

The morning melee did not last long. The authorities acted with much vigor and succeeded in scattering the crowds. After the trouble several thousand strikers went across the Ohio State line, several miles from Farrell, to hold a mass meeting. The burgess of Farrell has forbidden the holding of meetings in the borough.

J. H. Moody, burgess of Farrell, has taken personal charge of the police. Additional State police have been ordered here. Many cases of individual assaults have been reported.

RIOTS AT NEWCASTLE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEWCASTLE (Pa.) Sept. 23.—After riots yesterday in which eleven were injured, three of whom likely will die, union pickets were withdrawn from about the mills of the United States Steel Corporation here today.

With State constabulary, 150 deputy sheriffs and scores of policemen patrolling the streets about the steel plants here, the situation following serious riots last night was slightly improved early today.

Rioting assumed serious proportions late yesterday when rioters stoned workmen on their way to the mills. Thirty persons were arrested last night.

STEEL PLANTS MAKE GAINS.

Officials Deny Claims of Unions and Say Strikers Nearly All Foreigners.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 23.—Conflicting claims as much at variance as those given out the opening day of the big steel strike continue to be made by the contending forces in the widespread industrial contest now being waged.

The leaders of the organized workers boldly claimed today that the strike is spreading, and that thousands of men who worked yesterday joined the walkout today. Predictions were made that plants still in operation would be closed tomorrow or Thursday, and that no gains were made anywhere, either by the United States Steel Corporation, the principal factor in the struggle, or by independent concerns.

Representatives of the Carnegie Steel Company, the largest subsidiary in the corporation, admitting that some of its plants are closed because of the strike, claim that the situation is better than it was yesterday. According to an authorized summary of conditions within the Pittsburgh district, more men were at work at Homestead, Clairton, Duquesne and other places.

"It becomes more apparent that the strike is due entirely to activities among foreign workmen," said an official of the Carnegie Steel Company. "Almost without excep-

ALL BIRMINGHAM PLANTS RUNNING.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

BIRMINGHAM (Ala.) Sept. 23.—With every steel plant in the Birmingham district reporting 100 per cent. in operation today, conditions were quiet.

Of the less than 500 men who struck yesterday, many applied today for reinstatement. They were referred to their foremen, but in no case taken back.

Union-labor leaders were still hopeful today, although they admitted the strike was not as successful as they had hoped for.

STRIKER'S WIFE IS RIOT VICTIM.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEWCASTLE (Pa.) Sept. 23.—Mrs. Sophie Johnston, who was shot in a strike riot here last night, died in a hospital tonight. Twelve other persons, who were injured in last night's rioting, are expected to recover. Mrs. Johnston was the wife of a striker. She leaves two adult children.

BUFFALO, Sept. 23.—One man was killed and four persons were wounded when plant guards fired with shotguns on a crowd of strikers and strike sympathizers, who had congregated near one of the gates of the Lackawanna Steel Company's plants late this afternoon.

City policemen restored order after the shooting, but the strikers are in an ugly mood, according to reports to the police, and further trouble is expected before morning.

A master mechanic was set upon by a crowd and severely beaten. A riot call brought out the police and two men were arrested, charged with rioting.

Switchmen of the South Buffalo Railway today quit work when ordered to move cars into the Lackawanna Steel Company's yards.

Casimer Masurek, 24, shot through the head, died in an ambulance on the way to the hospital. Masurek was a striker. He had been working at the steel plant for about two months since his return from Wilson Says Reservations will Cut the Heart Out of the Treaty.

EVASION PLAN IS DENOUNCED.

President Says America Must Have Responsibility.

Explains Element of Choice in Article Ten of League.

Duty of Nation is to Take Leadership Offered.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 23.—Replying directly to Senate proposals to write reservations into ratification of the peace treaty, President Wilson declared in an address in the Mormon Tabernacle here tonight that the proposals would "cut the heart" out of the League of Nations.

Before a great crowd which repeatedly cheered his utterances Mr. Wilson read a proposed reservation under which the United States would "assume no responsibility" to protect the integrity of foreign governments under Article X. Such a reservation, he asserted, would relieve the United States of a part of its just responsibility.

"Does the United States want to be in on that special footing?" asked the President and there was a great shout of "No" from the crowd.

Answering objections that under Article X the United States might be called on to settle Balkan controversies, the President said:

"If you want to put out a fire in Utah, you don't go to Oklahoma for the fire engine, and if you want to put out a fire in the Balkans, you don't send to the United States for troops."

ELEMENT OF CHOICE.

The choice would be made, he said, from the most suitable and most available forces, and the decision would be made with the consent of all the nations concerned.

Should the controversy spread so that the aid of the United States would be necessary, he said, then it would be so serious a situation that this nation would get in any way, league or no league.

To adopt such a reservation, said Mr. Wilson, was not to interpret the covenant, but would constitute "an absolute withdrawal" from the responsibilities of Article X and consequently a rejection of the treaty.

Instead of wanting to get what it could without assuming any responsibility, it was the nation's duty, he said, to accept the leadership which the world now offered. That could be done, he continued, without in any way impairing national sovereignty, because no great decision could be taken without the vote of the United States.

BRANDS DISLOYALISTS.

The President was cheered again when he said that the "only serious forces" back of the movement to reject or change the treaty "proceed from exactly the same sources as the pro-German propaganda proceed from." He added that he had no notion of reflecting upon the public men who were aiding the opposition, but he declared they were pleasing Germany by their attitude. Through certain channels open to the government, he said, he knew Germany was "praying" that the United States would stay out of the league.

Every previous treaty, said the President, had been a division of spoils, while the present document was "an absolute renunciation of spoils." Everywhere, throughout the world, he said, settlements had been made on the theory that the people themselves should determine what form of government they should have.

Through the people, the President said, he was appealing to Senators to take a second thought if they intended to write into the treaty any such reservation as that he had quoted.

CHINA'S BEST HOPE.

The President also discussed the Shantung provision, repeating his previous statements that the League covenant offered the best hope for China's interests. He asked his hearers to make felt their moral judgment that the thing for America to do was to redeem the pledge by accepting the treaty.

The President spoke to a crowd which the police estimated at 12,000. Every seat was occupied and all the available standing room taken, while outside the tabernacle there was another great throng blocking the entrances and the surrounding streets.

The cheering that started when the President entered the tabernacle lasted more than a minute and then the Star Spangled Banner was played on the great pipe organ. As the last bar of the song began, the cheering broke out again.

PRAYER FOR STRENGTH.

President Heber J. Grant of the Mormon Church opened the meeting with an invocation in which he prayed for strength for the nation's Chief Executive in his responsibilities. Governor Simon Bamberger introduced the President.

The President discussed at length the question of reservations declaring that to all intents and purposes reservations were the same as amendments. To reopen the meaning of any part of the treaty, he said, was to reopen negotiations with Germany.

High lights in the President's speech follow:

"We sent our boys across the sea to defeat the purposes of Germany. We engaged that if they would defeat the purposes of Germany, we would complete what they had begun and make such arrangements of international concert as would make it impossible for any such attempt ever to be made again. The question, therefore, is, shall we see it through? Or shall we now, at this most critical juncture of the whole transaction, turn away from our associates in the war, decline to complete and fulfil our sacred promise to mankind?

"Nobody doubts any longer that

LEAGUE FAILURE MEANS BIG ARMY.

Rejection of Covenant will Force an "Armed to the Teeth" Policy.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Unless the League of Nations is formed, the peace time army of 509,000 proposed by the War Department will be only "child's play" the House Military Committee was told today by Secretary Baker.

"Without the league," he said, "every big nation must be armed to the teeth and we will have the old story of the balance of power."

"Gen. Pershing has neither approved nor disapproved the War Department bill," said Secretary Baker, adding that the commander of the American Expeditionary Forces had been asked to formulate his recommendations as soon as possible.

Loosens Hornets' Nest About Lansing.

William C. Bullitt.

PARIS, Sept. 23.—[Exclusive Cable.] Interest still holds in William C. Bullitt's revelations, and his career while in Paris has been discussed from every angle. It is now said that, while he was constantly in touch with Col. House, Bullitt was closer to Secretary Lansing than anyone else. There is an inclination to believe that Lansing made the statement reported by Bullitt, but that it wasn't so direct as the quotation and took the view that delegates of other nations have expressed.

SQUAWS GREET WILSON SPEEDING OVER DESERT.

PRESIDENT SLEEPS LATE AND MISSES CROWD OF SCHOOL CHILDREN SERENADERS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

ON BOARD PRESIDENT'S SPECIAL TRAIN, Sept. 23.—Indian squaws with papooses on their backs greeted the President's special train today as it sped through Nevada and over the Utah desert en route to Ogden, Utah.

The President slept late this morning, and missed a crowd of school children who serenaded him at Montello, Nev.

Directed by their teachers, the children sang "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," when the train stopped for an inspection. The President failed, however, to awaken.

The President devoted part of the day to executive matters and letter writing. The entire populations of the many small towns in Nevada turned out early today to welcome the President, and they were plainly disappointed when he failed to appear.

The badge of the American Legion has replaced on President Wilson's coat lapel the miniature American flag which formed so prominent a feature of the war-time pictures of the nation's Chief Executive. It was left to the legion's chapter at Glendive, Mont., to bring the commander-in-chief of the American army and navy into the organization. It voted him a veteran of the war and extended him a full membership when his special train halted at Glendive for a few minutes. He accepted and secured a legion button, which he has worn since on all occasions.

PLAYS WITH CHILDREN.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

ON BOARD PRESIDENT WILSON'S SPECIAL TRAIN (Colfax) Sept. 22.—(Delayed.) In a number of California cities the schools had been closed and the children, carrying American flags, lined the tracks and shrilled a welcome to the President. He had a lot of fun bandying jokes with them.

At Sacramento the crowds stretched all the way through the city limits, and as the Presidential special pulled slowly along the children trooped behind it in hundreds. The secret service men, fearful that some would be hurt, got a dozen boys and girls to join hands and form a chain back of the President's car. To keep step they started singing "Umph, umph, umph de dum" in cadence, but the President shouted to them that he knew a better game.

"Let me drill you," he said. "Instead of the words you're singing say 'Four, four, four feet back.'"

The children saw the point quickly and took up the new words while Mr. Wilson beat the cadence. For several blocks they kept their little companions safely back of the four-foot line.

PRAISE POLICE FORCE.

Handling of Wilson Crowd is Subject of Council Resolution.

Councilman Fleming introduced a resolution at yesterday's session of the Council, which was unanimously adopted, praising the conduct of the Police Department in handling the crowds during the recent visit of President Wilson. The resolution says:

"Whereas, the President of the United States has recently been the guest of the city of Los Angeles; and

"Whereas, not alone his prestige, but the message he came to deliver to our people, created such a public interest as to cause the assembly in our city of a record-breaking number of people; and

"Whereas, the police force of this city did handle this large assembly of people in such a manner as to afford protection and comfort to our citizens; therefore be it

"Resolved, by the City Council in session assembled, that it hereby expresses to Chief Home, its appreciation of the executive efficiency displayed by him, and through him to his men for their devotion to their duty in serving the public."

EXPRESS THANKS FOR PRESIDENT'S VISIT.

LEAGUE TO ENFORCE PEACE WRITES WILSON OF ITS FINE RESULTS.

Expressing the deep sense of gratitude felt at President Wilson's visit and telling of its splendid results the Los Angeles county branch of the League to Enforce Peace, through its chairman, William M. Bowan, yesterday wrote the President, informing him that his speeches here set thousands straight in regard to the covenant of the League of Nations. The letter, addressed to "Our dear President," says:

"We, as citizens, as well as members of the local league, feel that we must say a word to you direct to express our deep sense of gratitude for your recent gracious visit. You have helped us all—both us and our whole community. People have been set straight in regard to your great purpose in this matter of the covenant. Literally hundreds and thousands have so declared themselves.

"Everywhere in the streets and in business, in clubs and in homes—all are speaking in the highest respect of the office and the man. You have won us all. We all join in saying, 'God bless you, Mr. President.'"

HAMILTON (Ont.) Sept. 23.—A resolution placing the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress on record as favoring the soviet form of government, demanding the withdrawal of troops from Russia and refusing financial and other aid to "reactionary governments" was reported to the Committee on Resolutions today.

The resolution was introduced by George Armstrong of Winnipeg, who received an ovation when he announced that he was prevented from introducing it sooner because he was "in jail until ten days ago." Armstrong was released on bail after his arrest on a charge of sedition growing out of the recent strike in Winnipeg.

DISLOYALISTS FIGHT TREATY.

Wilson Sums up Opposition to League of Nations.

Convinced that Eighty Per Cent. of West Favors.

Declares Some Leaders are Alienated from People.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OGDEN, Sept. 23.—Homeward bound after nearly three weeks of speechmaking, President Wilson told a crowd here today that he had found 80 per cent of the people in favor of the League of Nations. The chief opposition, he added, came from a "very disquieting element" which included the influence which tended toward disloyalty during the war.

The declaration was made from the rear platform of the President's private car where a crowd gathered and clamored for a speech after the Presidential party had returned from a brief automobile ride through the city. Only a short stop was made here before Mr. Wilson went on to Salt Lake City for a night meeting at the Mormon Tabernacle.

NEAR NATION'S HEART.

He said, in part:

"I cannot make a real speech in the circumstances, for you will understand that the theme that I have most at heart needs a lot of room to turn in, and I would despair of making any adequate remarks about so great a matter as the treaty of peace or the League of Nations, but I do find this, my fellow-countrymen, that the thing is very near the heart of the people. There are some men in public life who do not seem to be in touch with the heart of the people, but those who are know how that heart throbs deep and strong for this great enterprise of humanity, for it is nothing else than that.

"We must set our purposes in a very definite way to assist the judgment of public men. I do not mean in any way to coerce the judgment of public men, but to enlighten and assist that judgment, for I am convinced, after crossing the continent, that there is no sort of doubt that 80 per cent. of the people of the United States are for the League of Nations, and that the chief opposition comes from the very disquieting element that we had to deal with before and during the war.

DISLOYAL OPPOSE.

"All the elements that tended towards disloyalty are against the league and for a very good reason: If this league is not adopted, we will serve Germany's purpose, because we will be dissociated from the nations, and I am afraid permanently dissociated, from the nations with whom we co-operated in defeating Germany."

The President entered Utah during the morning from Reno, Nev., where he spoke last night. He was cheered at a number of places where his train made brief stops and was welcomed vociferously when he left his private car here in the afternoon for a brief automobile ride.

Mr. Wilson issued a short statement greeting the people of Utah and expressing confidence in the outcome of the treaty debate. Crowds lined the streets and cheered him as he rode through the business section of the city. Along the way were many school children who waved American flags and shouted their welcome.

The statement was as follows:

"It is with the greatest pleasure that I find myself in the great State of Utah. I feel that, in common with all farward-looking Americans, the people of Utah accept with enthusiasm the guarantees of peace we are now seeking to confirm.

"May I not take the liberty of expressing the greatest interest in the good fortune of Ogden and northern Utah and my hope that prosperity of the most substantial kind continue to crown the efforts of citizens?

ENJOYS SALT BREEZE.

Approaching Ogden the Presidential special took the route past Great Salt Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson spent some time on the platform of their car inhaling the salt breeze. During the day, however, he was at work on executive matters forwarded to him from the White House for signature.

One of the telegrams received by the President was to Wm. [illegible], president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, expressing appreciation of the organization's endorsement of the treaty at the convention in New Orleans.

"May I not express through you my very deep and hearty appreciation," Mr. Wilson telegraphed, "of the resolution unanimously adopted by the Associated Advertising Clubs in favor of the unqualified acceptance of the treaty and the covenant of the League of Nations? I add [illegible] of the public opinion and wide, statesmanlike view of the advertising clubs."

STRIKE INQUIRY BY THE SENATE

Resolution to Investigate Steel Situation.

Skirmish in Industrial Warfare," Says Kenyon.

Declares Closed Shop to be Un-American.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Investigation of the steel strike by the Labor Committee was ordered by the Senate. A resolution by Senator Kenyon, Republican, providing for the inquiry and calling a report as to whether any remedial Federal action could be taken, was adopted without [illegible].

Senator Kenyon said it was proposed to call leaders representing employers and employees of the nation in an effort to determine the cause of the strike.

When the Kenyon resolution was introduced Senator Thomas, Democrat, of Colorado, introduced one on strikes and declaring that the country views with concern" the present situation. Senator Thomas announced that he planned to make [illegible] tomorrow on the resolution which declares that a man has a constitutional right to follow any calling and that the so-called "closed shop" is "un-American and detrimental to American freedom."

CALLS IT FIRST SKIRMISH.

Senator Kenyon resolution was discussed briefly. Several Senators expressed concern over the general industrial situation.

"The strike seems to be the first battle in industrial warfare," said Senator Kenyon. "Let us face it and find out the facts."

Senator Kenyon explained that his resolution was in the interest of both the employers nor employees. "No great third party—the public.

TO EXPEDITE HEARING.

Consideration of the committee's inquiry is planned by Senator Kenyon, who said he proposes to hear both sides quickly and as fully as possible. Witnesses of the strike and those who are closely before the Americans. Visits by the committee to [illegible] and centers, he said, are not contemplated.

"I hope to complete the hearings and submit a report late next week," said the chairman, who added that during the Senate discussion of the resolution that legislation to bring about conciliation might result.

SENATORS INDORSE IT.

Kenyon resolution was indorsed by Senators Knox, Republican, Pennsylvania; Owen, Democrat, Oklahoma, and Norris, Republican, Nebraska. Senator Thomas said he did not oppose the investigation, but doubted whether it would produce results. Senator Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, said he was afraid that Congress should be [illegible] men to fix industrial [illegible] following it tended toward Socialism.

Senator Knox said that if reports that workers on strike were [illegible] foreign born were true, there should be an investigation by Congress to determine the basis of the President's policy in the future.

THOMAS CRITICISES GARY.

Senator Thomas said the refusal of Judge Gary to receive representatives of the workers was "unjustifiable and unwise" and that the strike was one of the developments that menaced American institutions to a dangerous [illegible]. He added that Senate investigation would require too much time to be of service.

Senator Kenyon said industry was in a "rather ticklish" situation and that every steadying influence. If there are true, he added, "Congress should not sit idly by and do nothing. The day is gone by when either capital or labor has the right to dictate such conditions on the country."

TO HEAR LEADERS.

Senator Kenyon announced later that the investigation would be begun Thursday and that the first witness would be E. H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, and John J. Fitzpatrick, chairman of the national committee of organization of the steel workers.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—John Fitzpatrick, organizer of the steel workers, when informed that the United States Senate had decided to investigate the strike and had summoned him as a witness along with E. H. Gary, president of the United States Steel Corporation, said:

"That is exactly what we want. I'll be in Washington next Thursday if I have to take an airship. I'm sure we are right and I'll have the facts to prove it."

SEEK COURT ORDER TO STOP PICKETING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 23. — The first court action of the steel strike came late today when the Pollak Steel Company, manufacturing steel axles in Chicago, asked for an injunction against picketing of its plant, directing the action against John Fitzpatrick and William Z. Foster of the National Strike Committee, the South Chicago Union Council and four pickets. The application will be heard tomorrow. The company set forth that its employees were willing to work, but that several had complained that they had been threatened with bodily harm because of their refusal to strike.

tion, our American workmen are with us, and are either actually at work or are ready to go to work at the first opportunity."

UNION CLAIMS DISPUTED.

William Z. Foster, secretary of the National Committee for Organizing Iron and Steel Workers, in charge of national headquarters here, said reports received by him during the day from organizers and others in charge of steel districts show that 327,100 men are participating in the strike. According to his figures 5000 additional men are out in the city of Pittsburgh; 5000 more at Braddock and 2000 additional in Ranklin, near here. He claims 20,000 additional men are out in the Chicago district and 5000 more in the Youngstown district, and 3000 more in the Wheeling field.

While not giving any figures, corporation representatives tonight disputed the figures, asserting if they were true, many of the districts included in Foster's list would be completely shut down, which is not the case.

GIVES OUT FIGURES.

Figures given out by Mr. Foster today are as follows:

Pittsburgh, 20,000; Homestead, 9000; Braddock, 10,000; Rankin, 5000; Clairton, 4000; Duquesne-McKeesport, 12,000; Vandergrift, 4000; Brackenridge, 5000; New Kensington, 1100; Apollo 1500; Leechburgh, 3000; Donora-Monessen, 12,000; Johnstown, 18,000; Coatesville, 4000; Youngstown (including Hubbard, Lorain, Struthers, New Philadelphia, Sharon, Farrell, Butler, Newcastle,) 55,000; Wheeling, 18,000; Cleveland, 25,000; Steubenville, 8500; Chicago (including Gary, South Chicago, Indiana Harbor, East Chicago, Hammond, Evanston, Waukegon, Milwaukee, Sterling, DeKalb, Joliet,) 80,000; Buffalo, 12,000; Pueblo, 6000; Birmingham, 4000.

The United States Steel Corporation, according to reports, has not met with as much success in operating some of its subsidiaries in other parts of Pennsylvania as it has the plants of the Carnegie company in this immediate vicinity. In several localities its smaller works were closed down when it was found insufficient men had reported to keep the plants in successful operation. Representatives of the Carnegie interests here declared that this was due to lack of adequate police protection for men willing to work.

STATE OFFICERS CONTROL.

In the immediate Pittsburgh district the second day of the walkout passed quietly. Numerous arrests in many localities were made, but there were no serious outbreaks reported during the day.

Following last night's riot at Farrell, Pa., where one man was killed, there was another disturbance today, during which two men were shot. At Newcastle, Pa., where seven were wounded last night, the situation was in complete control of the authorities. Many arrests were made there for minor infractions of the law.

Two more troops of the State police were brought to the western part of the State today, and distributed at points where local authorities claimed conditions are unsafe. Secretary Foster of the steel workers' committee charges that much of the disorder is the result of the presence of the State troopers. Today he denounced their alleged action in riding into crowds and injuring innocent persons. He asserted that in Homestead certain sections of the borough were today kept in a tumult as a result of the way the State police rode into groups of idle men and dispersed them.

The National Committee for Organizing Iron and Steel Workers will meet here tomorrow for discussing strike progress and making arrangements for prolonging the struggle.

ASK TROOP WITHDRAWAL.

Foster said tonight that the committee had not been called to discuss any "peace plans" but would devote its time to problems that have arisen as a result of the strike.

"The first matter to be taken up will be that of the unprovoked assault of the troopers upon innocent strikers," said Mr. Foster. "They cannot get away with such actions much longer. We are going to demand that the troopers be taken out of the district or their activities curbed."

Foster said steel workers were being arrested at Duquesne for being out on strike and fined when they refused to return to work.

The matter of financing the strike will also be taken up at the meeting, he said.

"We are going to prepare to fight to the bitter end," he added. 'If it is to be a long struggle we will be ready. It is a fight for industrial democracy and the workers are determined to stick."

M. AND M. APPROVES JUDGE GARY'S ACTION.

LOS ANGELES BUSINESS ASSOCIATION CONGRATULATES HIM ON STRIKE STAND.

The stand taken by the United States Steel Corporation, in protesting against union agitators' attempt to control the steel industry of the nation was complimented yesterday by the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association of this city when F. J. Zeehandelaar, secretary of the association sent a telegram of congratulation to Judge E. H. Gary, president of the corporation.

A similar telegram congratulating Gov. Coolidge, of Massachusetts, on his patriotic stand in the recent strike of police officers was also dispatched.

The Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association believes there is great need of patriotic citizens, at this time, to take decided stand to prevent union agitators from controlling the industries of the nation, according to Mr. Zeehandelaar, and the telegrams were sent for the purpose of assuring the eastern cities that the business men of the West admired the action they were taking, and approved them.

Following are the telegrams:

Judge E. H. Gary,
President United States Steel Corporation.

"The Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association of Los Angeles, comprising commercial, industrial and financial interests of this city, congratulate you upon your wise, patriotic and courageous refusal to yield to unfair and un-American demands of labor agitators for closed shop. At the present critical time of reconstruction it behooves every loyal American citizen to uphold the principles of open shop giving every honest worker equal right to earn a livelihood independent of the dictates of union leaders. The independent workman must be protected in his unalienable right to work without the dictates of union labor agitators. Commercial interests of this country look to you with confidence to uphold these principles.

"F. J. ZEEHANDELAAR,
"Secretary."

Calvin Coolidge,
Governor of Massachusetts.

"Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, comprising commercial industrial and financial interests of Los Angeles, congratulate you on your firm, patriotic stand in the late strike of policemen and upholding the principle that no official has the right to place obligations of unionism above those of country.

"F. J. ZEEHANDELAAR,
"Secretary."

STRIKE LEADER GIVEN SCORING.

Foster is Called "Extremist" by Representative Cooper.

Says He Appeals to Foreigners with no Americanism.

Quotes Writings and Calls Him European I.W.W. Agent.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—While the Senate was ordering its inquiry into the steel strike, Representative Cooper, Republican, of Youngstown, O., a steel center, sharply criticised William Z. Foster, secretary of the labor organization committee, as an I.W.W. extremist, and charged that "both the American Federation of Labor and other similar organizations were not being dominated by law-abiding citizens, but by these radical so-called labor leaders, who would overthrow our government."

Representative Cooper referred to William Foster as "an extremist, appealing to men of foreign birth who have no conception of American ideals and institutions."

I.W.W. AGENT IN EUROPE.

Cooper said Foster had previously been active in Europe as an American agent for the I.W.W., and added that Foster's writings in a pamphlet entitled "Syndicalism" "show his unfitness as a labor leader and disqualify him from the name of an American citizen or protection of the American flag."

"I also have here a copy of the Labor World," he continued, "a paper which is published in Pittsburgh, and which is devoted to the interests of the working classes. In it are reproduced photographic proof of Foster's I.W.W.ism.

"Foster was one of the writers of the paper Solidarity, the eastern organ of the I.W.W., published in Newcastle, Pa.," said Cooper. "Can it be possible in this critical time in our nation's history such men as W. Z. Foster are spokesmen of the working classes of the country? I appeal to the workingmen to wake up and not be led astray by such agitators as this man.

WARNS AFAINST RADICALS.

"And I am wondering why the American Federation of Labor, most of whose members are honest, law-abiding citizens, permit such a man as Foster to take such a prominent part in organizing the steel workers when the federation itself has officially condemned him for the revolutionary agitator that he is.

"I warn the American laboring man not to be led astray by these radical, so-called labor leaders who would overthrow our form of government and destroy the sacred institutions which in the past have been near and dear to the hearts of the American people.

"Many of these agitators are stirring up class hatred which will widen the gap between employees and employers, instead of bringing them closer."

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 23.—"I have nothing to say and will make no reply to Mr. Cooper's statements," William Z. Foster, secretary of the national organizing committee for iron and steel workers, said this afternoon when shown Associated Press dispatches from Washington reporting the speech of Representative Cooper of Ohio, in the House, in which the Congressman asserted Mr. Foster was an "extremist" and "revolutionary agitator."

STEEL STRIKE CLOSES COLORADO COAL MINES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

TRINIDAD (Colo.) Sept. 23.—Local offices of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company report mines at Starkville, Engleville, Sopris, Tobasco and Tollerburg closed today by order of the company headquarters. The company employs 2300 men in this district. About half of this number will be thrown out of employment. The company announced it was necessary to close these mines because their output was not needed at Pueblo, where the steel workers are on strike.

PUEBLO (Colo.) Sept. 23.—With the steel plant of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company closed as a result of yesterday's strike of workers, there was no excitement here today, and only a small number of strikers were in the vicinity of the plant. The company made no effort to resume operations.

The second day of the strike passed quietly. Hundreds of workers and their families attended the State Fair and enjoyed other forms of recreation. From union headquarters and officials of the plant came statements that there was no change in the situation.

CHICAGO MILLS OPERATING.

Union Leaders Claim Additional Strikers, Which is Denied by Companies.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Closing of additional steel plants in South Chicago and Indiana Harbor and absence of appreciably increased activity in mills which were attempting to operate with reduced forces in Gary marked the second day of the steel strike in the Chicago district.

The union leaders claimed gains of approximately 10,000 in the number of strikers. Officials of the United States Steel Corporation plants maintained the reticence which they have exhibited since the first strike murmurs were heard and the operators of independent plants settled down to a policy of watchful waiting.

Today only the Gary mills of the United States Steel Corporation, some smaller establishments in East Chicago, and five independent plants in Hammond tried to operate. At South Chicago a few men patrolled the silent mills as fire guards and at Indiana Harbor the banked fires smoldered and thin wisps of smoke curled lazily from the tall stacks.

J. W. Lees, general superintendent of the Inland Steel Company at Indiana Harbor, explained that he ordered a shutdown rather than take the responsibility for any industrial warfare.

The union leaders of the district met in Chicago today and after their reports had been tabulated the claim of 75,000 strikers as against yesterday's figures of 67,500 was given out. J. H. de Young, who presided, said that the national strike committee of which John Fitzpatrick is chairman, would espouse the cause of the engineers who quit their posts at Gary despite orders to the contrary from the International Union of Steam and Operating Engineers. The Gary men face possible forfeiture of their union charter.

Although officials of the steel companies decline to state how many men still are at work they declare that the figure given out by union leaders are greatly exaggerated.

An official of the Indiana Steel Company at Gary, Ind., stated that not more than 15 per cent of the men in that city had left their posts.

Another report said to come from a minor official of the United States Steel Corporation placed the total number of men out in the Chicago district at 50,000.

John Fitzpatrick, organizer of the steel workers, announced that he would leave for Pittsburgh tonight to confer with a committee of the strike leaders.

STRIKE LOOMS IN SHIPYARDS.

Fleet Corporation Puts Ban on October Wage Rise.

Walkout Planned Here may Now Become Coast-wide.

Non-Union Stevedores Load Ship from Open Shop.

A strike threatened in all shipyards in Southern California that have government contracts may become a Coast-wide movement. Yesterday word was received in Los Angeles that the Emergency Fleet Corporation had ordered all shipyards on the Pacific Coast not to put into effect on government contracts a new wage scale demanded by the representatives of the Pacific Coast Metal Trades Council, following the recent conference at San Francisco that was attended by representatives of metal trades workers and the shipbuilders.

As the result of this conference it was announced that all shipyards on the Coast excepting the three in the Los Angeles district would pay the new scale, which provided for an increase of 8 cents per hour over that of the Macy Board award, under an agreement which expires October 1. It developed after the conference, however, that several of the northern yards declined to pay the new scale unless all the other yards accepted it, although they had been a party to the agreement.

STRIKE PLANS.

The Southern California yards, operating under open-shop conditions, declined to enter into conference with the union officials and plans were being made to call a strike in the Southwestern yard and the Craig yard at Long Beach, when the news came that the Emergency Fleet Corporation had disapproved and would oppose any plan that would disrupt the uniform wage scale that has prevailed on the Pacific Coast since the first government contracts were awarded.

No reason for the action of the government was given here yesterday, but it is understood the step was taken in accordance with the stand of President Wilson on the demands of the railroad workers for increased wages. Whether or not the organized shipyard workers will postpone action until after the government demonstrates what it can do to lower the cost of living, as did the railroad employees, remains to be seen, but it is believed the radical element in the metal trades will demand that the strike be called.

The Los Angeles County Metal Trades had already made plans to call a strike in case the new wage scale was not instituted October 1. A report of a special committee recommending this action was adopted at the last meeting of the council and a new strike committee met yesterday afternoon to plan for the strike.

PLANT IS IMMUNE.

The plant of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company will be little affected by the proposed strike. A strike against this plant was called several months ago and the management has recruited a new organization of about 2000 men who are not responsible to the officers of the unions.

An echo of this strike came yesterday when longshoremen at the harbor refused to load the new steamer West Calumb, which was delivered to the government by the Los Angeles company after the strike was called. The steamer is now being loaded here for Europe with non-union labor. An effort at San Francisco to declare a general sympathetic strike against this ship by all the maritime unions failed. The sailors, in accordance with their long-established opposition to sympathetic strikes, refused to enter into the arrangement on the ground that the ship had been delivered to the government and the union was in honor bound to furnish a crew.

BIG BREAD BILL CUTS PRICE OF OTHER FOODS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Americans are eating more bread and less of the higher priced foods, the consumption of flour the last seventy days showing an increase of 3,000,000 barrels, or fifteen per cent, over the same period last year, according to a statement issued here today by Julius H. Barnes, United States wheat director.

A fall in prices of other foodstuffs was reported by Mr. Barnes, who called attention to the fact that lard, which sold in Chicago at thirty-five cents a pound wholesale two months ago, now is bringing only twenty-two cents. Other edible oils, he said, have shown "sharp declines in sympathy." Condensed and evaporated milk, he reported, have not shown the usual fall tendency to advance.

STEVEDORES' UNION TO STAY ON STRIKE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23. — Striking members of the Riggers' and Stevedores' Union, who have been out for a week, voted today to reject the terms offered by the water-front employers' union and remain on strike.

The employers had offered to grant the demands of the longshoremen for higher wages, but refused to increase the number of men employed in the hatches or to lessen the weight of the sling loads.

Unloading of ships on the water front has been at a standstill for several days as a result of the strike.

STATE TROOPS TO QUELL RIOT.

Oklahoma Mobs Hold Mayor, Police Chief, Councilman.

Telephone Strike Brings on a Night of Rioting.

Mob Leader, Recently from Germany, Under Arrest.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) Sept. 23.—Four companies of infantry and a machine-gun company, State troops, began entraining at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon for Drumright, Okla. A regiment at Tulsa will be held in readiness to go to Drumright if necessary, according to Adjt.-Gen. Barrett. The Guardsmen will be used in patrolling Drumright.

TULSA (Okla.) Sept. 23.—Orders were received here today by Maj. James A. Bell, commander of the Third Oklahoma Regiment of State troops, to have his command ready to entrain for Drumright. Orders to entrain have not yet been received.

MOB HOLDS OFFICIALS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

DRUMRIGHT (Okla.) Sept. 23.—Mayor Nicodemas, Councilman Baxter and Chief of Police Ayres, detained by a mob last night, today were released and were back on their jobs.

After a night of rioting, resulting from a strike of telephone operators, Drumright awoke this morning to find thirty or forty deputy sheriffs and government officers from near-by towns patrolling the business section of the city.

The hour of ten, set last night as the deadline for the city officers who had been detained to present their resignations under penalty of being lynched, has long since passed and with its passing all immediate danger is considered past.

Assistant Chief of Police Carlos, an Indian, was shot at while holding the mob at bay last night. Councilman Baxter snatched the gun from the unidentified man and took one shot at the assailant before he disappeared around the corner of a building.

Four alleged leaders of the mob have been arrested and are now in the City Jail.

SAPULPA (Okla.) Sept. 23.—Constable Crabtree of Shamrock arrived here this afternoon with the alleged leaders of the rioting at Drumright. One of the five, Carl Webber, claimed he had recently come from Germany to this country. The others are George Moore, F. C. Barnum, J. M. Fitzgerald and W. A. Bybee.

WIRES ARE CUT.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) Sept. 23.—All efforts to reach Drumright, Okla., where rioting was reported last night in telephone messages to this city, failed early today through lack of telephone or telegraph facilities. Telephone and telegraph companies assert their wires have been taken over or cut by the mob.

Telephone messages from Oilton, Okla. state that the Oilton Chief of Police has started for Drumright with several deputies, following a request from persons there who reported that the mob was shooting recklessly in the streets.

One unconfirmed report via Oilton stated that the mob was attempting to burn the Bell telephone building at Drumright. The riot, started, according to reports, by telephone strike sympathizers, has gotten beyond control. Deputy sheriffs and armed citizens have started for Drumright from Shamrock, Okla.

COUNCIL DISCUSSES STATUS OF GALICIA.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Sept. 23.—The status of the former Austro-Hungarian crownland of Galicia was before the supreme council for discussion this morning. Premier Paderewski of Poland was heard by the council, presenting the Polish view as to the disposition of the territory.

The claims of the Poles and Ukrainians as to Galicia are widely at variance.

TELLS OF METHOD OF RESTORING SHANTUNG.

JAPANESE PEACE DELEGATE SAYS IT WILL AID BOTH FAR EASTERN LANDS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—Japan took the Shantung Peninsula not from the Chinese but from the Germans, and intends to restore it to China in a manner calculated to mutually aid both of the far eastern countries, Yosuka Matsuoka, secretary in the Department of Foreign Affairs in Tokio, and an attache of the Japanese peace commission, said here last night on his arrival from Paris.

"Some persons seem to have doubts as to whether Japan will carry out her promise or not," Mr. Matsuoka said. "In this regard I should like to say that Japan has not been and is not in a position to act in the matter until the ratification of the treaty of Versailles takes place, whereby Japan may acquire definitely the rights that Germany possessed. Of course, Japan cannot dispose of Kiau-Chow and other German concessions until she actually and legally acquires title thereto."

ANGELENO NAMED.

H. O. Davis Succeeds Bok as Editor of Big Magazine.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23.—The resignation of Edward Bok as editor of the Ladies' Home Journal, effective January 1 next, was announced today. H. O. Davis of Los Angeles, who has been managing editor of the magazine for the last six months, will succeed him.

Mr. Bok has been editor of the publication for thirty years. He will retain his interest in the Curtis Publishing Company and continue as a member of the board of directors.

E. O. Davis is well known in Southern California through his association with the San Diego exposition in 1915 as director, and later as general manager of the Universal Film Company and the Triangle Film Company. Mr. Davis came here at the close of the southern exposition and entered the Universal's service. From there he went to the Triangle at Culver City.

In June, 1918, he left the Triangle for other work, and for the last six months has been managing editor of the Ladies' Home Journal.

RAILROADS OF COAST INVENTORY SUPPLIES.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—The Southern Pacific, the Western Pacific and the Santa Fe railroads systems, under orders from Director-General of Railroads Hines, have commenced to make an inventory of all supplies as of December 31, 1919.

This means, it is said, that the railroads will be ready to be turned back to private ownership just as soon as Congress decides on a plan as to how they shall go back. No one here is in a position to predict when the actual turning back will be made, although officials are of the opinion that it will be done within the next six or seven months.

In addition to this taking of stock, it is an open secret that William Sproule will again become president of the Southern Pacific Company on the Coast. Paul Shoup will, it is said, become assistant to Sproule as vice-president of the company, and also will retain the presidency of the Associated Oil Company and the Pacific Electric Railway.

The Western Pacific Railroad lines, when they are turned back to the owning corporation will have as their president Charles M. Levey.

Relative to the Santa Fe lines, it is predicted that President Ripley will retire next year on account of age, and be succeeded by W. B. Storey of Chicago, a former San Francisco man and a graduate of the University of California. Storey was first vice-president of the Santa Fe before the government took over the railroad lines. He is now Federal manager of the system.

REPORT RECEIVED OF MOWRY KOREAN TRIAL

SAYS HE COMMITTED SERIOUS OVERSIGHT IN NOT ASKING CONTINUANCE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—A State Department report of the trials last April of the Rev. Eli M. Mowry, a Presbyterian missionary, for harboring Koreans engaged in anti-Japanese propaganda, and of the Rev. Eugene Bell for careless driving of an automobile which resulted in a fatal accident, was transmitted to the Senate today by the White House.

The Rev. Mr. Mowry, the report said, had a trial of "reasonable fairness," and it was stated, committed a "serious oversight" in failing to seek a continuance of his trial. Sentence of four months imprisonment was suspended.

Regarding the Rev. Mr. Bell, the report said, a fine of fifty yen was imposed under a Japanese law penalizing drivers of vehicles in which a death occurs in an accident. No appeal was taken.

SETH BULLOCK DEAD.

BAPTIZE JEWS, AVOID POGROMS.

Expect Outbreaks in Hungary When Rumanians Leave.

Travelers Annoyed by Demands for Passports.

Law in Vienna Under Workmen One of Might.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BUDAPEST, Sept. 19.—(via Paris, Sept. 23.)—In the last few days large numbers of Jews here have been baptized into the Roman Catholic or Protestant churches in hopes of protection against pogroms, which are believed certain when the Rumanians depart.

In the upper right hand corner of their baptism certificates are placed the initials, "B.O.P." which represent Hungarian words for "Not good for pogroms."

The Jews in Hungary are trying to organize armed units for defense.

HUNGARY IS STRIPPED.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VIENNA, Sept. 23.—Travelers who are making an auto trip from Budapest to Vienna these days provide themselves with about six extra sheets for their passports. For in this short drive of 160 miles more vises are necessary than in an ordinary journey around the world.

In every village Rumanian passports controls are established, where it is necessary to halt and have your papers stamped and assure the officer in charge you are persona grata to the Rumanian command in Budapest before you are permitted to proceed. These stations are about ten miles apart on the average.

Hungary tells its own story of Rumanian ravages.

Ordinarily can be seen hundreds of herds of cattle, thousands of pigs and many horses. One herd, numbering perhaps thirty, was seen yesterday in the entire distance from Budapest to the frontier and only two hogs. All agricultural machinery in any state of repair had been removed; all horses, except one lean nag to haul a cart, had been driven away. Much of the crops has been taken. Practically all that remains to the peasants is the land they cultivate. Even seeds wherewith to plant the winter wheat crops had been stolen. I am told the same condition prevails throughout the nation.

"THE LAW" IN AUSTRIA.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VIENNA, Sept. 23.—Government by a single class continues to manifest itself in the acts of the workmen's council. The workmen's council has no technical authority. It enforces its will as the Bolsheviks of Budapest and Russia.

The latest example of its operations is in the case of a man who rented two rooms and paid three months rent in advance. Representatives of the workmen's council told the proprietor it wished the rooms. The proprietor said the rooms already were rented. The workmen's council said that made no difference, got a policeman and a locksmith and broke in and installed its own tenant.

The proprietor took the matter to court, where it still remains because of postponements. The man who originally rented the rooms has his wife in a box car in the railroad yards.

The Volkswehr, the only army in Austria, is part and parcel of the Workmen's and Soldiers' Council. It is a law unto itself.

Recently the horses of the imperial stables were sold. Buyers came to claim them. The soldiers in charge refused to deliver the horses unless the buyers gave 500 crowns for a tip or graft for each horse. The buyers refused and reported the matter to superior officers. A lieutenant-colonel told the soldiers to deliver the horses to the buyers without demanding a tip, but the soldiers paid no attention to the orders and sold the purchasers they could pay graft or not get the horses. The buyers had to go away without the animals.

TUNNEL WRECK STILL BLOCKS SHASTA ROUTE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

REDDING, Sept. 21. — The wrecked tunnel three miles above Kennett blockades the Shasta Route as completely as ever. The ground slipped a good deal yesterday and little progress was made in retimbering. Two hundred men are employed and not a moment's time is lost.

Passengers are required to walk around the tunnel and carry their hand baggage a distance of a quarter of a mile. Heavy baggage and mail are transferred on automobile trucks. No freight trains are running, and tunnel will not be cleared until Thursday morning.

NEGROES INDORSE LYNCHING.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

ATHENS (Ga.) Sept. 23.—Negroes at a mass meeting near Lexington, Ga., have indorsed the action of whites in lynching Obe Cox, negro accused of attacking and murdering the wife of a white farmer. At the time of the crime the negro was under indictment for an attack upon a negress. He is said to have confessed to both crimes.

SAN SALVADOR (Republic of San Salvador) Monday, Sept. 22.—Official dispatch from Honduras announces that an agreement has been reached between the victorious revolutionists and the Council of State, of whom Dr. Francisco Bertrand is president, whereby the latter turned over the Presidency to Dr. Salvador Mendieta, who left the country soon after his election. SAYS PROFIT SHARING STOPS LABOR TROUBLE

CHAMP CLARK GIVES IDEAS OF SOLUTION OF DIFFERENCES WITH CAPITAL.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 23.—The solution of the differences between labor and capital lies in the scheme for profit-sharing, Representative Champ Clark of Missouri declared today in an address at the annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World.

"The plan for profit-sharing," he said, "will require much thought to bring it to perfection, but it certainly is not beyond our ability for doing things.

"The high-class of American labor is a matter for national congratulation and should be universally cherished. On the other hand, nobody should have any prejudice against a man because he has acquired capital provided he secured it honestly. What people really and reasonably object to is being skinned within an inch of their lives.

"So far as we are concerned, one of the principal questions with which we should wrestle is how to increase our foreign trade. Upon the increase of our foreign trade rests in large measure the future prosperity of this mighty republic."

Western Department on the recommendation of the comanding officer. All motors and planes must be standard in every detail and there will be certain handicaps and rules which will be announced later.

The main idea of this transcontinental derby is to determine the relative and general fitness of the average plane for any class of travel, also to demonstrate the fact that aerial mail between New York and San Francisco is entirely practicable in every sense and to show the public that strides have been made in development of aircraft in the last few years.

MARKS PROGRESS.

It is rather astonishing and breath-taking to read of a flight of this kind, when only a few short years ago it was considered a marvelous achievement for man to be able to fly at all. From the development of aircraft and the growing confidence of the public in the safety of this mode of travel it is only a question of a few years when it will be the accepted method of transportation, such as the automobile has become, in fact, a necessity of daily existence.

MINERS MAKE JOBS FOR ALL.

Adopt a Six-Hour Day and a Five-Day Week.

Also Demand Sixty Per Cent. Wage Increase.

If New Scale Refused, Strike on November 1.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CLEVELAND (O.) Sept. 23.—Demands for a 60 per cent. increase in all mine wages, a limit of six hours a day underground, a five-day week, with time and a half for overtime and double time for work on Sundays and holidays and important improvements in conditions of labor, were adopted this afternoon by the convention of the United Mine Workers of America.

The convention then adjourned to await the result of the joint wage scale conference with the operators of the central competitive district, which opens in Buffalo Thursday. Should a satisfactory new agreement be reached by the representatives of the miners and operators at this conference the convention will be reconvened at Indianapolis to accept or reject it. Should no agreement be reached in time to be ratified and come into effect by November 1, a general strike of all bituminous coal miners in the United States will automatically ensue on that date, which may extend to the Canadian coal fields if the international executive board and the representatives of the Canadian districts so determine.

PROVIDE WORK FOR ALL.

While a decided increase in wages is demanded to meet the heavy increase in the cost of living the miners' delegates were no less interested in providing regular employment for all members of the union throughout the year, voting not only to restrict the number of working hours to thirty per week, but also to prohibit the employment of double shifts in producing coal with this aim in view.

The report demands that all double shift work on the coal be abolished, except such as may be necessary for ventilating purposes and development of new mines. It demands that no automatic penalty clause can be included in the agreement such as is contained in the present Washington wage agreement, providing an automatic penalty of a dollar a day for each miner going on strike against the provisions of the agreement and a similar fine for any operator locking out his miners. All internal differences not covered by joint interstate agreement are to be referred back to the respective districts for adjustment.

CONCURRENT CONTRACTS.

All contracts in the bituminous field shall be declared as having automatically expired November 1, 1919; no sectional settlements shall be allowed and new contracts must run concurrently for a period of two years in all bituminous districts. Agreements negotiated for outlying districts shall be retroactive and become effective on the date upon which the agreement for the central competitive field, upon which they are based, becomes effective.

The report proposes to accept the demands formulated by the anthracite miners in their tri-State convention at Wilkesbarre, Pa., in August as the demands of the convention and pledges the support of the entire organization to secure the fulfillment of these demands.

It was adopted unchanged after a comparatively short time. Practically all objections and criticisms were obviated by the fact that the delegates will have opportunity to pass upon any agreement before it comes into effect.

EXPECTS AN AGREEMENT.

Although the demands are sweeping, acting President Lewis stated today that he confidently expected that an agreement would be reached with the operators at Buffalo by negotiation.

"That is," he continued, "unless the operators see fit to disturb the entire domestic equilibrium of the country by refusing to negotiate on the basis of our programme. The miners have demonstrated their good faith and loyalty to the country in discharging all their responsibilities under the Washington wage agreement, have endured the high cost of living uncomplainingly and now feel that the public will recognize the necessity of granting proper consideration and equal justice to men engaged in the most basic industry on which the country is so dependent."

The miners' delegation at the Buffalo conference will be composed of the international officials and eight representatives from each of the four districts included in the central competitive field—Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Western Pennsylvania. The district delegations will be headed by the presidents of these four district organizations, Frank Farrington, Ed Stewart, John Moore and Philip Murray, respectively.

"The $50,000 roll call," the result of which was announced only this afternoon, confirmed the result of the standing vote taken yesterday morning on the method of selecting salaried organizers and auditors. The problem of devising some satisfactory method of electing the organizers or a part of them, is referred to a committee to report to the next biennial convention.

With the roll call and the scale demands out of the way, the convention rushed the remaining business to completion. It instructed the international officers to adopt plans for a suitable memorial to the late John Mitchell, to appropriate funds from the international treasury for this purpose and to solicit contributions from the districts and from individual members of the organization. An appropriation of $1000 toward the defense fund for Thomas J. Mooney and Warren K. Billings was authorized and the delegates after unanimously selecting Indianapolis as the place of the next biennial convention in 1921, adjourned.

ASKS PROTECTION FOR CALIFORNIA BEAN CROP

ASSOCIATION DECLARES CHEAP PRODUCT FROM JAPAN A MENACE TO INDUSTRY.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—Tariff protection for California bean growers was discussed at a meeting here of the executive and the tariff committees of the California Bean Growers' Association. Plans for this form of relief have been discussed for some time and the meeting was to start definite action to bring the matter before Congress.

This movement was initiated by the California Bean Growers' Association, which has been joined in the fight by the growers of the five other bean producing States, New York, Michigan, Colorado, Idaho and New Mexico.

George A. Turner, president of the California association, has recently returned from the East, where he has been trying to market the remaining stock of California's 1918 crop of beans, and to prepare for the marketing of the 1919 crop now coming on for harvest. Turner said:

RUIN CONFRONTS GROWERS.

"Utter ruin confronts the California bean industry if it is forced to compete longer with the cheap labor exports of Japan. There is but one remedy for this situation. That is the tariff, and every man whose prosperity is in any way dependent on this big industry will have to put his shoulder to the wheel and shove. That includes everyone.

"This tariff will not be an added tax on the consumers. It will be an insurance against higher prices. All we ask is the difference in the cost of production in this country and in the cheap labor fields of Korea and Manchuria. That difference now goes into the pockets of the Japanese bean speculator. Not one penny of it is saved to the American consumer.

SPECULATORS PROFIT.

"California can produce the small white bean at about 7 cents a pound. The Kotenashie bean from the Orient, which corresponds with our small white, can be produced, hand cleaned and laid down here at about 3 cents a pound.

"If the American consumer could buy oriental beans on the basis of the 3-cent cost there might be some objection to burdening the consumer with a tariff, but the American consumer is compelled to pay for oriental beans on the basis of the cost of their only competitor, California beans raised at a cost of 7 cents a pound. The 4-cent profit goes to the Japanese speculator.

IMPORTS ARE LARGE.

"Within the past nine months 200,000,000 pounds of Japanese beans have come into the United States. Within forty-eight hours last week 5,000,000 pounds reached San Francisco. The result is that already the bean growing acreage of this State is being cut down. This is the State's third largest crop and the 1919 production will be not more than half of the preceding year. When California ceases to be a factor in the bean market which will not be long distant unless we get tariff protection, the Japanese will have a free field and may charge practically what they please for their beans.

"A committee will shortly leave for Washington to present this matter to Congress." Among others will be George A. Turner, Kelly Hardenbrook of Lompoc, C. L. Prescott of Santa Maria and Aaron Sapiro, attorney for the California Bean Growers' Association.

PACIFIC STEAMSHIPS ASK TO RAISE RATES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—The Pacific Steamship Company applied today to the State Railroad Commission for authorization to increase its freight rates between California points nearly $1 a ton. The reason stated is a loss of $166,463 in operating for the first seven months in 1919 and a further increase in operating expenses effective since August 1, which will double the previous loss. The steamship company applied last week for permission to raise its passenger rates.

Denekine Victorious Over Bolsheviki in Decisive Engagements.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Sept. 23.—A further setback for the Bolsheviki facing Gen. Denekine is admitted in a soviet wireless message received today. It reports the abandonment of the town of Lgov, to the west of Kursk, which the Denekine forces recently captured. Fighting of the severest character in this region is continuing.

The Bolsheviki also concede the loss of ground along the line southeast into the Tsaritsyn region. They abandoned the towns of Ostrogojsk and Korotiak, to the south of Voronetz, and are also retiring in the region of Tsaritsyn, where they were compelled to cross the Volga to the north of Tcherny-Yer.

Ukrainia is another nation to which the Russian soviet government has made a peace offer, according to the advices reaching here. Furthermore, it is declared that the delegation which was sent to propose peace to the Ukrainians announced that the Moscow government had decided to seek peace with all nations in order to forestall a counter-revolution in Russia.

The Bolshevik emissaries suggested to the Ukrainians the negotiation of peace on the basis of recognition of the independence of the Ukraine if that nation would maintain neutrality in the soviet struggle against Admiral Kolchak and Gen. Denekine.

A Bolshevik wireless dispatch today reports the discovery of an anti-Bolshevik plot with ramifications throughout Russia, which led to the capture and execution of sixty-six men on charges of conspiracy. The plot is said to have originated in Moscow.

Among the men who were executed were the former Duma member, N. N. Stchepkin, Profs. Astroff and Volkoff, Prince Obolensky and Gens. Kuzrietsoff and Machoff. Others arrested were Prince Andronikoff, Baron Stromberg and M. Rosanoff, the widely-known Menshevik leader.

ENGLISH PRICES ON DOWN GRADE

Profiteering Tribunals are Cutting Cost of Living.

Return to Normal Expected During the Winter.

Only Obstacle is Weakness of Transport System.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, Sept. 23.—Since the inauguration of profiteering tribunals there has been a notable drop in the prices of all commodities in England. Unless inland transport breaks down it is likely the cost of living in this country will approach something about normal this winter. Among the commodities the prices of which are notably lower in the last week are all articles of food, many of clothing, and goods such as typewriters, motor cars, etc.

There is grave danger, however, of a breakdown in transport. Already supplies in Wales and West England are very short because of the inability of the railroads to furnish cars.

Two great flour milling firms in Cardiff, Spillers & Bakers and Joseph Rank, which supply practically all the flour to Wales and West England, are at a standstill because of the impossibility of securing transportation. Mr. Rank states that for weeks 600 cars have been standing at Barry loaded with goods from America and waiting to be unloaded.

The Ministry of Transport, inaugurated today, of which Sir Eric Geddes is the head, proposes to make the strongest effort to organize and co-ordinate railroad transport, eliminating wasteful competition and overlapping. Geddes proposes to start a big service road transport with motor trucks and to try to clear the docks and depots at the earliest moment.

There is no doubt that this policy is responsible for the refusal yesterday by Sir Auckland Geddes, Sir Eric's brother, and president of the Board of Trade, to countenance the demand of the British manufacturer of commercial vehicles for further protection against American competition.

It is no exaggeration to say that the maintenance of the British food and raw material supply this winter depends on the free importation of American motor trucks, for British manufacturers admit they will be unable to fill the demand in less than eighteen months to two years.

The situation may be further complicated by the national strike of iron molders, started yesterday. This, of course, is a key industry, and if the strike lasts more than a few days it will cause a stoppage in all the machinery trades. The men are demanding increases of $4 weekly while the employers are willing to grant an advance of only $2.

PROHIBITION WORK IS CURBED IN EUROPE.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE MEN REFUSED PASSPORTS IN PARIS TO ENGLAND.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Sept. 23.—The American State Department is taking measures to check the extension of the Anti-Saloon League's prohibition campaign in Europe, according to the Daily Mail, which says two agents of the league who recently sought passport facilities in Paris preparatory to visiting England were unable to obtain the necessary vises.

"The American State Department," the newspaper continues, "is fully alive to the detrimental effects which extension of the Anti-Saloon League's activities to Europe might have on international relations, especially at the present time and is said to be resolved to avoid possible misunderstandings."

The Daily Mail, which is conducting a campaign in opposition to William E. Johnson, organizer of the Anti-Saloon League, says it is considered unlikely that many more Anti-Saloon campaigners will be allowed to embark for England at present and quotes Mr. Johnson as saying that officers of the organization are "scared at all the attention which has been focussed on the campaign here."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—State Department officials said today that no policy had been adopted of denying passports to agents of the Anti-Saloon League seeking to go to Europe to further the world-wide prohibition campaign determined on at a recent conference in Washington.

PLANS UNDER WAY TO GIVE GERMANY COTTON

DETAILS KEPT SECRET FOR A TIME, BUT INVOLVE MORE THAN ONE CREDIT.

By Parke Brown.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERLIN, Sept. 20 (via Copenhagen, Sept. 23.)—Because of the importance of the matter, both to Germany and the United States, an agreement has been made whereby all facts in connection with the proposed plan for solving the raw cotton problem in the former country will be kept secret until the outcome of the negotiations which now are approching a climax is known.

The plan involves more than a single loan of credit and in addition to cotton maufactures, other important industries of Germany are represented in the matter, so that a month may elapse before those vitally interesetd will feel that publicity can be permitted safely.

Under the existing circumstances, the United States cannot be officially represented in the negotiations, but everything done up to this point now is known and approved by Washington, just as the action of the German capitalists and manufacturers has the sanction of the German government. The plan is the biggest thing undertaken so far toward resumption of business relations between Germany and the United States, and promises to be one of the most important steps possible for preventing a collapse of German industry.

It is the most tragic, the most beautiful thing that has ever reached the screen—"Broken Blossoms."—[Advertisement.

COUNCIL DISCUSSES STATUS OF GALICIA.

PADEREWSKI SAID TO HAVE DEMANDED ITS ASSIGNMENT TO POLAND.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Sept. 23.—The status of the former Austro-Hungarian crownland of Galicia was before the supreme council for discussion this morning. Premier Paderewski of Poland was heard by the council, presenting the Polish view as to the diposition of the territory.

The claims of the Poles and Ukrainians as to Galicia are widely at variance.

Premier Paderewski, the Temps reports, demanded that Galicia be assigned to Poland, whereas, the principal powers are proposing the assignment of the territory be temporary and the fate of Galicia be settled by a plebiscite.

The council also took up the question of the military occupation by an inter-Allied force of Danzig and Upper Silesia, in connection with the plebiscite, the Temps states.

The return of Sir George Russell from his mission to Rumania, where he went to present the Peace Conference note regarding Rumania's course in Hungary, is expected at the end of the week. The study of the Rumanian question by the council will then be resumed.

POLK WANTS GERMANY GIVEN 18 OIL TANKERS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Sept. 23.—Frank L. Polk, Undersecretary of State and head of the American delegation to the Peace Conference, is endeavoring through the supreme council to have eighteen tank ships assigned to Germany for use in shipping oil from the United States for German industries. The representatives of the five great powers had agreed to let Germany have these tankers, and contracts were entered into by the Germans with American firms for oil. The supreme economic council at Brussels last week, however, ordered Germany to return the vessels over to the Allies.

As the United States is not yet represented on the commissions created under the treaty with Germany, the American delegation had no voice in the council meeting at Brussels.

DISCHARGED SOLDIERS ARE GERMAN PROBLEM.

MANY OFFICERS APPLY FOR SERVICE IN ARMY OF THE UNITED STATES.

By Paul Williams.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

COBLENZ, Sept. 23.—Reduction of the Germany army is throwing thousands of professional soldiers out of jobs and adding considerably to the unemployment problem bothering that nation.

The bulk of these thousands are educated to be soldiers and that is all they know. What is to become of them? It is difficult for a man of mature age to change his profession. The professional soldier has no inclination to do anything, and the German is no exception. So, we may find many of them looking about for a nice army to attach themselves to. It is quite natural, if they do not consider the late unpleasantness, that some of them would look upon the United States Army as containing possibilities. Several letters have been received at the headquarters of the American forces in Germany from German officers requesting information regarding the possibility of being commissioned in Uncle Sam's outfit, after the treaty has been ratified.

WOULD NEED NEW LAW.

In reply the military authorities at Berlin have been notified there is no provision in the army regulations for such a possibility. The only hope remaining for German officers is to get Congress to pass an act admitting them.

The German army headquarters has taken cognizance of the peculiar requests of some of its officers by notifying its command as follows: "German officers in constantly increasing numbers are communicating with the commanding general and with the American War Department asking for appointment in the American army after ratification of peace.

"Such requests cannot be considered since the American army has already sufficient officers and the appointment of men of foreign nationality has not been provided for, nor proposed.

PRIVATES ALSO APPLY.

"Requests of such nature will receive no answer."

The willingness to take a chance with the United States Army is not confined to German officers. There appeared at headquarters today in uniform six Germans who recently were discharged on the east front. They said they had enlisted in Berlin in the United States Army Quartermaster's Corps. They had not travel orders, but requested mileage from Berlin to Coblenz, and commutation of rations.

Headquarters through some misunderstanding or delay in transmission had not been notified that a recruiting office had been established in Berlin. So the six were turned over to the provost marshal for quarters and rations, until word comes to Maj. Cockrell. The six said they had met an American who spoke German excellently and was recruiting men for the American force on the Rhine. They were told they said, that they would be stationed here for several months and then would be taken to the United States. The recruiting officer, strange to say, asked no fees from them, a fact indicating he was an amateur at the game.

Maj. Cockwell was sorry he could not advance mileage. The six will be held pending investigation by the German authorities.

STILL OUT OF WORK ARE 20,000 SOLDIERS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

FIRST ROLL CALL TAKEN ON PACT.

Vote Stands 43-40 in Favor of Lodge's Motion.

Consideration of Amendments by Fall Set for Friday.

Two Republicans Cast Votes Against Party Decisions.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept 23.—On the first roll call on the peace treaty, the Senate today adopted, 43 to 40, a motion by Senator Lodge to postpone until next Tuesday consideration of the forty-odd amendments proposed by Senator Fall, which would eliminate the United States from different commissions created under the treaty.

The motion, not of itself important, was accepted tonight by opponents of the league as the best possible index of the feeling and attitude of the Senate toward the treaty and the covenant. Democratic leaders declared it meant nothing.

Ten Senators were paired, and three—Gore, Oklahoma; King, Utah, and Shields, Tennessee—absent and not voting were paired.

The little flurry over the Lodge motion was the only excitement during the two-hour consideration of the treaty, which was not taken up until 3 o'clock because of a parliamentary wrangle. Senator Lodge called it up at 2 o'clock, the regulation hour, but the fight over a Senate rule still was running wild, when Senator Hitchcock cut it short by a demand for reading of the treaty. There was no speech-making and late in the day the crowds in the galleries, listening to the monotonous reading, looked down and saw only two Senators—Hitchcock and Brandegee, Republican, of Connecticut, in the chamber. Others flitted back and forth, but few sat through the reading.

Conduct of the crowds that yesterday broke into uproarious applause at the conclusion of a speech by Senator Reed and then hissed condemnation of their outburst, was discussed at some length after introduction of a resolution by Senator Overman, Democrat, North Carolina, for enforcement of the rule against applause. The discussion got nowhere, however, as Senator McLean, Republican, Connecticut, objected to immediate consideration. There was quite a difference of opinion as to the propriety of letting visitors express opinions with hands and feet, although all seemed agreed that hissing was outrageous.

NEW TO SPEAK.

Until debate begins on the Fall amendments on Tuesday, the time of the Senate will be given over to the reading of the printed text with speeches by a number of Senators, including one by Senator New, Republican, Indiana, tomorrow.

Senator Johnson returned today from his speech-making tour in the West, prepared, he said, to go later to Washington, Oregon and California and keep up the attack on the league covenant. Senator Johnson said he had not had time to look over the situation, though he hoped to get up his amendment "within the week." If a vote on the treaty was delayed sixty days, he said, "not a shred of it would be left."

After the roll call Senator Lodge obtained unanimous consent to call up all of Senator Fall's amendments Friday instead of a week hence.

The vote gave the first test of strength between the opposing forces and was called for after Senator Lodge had failed to obtain unanimous consent to pass over the amendments. Senator Hitchcock, Nebraska, in charge of the administration fight for ratification, made a point of order against a formal motion to pass over, which Vice-President Marshall sustained.

Senator Lodge thereupon moved that consideration of the amendments be deferred one week, and on his Senator Hitchcock demanded the ayes and nays.

There were only three party reversals, Senator Jones, Washington, and McCumber, North Dakota, voting against the Lodge motion, while Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, voted for it.

Republican Senate leaders decided today to defer for several days consideration of the amendment to the peace treaty proposed by Senator Johnson affecting equality in voting strength in the League of Nations between the United States and Great Britain. Formal reading of the treaty will be continued for a time.

Senator Johnson, who has been speaking in the Middle West against the league plan, returned here today.

CZECHO-SLOVAKS NEED FUNDS FROM AMERICA

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, Sept. 23.—The supreme council's plan to repatriate 75,000 Czecho-Slovak troops from Siberia provides that Great Britain, France and the United States each pay a third of the cost, which will average $300 for each soldier. The plan has been sent to President Wilson for indorsement, but it is believed he must obtain permission of Congress.

The United States would have to grant Czecho-Slovakia a credit of $6,500,000, and the troops would be repatriated via the Pacific, overland across America, then across the Atlantic. Nothing has been done regarding repatriation of American troops in Siberia, and withdrawal of the Czecho-Slovaks would mean great delay in evacuating the Americans, it is believed, as the Trans-Siberian Railway must be protected.

FLAGSHIP ON WAY TO SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Sep. 23.—The American dreadnaught New Mexico, flagship of the Pacific Fleet, left here today for San Pedro, Cal., where several hundred members of her crew will receive discharge papes. Admiral Rodman commander of the fleet, was aboard.

Repairs were being made here today to the Canadian steamer Brittania which rammed the New Mexico yesterday while the big battleship was anchored in the harbor during the festivities celebrating the arrival of the Prince of Wales. The New Mexico was not damaged. The Brittania's stem was crushed slightly.

SHOPMEN ARE TO HOLD ANOTHER CONVENTION ROADS AND BROTHERHOODS IN IN THE WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCE?

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Another unauthorized convention has been called for September 25 in Chicago by the Chicago District Council of the Federated Railroad Shop Crafts, thousands of whose members struck August 1 at the behest of the local council, and in defiance of their international officers, J. D. Sanders, secretary, announced tonight. Between 700 and 800 delegates had signified their intention to come and voice protests against the 4 per cent. increase in wages recently granted by the Railway Administration.

"We admit it's an unauthorized convention," said L. M. Hawver, president of the council, who said the international officers had ordered him and Sanders suspended from the unions to which they belonged, but that the unions refused to comply and have been threatened with revocation of their charters.

"Something has got to be done, and the convention is to formulate some kind of a programme," Hawver said.

A movement for a referendum for recall of the international officers of the unions may be started at the meeting, it was said.

TO INCLUDE RAILROADS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—It is said that the railroads and railroad brotherhoods probably will be asked to name representatives to the industrial conference on October 8.

No provision for special representation was made in the original invitation issued by the President, but as neither the President in his expanded list of twenty-two representatives of the general public, nor Samuel Gompers in his list of fifteen from the American Federation of Labor included men directly interested in a railway settlement, it is considered certain that the membership of the conference will be increased so as to give railroad employers and employees a voice.

PEACE DELEGATE OF JAPAN THREATENED.

MANIFESTO SAYS TIMIDITY AND COWARDICE LOST MANY OPPORTUNITIES.

[BY A. P. CORRESPONDENCE.]

TOKIO, Aug. 26.—Japanese Chauvinists attempted a hostile demonstration against Marquis Saionji when the Japanese peace delegate returned to Japan. The demonstrators included several of the younger members of the Kenseikai or opposition party.

At Kobe the promoters issued a manifesto declaring that Japan's contributions to the successful pushing of the war were such that any claims could not possibly have been rejected at the Peace Conference. But the "foolishness, timidity and cowardice of the Japanese peace delegates" lost to Japan many opportunities.

The manifesto went on:

"Our delegates made a point of fawning on the other powers in all things, and the result was that they were bamboozled by the delegates of the other powers. Great Britain and the United States took advantage of this servile attitude and the racial proposal was shattered as a result. Also, they managed to invite the contempt of the Chinese delegates. In our opinion, Japan is placed in a position of isolation internationally, all the powers regarding her with a hostile eye. The nation should really go into mourning when the peace delegation returns. To welcome the blundering delegates is to congratulate the country upon the dishonor and disadvantages which she has suffered."

KOREANS RAISING FUND FOR REBELS' DEFENSE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEOUL (Korea) Aug. 26.—Correspondence of the Associated Press.) Koreans have raised a fund of the equivalent of $5000 for the defense of the leaders of the insurrection who will be tried this autumn. Efforts will be made to secure the services of some well known foreign lawyer.

The preliminary trial of a number of leading agitators of the city of Sachon resulted in the death sentence for nine and life imprisonment for six others. An appeal was taken.

PAY TO BE RAISED OF BAPTIST PREACHERS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Poorly paid Baptist ministers who have been compelled to spend their life savings to buy necessities or forced to go into debt for them in the hope that "the Lord will provide" were given a message of cheer today by Rev. Charles A. McAlpine of the National Committee of Northern Baptist Laymen when he announced that the general board of promotion had taken steps to increase their pay. Mr. McAlpine contends that the salary of every Baptist pastor who receives less than $2000 a year should be raised 50 per cent.

Dr. McAlpine, who recently expressed the opinion that unless the salaries of clergymen were raised he would not blame them for organizing a union and calling a country-wide strike, said that it "had been officially brought to the attention of the board of promotion that ministers are not so easy to obtain as before the war because their low salaries have forced them to seek other occupations."

For Broader Compensation Laws.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

TORONTO, Sept. 23.—A broadening of workmen's compensation laws to include the workers in all industries, including agriculture, mining, lumbering, transportation, distribution, merchandising and domestic service, was urged today by Royal Meeker, United States commissioner of labor statistics, in an address delivered at the opening session of the sixth annual convention of the International Association of Industrial Accident Boards and Commissions.

More than seventy delegates from all parts of the United States and Canada are in attendance.

HALF MILLION IS TENTATIVE.

Baker Says may Need Larger or Smaller Army.

With League of Nations Lesser Number Needed.

Without League that Would be Buf "Child's Play."

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—That the army of 500,000 provided in the War Department's reorganization bill may be entirely too large was admitted by Secretary of War Baker today before the House Committee on Military Affairs.

"The bill sent you from the War Department represented the best judgment at that time of the War Department officials," said Secretary Baker, "but it was only tentative. Until we could get the opinion of Gen. Pershing and other officers no final judgment could be formed.

"As to the size of the army, my mind is not clear. I do not know what it ought to be. We have very little National Guard in the country. Our Regular Army is being used in several States at present to help maintain order. It is on duty at the Mexican border, and in our outlying territories. We have a definite obligation in Europe as well. The state of the world you know as well as I do. It has not settled down to stable and orderly government.

DEPENDS UPON LEAGUE.

"It may be that our figure is too large or too small. It is entirely possible that when the League of Nations is in force we might reduce the number of men in our Regular Army.

"We all know that the conditions in the world today are vastly disturbed, and we do not know how soon they will be settled down. If a League of Nations is not formed an army of 500,000 men would be child's play, and we must arm to the teeth to keep our place in the world."

The committee discussed difficulties of reorganizing the National Guard. Secretary Baker said he was opposed to reducing the minimum strength of a National Guard company below 100, as urged by many States.

"I don't approve the policy of starting in with sixty-five men and then threatening demobilization unless it is raised to 100 men," said Secretary Baker. "I think they should get 100 men before they get recognition from the militia bureau.

"In the small towns, where it is impossible to get 100 men I would suggest that the neighboring towns join, each one forming a platoon in charge of a lieutenant."

Representative Hull of Iowa said he did not believe that would work as each town would insist on having the captain.

Gen. Jesse Carter, chief of the militia bureau, also was a witness.

"The men are just back from Europe, where they were fed up on war," said Gen. Carter in explaining the difficulty of the States in recruiting for the National Guard.

"They are going slowly in enlisting in the National Guard. The reports to me are that very few companies have been filled to the skeleton strength of 100 men."

CONSORTIUM EXCLUDES MONGOLIA, MANCHURIA.

JAPANESE CABINET BELIEVES THIS COURSE WILL REMOVE SUSPICION.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

TOKIO, Aug. 27.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) The military influences in the Japanese government appear to have won a clear victory in the struggle over the question of entering the powers' consortium to loan money to China. The military group stood for the exclusion of Mongolia and Manchuria from the scope of the consortium, and the Cabinet finally agreed, despite the contention of Foreign Minister Uchida, that the waiving of Japanese preferential rights in the above-named districts would go a good way in removing foreign suspicion of Japan's agressiveness in China.

No special privileges are needed by Japan in China, in the opinion of J. Inouye, the president of the Bank of Japan. In an article for a Japanese magazine, Mr. Inouye contends that it is for Japan's advantage to compete with the other powers on a basis of equality. He thinks that the United States will endeavor to extend her markets in the Far East and England and France will follow suit.

He urges co-operation with foreign capitalists, especially American institutions, in loans to China and the abandonment of any idea of exclusiveness, or purely selfish claims.

ONLY FORTY PER CENT ARE OUT AT CLEVELAND

CLAIMS OF UNION OFFICIALS ARE DISPUTED BY COMPANY OFFICIALS AND RECORDS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CLEVELAND, Sept. 23.—Claims of union officials that 25,000 men were idle here today in the strike of steel mill workers, an increase of 5000 over their estimates of yesterday, were disputed by steel mill officials who deny that the walkout is as complete as union officials claim and contend that the actual strikers do not number more than 40 per cent. of the union figures.

Fifteen to twenty experienced salaried organizers of the United Mine Workers of America will be assigned to help out the striking steel workers, acting under the instructions of the strike organizing committee.

TIE-UP IN YOUNGSTOWN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

YOUNGSTOWN (O.) Sept. 23.—The tie-up in the steel industry in the Youngstown district proper was completed this afternoon when officials of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company announced that the plant is closed. The six companies which have suspended operation employ 39,000 men. The Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company is the largest in this district, employing 18,000 men.

Railroad men who conferred with President Lee of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen at Cleveland yesterday were advised that where they have agreements with the steel companies, they should continue on duty, but that where no agreement is in effect the majority should rule. Most of the trainmen union officials say, already are out.

The Trumbull Steel Company of Warren, posted notices this afternoon that it had been compelled to close its plants because of circumstances over which it had no control. A shortage of common labor which is also out on strike, is understood to be the cause for closing. The company employs 5000 men.

Earlier in the day, officials of the Carnegie Steel Company formally announced the closing of the company's mills. Yesterday they had stated their intention of closing unless the men returned to work.

GIRARD PLANT CLOSES.

The A. M. Byers Company of Girard also announced its closing during the forenoon.

The complete closing of the steel mills probably has saved railroad men who are members of the brotherhoods a lot of trouble and embarrassment. Under the Federal laws they are compelled to handle interstate commerce and a refusal to deliver raw material to the mills would subject them to penalties of the law.

No trouble outside of a few fistic encounters has occurred here. Only one or two men have been arrested on minor offenses.

A new angle in the strike situation developed today when foreign-born workmen in large numbers began to leave the district for eastern points, with the intention, it is believed, of quitting the country.

BETHLEHEM PLANTS RUNNING TO CAPACITY

GARY CONTINUES HIS POLICY OF SILENCE REGARDING STEEL STRIKE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel Corporation, continues his policy of silence in regard to the steel strike. He refused to make any public comment on the steel situation.

It was asserted today by officers of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, the largest independent in the country, that no ultimatum had been received from its unionized employees demanding a conference with the executives. Nothing could be learned concerning the probable attitude of the company in advance of a demand for such a meeting.

All the Bethlehem plants are running to capacity.

Private advices received here by men connected with the steel industry declared that 21,000 more men were at work today in the Pittsburgh district than yesterday.

CHAMP CLARK TALKS TO ADVERTISING MEN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 23.—An address by Representative Champ Clark of Missouri, the nomination of vice-presidents and the launching of a boom for Arthur G. Newmeyer of New Orleans, for president of the association, marked the second day's activities of the fifteenth annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World.

Among the eight nominations for vice-president were: E. T. Meredith, Des Moines, and Rollin C. Ayers, San Francisco.

The Newmeyer boom was launched by the Oregon delegation.

TRY TO REACH MARS FROM OMAHA.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OMAHA, Sept. 23.—Leo Stevens, balloon instructor at Fort Omaha, announced that Prof. David Todd of Amherst College will attempt to communicate with the planet Mars this fall in a balloon to be constructed and piloted by Stevens. The balloon, to be the largest ever made, will ascend 50,000 feet, Stevens said.

The balloon will be enabled to rise to the expected height, Stevens said, by use of an invention which divides the balloon into two compartments, the upper containing hydrogen gas and the lower fresh air.

Prof. Todd has perfected a signalling apparatus for the experiments, Stevens said.

in value until in November, 1916, merchants refused to accept it.

"Then the country went on a metallic basis because the government could float no other money," said the witness.

Mr. Lill declared Carranza tried to cut down the government expenditures and to replace dishonest officials with honest men. The funded debt of Mexico, the witness said, is now approximately 695,000,000 pesos on which 175,000,000 pesos of interest is due. Senator Fall quoted a recent statement by Luis Cabrera in which the Carranza Minister of Finance fixed the debt at about 1,000,000,000 pesos. Mr. Lill made it plain that he believed Mexico could not assume the payment of this vast sum of which 425,000,000 pesos was in existence—at the beginning of the revolutionary period. When the revolution began Mr. Lill said the Diaz government had 72,000,000 pesos in cash in the treasury.

UNABLE TO PAY.

"Assuming that the Mexican revenue can be brought up to 130,000,000 pesos a year," said the witness, "the operating expenses would amount to 100,000 pesos a year. This would leave 30,000,000 pesos for debt service—for paying interest and amortization charges. This amount would support a debt of 550,000,000 pesos. It would be poor business to try to force Mexico to pay more than she can pay."

Mr. Lill indicated his belief that some form of "arbitration" should be found to enable Mexico to repudiate some part of the public debt. Present estimates of the debt he said did not include the various issues of repudiated currency which Senator Fall said amounted to upward of a billion or a billion and a half pesos. Vast sums of paper money issued by the generals associated with Carranza in the revolution the examination of Mr. Lill developed were repudiated when these generals broke with Carranza at various times. Only some 671,000,000 pesos in this form of money was redeemed in paper currency issued by Carranza after he assumed control in Mexico City. This Carranza money is now virtually worthless. This money Mr. Lill said is being redeemed through its acceptance in part payment of taxes. Senator Fall read a Carranza decree prescribing that for every peso of gold paid in taxes the taxpayer must pay an additional like amount in the reduced paper currency.

STRIKER'S WIFE IS RIOT VICTIM.

France, where he served with the Second Division.

Maciez Buckowski, another striker, was shot through the right temple and probably will die.

Of the other injured, two are strikers and one a 3-year-old boy. They are only slightly wounded.

The riot was the second one of the afternoon. About 5:20 o'clock, steel-plant guards clashed with the crowd. Several shots were fired by the guards but no one was hit.

The principal disturbance began at 5:50 o'clock when plant guards opened the gates to let out some workers who had remained in the plant, although operations had been suspended earlier in the day.

As two of the workers came out of the gate there was a shower of stones and bricks from the crowd.

Eight of the plant policemen then advanced to the center of the street, twenty-five feet away from the edge of the crowd, and began firing their 12-gauge shotguns. Other plant policemen inside the fence joined in the shooting. Witnesses said that about fifty shots were fired.

Chief Gilson and members of the Lackawanna city police were in the thick of the crowd, trying to restore order. Their frantic signals to the guards to cease firing were not heeded, Chief Gilson said tonight. It was not until the crowd, among them many women and children, broke up in a panic that the firing stopped, he asserted.

The strikers were in an ugly mood tonight. Three had been arrested on charges of inciting to riot. Three other men were found near gate No. 3 tonight carrying shotguns wrapped in paper. They were released after they had produced hunting licenses and denied any hostile object.

Chief Gilson tonight expressed the opinion that the plant policemen had "acted somewhat too hastily" in opening fire on the mob. "However," he added, "the plant guards were under great provocation. The crowd was bombarding the policemen with every sort of missile it could lay its hands on."

Chief Gilson said he believed that in their excitement the plant guards did not see him or his men signaling to cease firing. Capts. Marshall and Davies, in charge of the plant police, refused to discuss the shooting, saying that they were not present when it occurred.

If there is further disorder tomorrow, Chief Gilson said tonight, he will ask that the State troops be called out to keep order in Lackawanna. A detail of State police is expected tomorrow and the riot squads of the Buffalo police department will be held at the city line in readiness to cross to Lackawanna if needed.

cause to fail, by warning its most active members of the consequences of their acts.

"D'Annunzio caused all the possibilities of a favorable issue of his plans to be laid before Signor Nitti, and affirmed that the Allies would accept the 'fait accompli.'

"Premier Nitti replied that the political, economic and military consequences of such an undertaking would be very serious. He added that while he appreciated the sentiments of the poet, he would give orders to arrest him if he should try to carry out any such adventure. The government knew that D'Annunzio's accomplices were an admiral and two generals who were stationed at Fiume, and whom the government was forced to remove from their commands."

EXPORTS IN AUGUST SHOW GREAT INCREASE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—American exports took a big leap forward in the month of August, shattering predictions of further decline following the comparatively poor showing made for the month of July.

August exports amounted to $76,000,000 more than July exports, being valued at $646,000,000 according to a statement just issued by the Department of Commerce. In August last year the total was $527,000,000.

For the eight months ended with August exports were valued at $5,275,000,000 as compared with $4,009,000,000 for the corresponding period in 1918.

August imports amounted to $308,000,000, a decrease of $55,000,000 as compared with July. For the eight months ended with August imports increased from $2,061,000,000 in 1918 to $2,263,000,000 in 1919.

URGE CONSOLIDATION OF FREIGHT TARIFFS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Consolidation of the existing three classifications of the freight rates in force in official, western and southern territory, with only such changes in ratings as are necessary on account of changes in descriptions of classes, was recommended to the Director-General of Railroads today by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The commission's report is the outgrowth of almost thirty years of agitation in railroad and shipping circles for a uniform classification.

As to the cancellation of State classifications, the commission said, there was generally no reason for different ratings on State traffic and on interstate traffic, but that the State classifications should not be canceled summarily. It recommended that the differences between the State classification and the general classifications be worked out in co-operation with State commissions.

STRIKES WAR'S HEART.

"Article X is an engagement on the part of the great fighting nations of the world, because all the great fighting nations are going to be members of the league, that they will observe, respect and preserve as against external aggression the territorial integrity of existing political independence of the other members of the league. That is cutting into the heart of all war. Every war of any consequence that you cite originated in an attempt to seize the territory or interfere with the political independence of some other nation."

"We must realize that a great and final choice is upon the people. Either we are going to guarantee civilization or we are going to abandon it. If I may say so without even by implication involving great public men, whom I entirely respect, I want to say that the only popular clamor, that after all the various reservations, the only popular clamor back of the impulse to reject any part of this treaty proceeds from exactly the same source that the pro-German propaganda proceeded from."

GREETS CHILDREN.

The President arrived in Salt Lake City at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon. He was greeted by thousands as he paraded through the principal streets of the city and again by thousands of school children at the place selected for the termination of the procession.

At the conclusion of the parade, President and Mrs. Wilson retired to their hotel, where they rested until 8:30 o'clock this evening, when they motored to the Mormon Tabernacle.

CITIZENS TO VOTE $90,000 BOND ISSUE.

RESUME OF THE HAPPENINGS OF A DAY IN AND NEAR TULARE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

TULARE, Sept. 23.—The City Council has adopted resolutions calling for a special election to be held October 17, at which time the voters will pass on the proposal for issuing $90,000 in bonds for the construction of a municipal auditorium and City Hall to be in the nature of a memorial to Tulare soldiers and sailors who lost their lives in the war with Germany. An issue of bonds previously voted for this purpose in the sum of $60,000 was found technically defective. Meantime, because of increasing costs of labor and material, the additional sum is considered necessary.

George Sturgeon of San Francisco, who was employed as superintendent of construction, has filed plans and specifications which indicate that a building of the scope desired can be constructed for the sum for which it is proposed to issue the securities.

PREPARE FOR FIGHT.

Dairymen of this district who have affiliated with the San Joaquin Valley Milk Producers' Association and who represent nearly 80 per cent. of the industry of Tulare county, are preparing for a bitter fight indicated by the filing in the Superior Court in San Francisco of quo warranto proceedings, designed to secure a ruling declaring the association invalid under the State laws.

It is openly declared here that the suit is being financed by the same interests which have made strenuous efforts to capture other lines of food production and that these so-called "foreign corporations" see in the success of the co-operative association a standing menace to their plans to obtain control of California dairy products.

Plans are now being discussed whereby an ample supply of money can be obtained with which all such attacks can be promptly fought out and carried, if necessary, to the United States Supreme Court.

WANTS MORE MONEY.

Not a few taxpayers of Tulare were surprised to learn that the present compensation of the City Attorney is $25 per month, the information coming in the form of a demand made by P. D. Nowell, incumbent, on the City Council for an immediate increase in salary. City Attorney Nowell suggested in connection with his demand that he be paid $50 per month for the routine work of the office and that a schedule of pay be agreed upon for various extra work, including appearances in court, if necessary.

Rex, aged 17, son of W. D. Clark, rancher of this district, was severely injured when his truck overturned on the highway north of here and pinned young Clark, who was at the wheel, beneath the machine. The victim was removed to a local hospital suffering from broken bones and possible internal injuries. He has been unable, thus far, to give any connected account of the accident.

BELIEVE IN "SPOOKS."

Pixley people are not as a rule superstitious, but the new telephone exchange at the dairy district town south of here will not open for business until another subscriber is secured. There are thirteen plugs on the board now, with thirteen mile of wire strung. That is why Mrs. J. A. Bollett, the chief operator, has insisted that another phone be installed before service is granted.

Gangs of workmen started this morning on equipment for the Tulare county fair which will open here the eighth of next month. Including the permanent buildings, which will be used throughout the coming year for sales and exhibits, the space placed at the disposal of exhibitors will be slightly more than five acres. Reports from the office of the secretary are to the effect that all of the space will be allotted some time before the opening date.

Especial interest is being shown in the poultry and swine sections and in these classes the exhibits are expected to rank with the best of anything shown this year in central California.

of bacon and eggs. Today you may eat heartily and feel fine. Tomorrow you may bolt a glass of milk and two crackers and get a stomach full of gas, sour risings, biliousness, a feeling of bloated heaviness and other distress. WANTS WHOLE WORLD TO KNOW

Mrs. Meyers Relates Her Experience.

Has Gained Twenty-one Pounds Taking Tanlac.

Troubles of Ten Years' Standing Overcome.

"I have gained twenty-one pounds actual weight since I commenced taking Tanlac, and the troubles that have been causing me to suffer for ten long years have been completely overcome," said Mrs. Martha Myers who lives at Lankershim, Cal., wihel in the Owl Drug Store in Los Angeles the other day.

"When I think of the great good Tanlac has done me," continued Mrs. Meyers, "I actually yearn to tell everybody in the world about it, especially those who suffer as I did. I had an aggravated case of stomach trouble which had been pulling me down for years and had finally gotten the best of me entirely. My condition was so bad for a long time that I had to live on a milk diet and never dared touch anything else. Even this light diet would cause gas to form and I would be perfectly miserable for hours afterward. My nerves were in terrible condition and it was out of the question for me to get a good night's sleep. My husband spent hundreds of dollars for medicine and treatments, but I just kept on going down hill all the time. Specialist after specialist treated me. I was so blue and discouraged over my condition that I just felt like giving up altogether.

"I was looking over the paper one night and I noticed a statement about Tanlac, and when I told my husband that I had a notion to try this medicine, he laughed and said: 'Well, I don't suppose it will hurt you, anyway, and if you want to try it I will get it for you.' Well, I commenced taking Tanlac then, and to my great surprise I felt a change for the better before I had finished that first bottle. Of course, I bought more Tanlac and when I had finished the second bottle my appetite had come back and for the first time in ten long years I could eat a hearty meal without suffering afterwards. I have just finished my fifth bottle and I can truthfully say that I am as well and strong as I ever was in my life. We own and live on our ranch and I am going right ahead putting up my fruit all by myself. I never have a sign of stomach trouble or indigestion, and I eat just anything I want. My nerves are in perfect condition, and oh, how I do enjoy the sweet, restful sleep I get every night. I really don't see how my health could be any better, and as sure as I stand here now, I owe it all to Tanlac. I am under lasting obligations to this wonderful medicine, and feel it my duty to give this statement so that I may help others who suffer as I did."

Tanlac is sold in Los Angeles, Pasadena and San Diego by The Owl Drug Co.—[Advertisement.

BUDGET STAFF RECOMMENDED.

Make Department Heads Account for Expenses.

Bureau Experts Would Work in Office of President.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—An executive budget prepared by a bureau of experts "in the office of the President" was advocated before the House special Budget Committee today by two representatives of the National Budget Committee.

The two witnesses were John T. Pratt, chairman, an attorney, and Dr. Samuel McCune Lindsay, professor of social legislation at Columbia University. The National Budget Committee includes Henry L. Stimson, former Secretary of War; Benjamin Strong, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, and Paul M. Warburg, the banker.

"The committee feels very strongly that a budget staff of experts should prepare estimates of the expenses of all government departments," said Mr. Pratt. "I believe that this staff could operate most effectively in the office of the President. The bureau should be given power to make every department head and bureau chief account for the money required for departmental expenses.

"There should be no politics in running the government's business. The budget staff, consisting preferably of five men, should continue outside of the term of the President's office and should have office for seven or eight years.

"Naturally the entire policy of our committee would fall to the ground if the President refused to sign the budget formulated by his staff of experts. That is why it is necessary to have every bureau chief know what the expenditure is for."

Members of the committee advanced the point made by Gov. Lowden yesterday that responsibility would be centered more certainly on the President if he were not obliged to accept recommendations from holdover appointees. Mr. Pratt said that the President could refuse to sign any budget which does not meet with his approval.

Mr. Pratt was asked how the bureau would operate in connection with a contention between the executive and legislative departments regarding the size of the standing army.

PRESIDENT WOULD DECIDE.

"In that case," said Mr. Pratt, "the President would decide the question of policy regarding the estimates and Congress would then decide whether the estimates were national policy or merely the policy of the administration."

Taking up the question of the consideration of the budget by Congress, Mr. Pratt said:

"I believe that the unity of the estimates should be maintained throughout, and that they should be considered by a single committee in Congress. Individual items should be studied thoroughly by subcommittees of the House, and the financial plan of the government should go through as a whole. The central committee should have power to approve or disapprove of measures suggested by the subcommittees, and the policy of the subcommittees should be defended on the floor of the House."

CHORUS GIRLS ASKING FOR HOMES IN DETROIT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

DETROIT, Sept. 23.—Every once in a while it becomes the duty and privilege of the press to seek homes for the homeless, food for the starving or clothes for the needy, but it is usually in the dead of winter, and here it is hardly autumn and along comes one of the most worthy appeals we ever have received, but it came from "the Passing Show of 1918," which has come along a little early for the midwinter sob stuff but—

Gentlemen, don't crowd.

Have you a place in your home for a chorus girl—one of the fifty with the "Passing Show" during the coming week?

That's the appeal and in the same wistful tone the press agent says:

"Every hotel room in Detroit is reserved during that period and the management of the theater is forced to make this appeal to the public-spirited citizens of Detroit.

"These girls are the very pick of the theater and are nice little girls, so no one need have any scruples about accepting them in his home. So will you come forward, Mr. and Mrs. Detroiter, and if you can accommodate from one to six of these nice little girls, leave your name and address in the box office.

SMELTERS MAY NOW OPERATE IN CITY.

With no discussion, and scarcely casual notice of the attendants at yesterday's session of the Council, that body voted to adopt an ordinance repealing one adopted several years ago, which declared the maintenance and operation of smelters within this city a public nuisance. The request for this repealing legislation was made by the Chamber of Commerce, and it opens the way for the operation of smelters within the city boundaries without their being violators of the law.

COUPLE ARRAIGNED.

Clarence K. Loomis and Ora F. Loomis, his wife, were arraigned yesterday before Justice Forbes on a charge of defrauding the Morris Plan Bank out of $1000 by the alleged forgery of several notes, made out in different names. They were committed to the County Jail in default of $2500 bail each. According to the District Attorney's office, the husband and wife used a large number of forwarding mail addresses and obtained loans under various names through the mail.

UNIONS FIGHT CUMMINS BILL.

Declare Their Opposition to Anti-Strike Provision.

Plumb Puzzles Senators with His Theory on Strikes.

Says in the Future They will Lower Prices.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Three of the foremost leaders of organized labor, before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee today, denounced in unqualified terms sections of the Cummins railroad re-organization bill, which would present railroad workers from striking.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; Warren S. Stone, chief of the Engineers' Brotherhood, and Glenn E. Plumb, author of organized labor's solution of the railroad problem, and general counsel for the railroad brotherhoods, in turn presented varying arguments, but all emphasizing the single point that in their view no power could constitutionally prevent men leaving work at their will.

"I do not wish to live a single day after that right has been taken away from workingmen," Mr. Gompers said with more than a touch of indignation. He served notice on the committee that the anti-strike provision if enacted as law would not be obeyed.

"With a full sense of my responsibility," he told Senators, "I say that I should have no more hesitancy about participating in a strike after its passage than I do now. It wouldn't stop strikes; it would just make lawbreakers."

PLUMB PUZZLES SENATORS.

There was considerable reference to the Plumb plan, which provides for government ownership of the railroads and joint operation by the public and employees, when its author opened his statement. He declared that strikes would be beneficial in the future, because workers would use them to force down prices instead of merely to secure a greater share of the cost of production, and allowing prices to increase. Puzzled Senatorial questioners dealt at some length with this theory, but it did not shake his conclusion.

Likewise Mr. Plumb made references to approaching revolution should "conservative labor forces" not secure concessions of the type embodied in his plan, and this occasioned more querying.

ATTACKS CUMMINS BILL.

Mr. Stone attacked the Cummins bill in its entirety. Its committee on wages and working conditions, he said, was a "mere bluff;" it cinched "bureaucratic control" on the roads; it distorted procedure of the Interstate Commerce Commission in order to give the commission a mandate to fix rates on the basis of inflated capitalization, and it had a transportation board "just to take the blame off guilty railroad officials for denying rights to labor." "Frankly vicious," he said, "were its provisions against strikes in interstate commerce." It contained "an implied repeal of the Adamson eight-hour bill," and its division of railroad systems into twenty-five or thirty systems was "illogical and artificial."

"I'm sorry I haven't had time to go more fully into study of it," he said in closing his analysis, and a roar of laughter swept the committee-room.

STONE AGAINST IT ALL.

Senator Kellogg, Republican, Minnesota, describing the disaster and famine which would follow a successful strike of transportation lines, asked Stone for suggestions as to how such a catastrophe might be averted. The witness replied that he "would suggest nothing on this bill, as I'm against it from start to finish."

"Would you favor a general strike in case Congress should adopt the Cummins bill instead of the Plumb plan?" Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, queried.

"Nobody has talked about a general strike," the brotherhood chief replied.

"No," Senator Robinson observed, "but there has been some talk about revolution."

OBJECTS TO DEFICITS.

Senator Kellogg cited some figures on deficits resulting from current railroad operation and said they were a result of government control.

"No, no, that's a mistake," Stone interjected. "The government's merely paying the bills under the present situation."

He hoped the railroads would go back soon to private ownership, he explained, because people would soon afterward be brought to favor the Plumb plan.

In the House, Representative Mondell, Republican leader, assured members that some legislation for railroad organization would be reported out at this session.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, followed Plumb on the witness stand.

"I hold these sections of the bill not only unconstitutional," he said, referring to the anti-strike sections, "but also repugnant to the spirit of the constitution and the republic.

"LAWS DON'T STOP STRIKES."

"These sections have the plain purpose to deny Americans the ability to dispose of themselves and their work. The only difference between a free man and a slave is the ability to dispose of labor power."

Attempts at the "same species of legislation," he continued, had been made and dropped in Colorado.

"Canada has somewhat the same law," he said, "but it has prevented no strikes. Indeed, wherever you find a country with laws making strikes illegal and punishing strikers, you will find a place where strikes are more common than elsewhere.

"Then why these sections in the bill? Have the railroad men proven traitorous to their country? Has labor proven unfaithful during the war? Was there any treachery and backwardness in doing full duty?

"It was my privilege," he continued, "to poll representatives of national and internal unions about three weeks before war with Germany was declared. I would like to read you the answer."

He was given permission to insert the declaration made at the time, in which the labor chiefs pledged themselves to unqualifiedly support the government.

Bids will be opened at 10 o'clock on the morning of September 29 in the office of the salvage division, Rock Island arsenal.

Prospective purchasers are given notice that the export of saddles, bridles, canteens and carbine scabbards by merchants in the United States into Mexico is forbidden under the proclamation of the President on March 14, 1912, and purchasers must certify that none of the ordnance stores purchased at this sale are being purchased for sale directly or indirectly for use in Mexico.

CITY'S TO SAY WHAT'S WHAT ON OIL WELLS.

The Health and Sanitation Committee of the Council decided, yesterday, to recommend the adoption of an ordinance providing that no oil wells in the present oil well district shall be reopened, or no new wells shall be bored, within 100 feet of any dwelling or place of business, without the consent of the proper city authorities. This is somewhat in line with a recommendation recently made by the Chamber of Commerce, although that if the chamber also included recommendation that the consent of property owners and tenants adjacent to the oil property must be secured before activities were begun.

CALLED AUTO THIEVES.

Edward Nelson and Edwin Z. Dixon, accused of stealing an automobile from the Stillwell Car and Supply Company, were held to answer yesterday by Justice Forbes. Nelson was held for grand larceny and embezzlement, and Dixon for grand larceny. Bail was fixed at $200 for Nelson and $1000 for Dixon.

CHAMPAGNE COSTS $200 A QUART IN STOCKHOLM

TRAVELERS CLAIM THAT SWEDISH CAPITAL BREAKS ALL HIGH COST RECORDS.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONDON, Aug. 20.—Travelers arriving here from Stockholm after visiting some of the other capitals are firm in their conviction that it is the most expensive city in Europe.

The staple coin is a krona, just over 25 cents, and it costs 32 kronas for bed, breakfast and bath in a hotel. The simplest meal costs five dollars, and wine is prohibitive at about $20 a bottle for the worst war champagne. A taxicab for an hour costs $7.50, and five krona is the customary tip for a meal, while one is expected to give a kruna to the man who happens to be handy and insists on opening the door you would rather open yourself.

"I have been in many places these past five years," said a recently returned traveler, "Moscow and Bagdad, Bombay and Saloniki, Cairo and Rome, Paris and Petrograd, London and Monte Carlo, Brussels and Milan. The cheapest of them all was Monte Carlo. Stockholm was the dearest.

"They put it all down to their close proximity to Bolshevism. One does nothing for oneself in Sweden."

RUSSIAN PRISONERS POSE AS AMERICANS.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

VERDUN, Aug. 26.—Motoring north from the battered city yesterday the automobile of an American member of the committee which is investigating the work of reconstruction was hailed by an old peasant who asked to be given a lift. There was a vacant seat in the car and the villager was asked what his destination was.

"America," he replied. (L'Amerique.)

The passenger thought he had become mentally unbalanced, but he argued with the chauffeur, who finally allowed him to ascend in the seat next to him, intending to drop him at the first village. It was done. "Grand merci," said the peasant, "This is America."

"America" proved to be great barracks which had been erected by the American Red Cross on a spot where formerly stood the little village of Fresnes. There the Red Cross distributed clothing, food and other necessities of life to repatriated citizens of the devastated region of the Meuse.

The returning inhabitants have christened the village "America." The barracks are now occupied by Russian soldiers awaiting their return home, some of them not anxious to return home at all. They have been provided with old American uniforms and look exactly like doughboys who had neglected to shave for three months. When asked as to their nationality, they reply:

"We Amerikansky."

YORKSHIRE STRIKERS REGRET RASH ACTION.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

LEEDS (Eng.) Aug. 30—Some of the Yorkshire miners who went on strike in the great coal field there when 250,000 men quit work in July to protest against the government award for piece work seem hardly satisfied with the result in view of the fact that two months will be required to restore some of the mines to operation.

The Yorkshire Post quotes one of the miners as saying: "Fancy grown up men like us quarreling about the price of a packet of cigarettes more or less a week. It's enough to make a cat laugh or man cry, if he has children to feed. Principle is all right when it doesn't mean loss of pay. I wish our leaders felt it the same way, but their wages go on all the same with extras for attending all meetings. 'Fine words butter no parsnips,' and we can't fill our youngsters' stomachs with principle."

OS ANGELES COUNTY MAY DRAFT ALL AVAILABLE MEN TO FIGHT FIRES.

evening the chain of forest fires sweeping the hills northeast of Los Angeles had become one line of continuous flame, over thirty miles in length and with 100,000 acres of the National Forest Reserve in ashes behind it. Thirty thousand acres have been burned the San Gabriel Canyon region and most of the rest in Pacoima and the Tejungas.

the situation admittedly beyond the control of the 500 men working under Forest Su- Charlton and the troops from Arcadia, the Supervisors notified Mr. Charlton that he may all available county employees, numbering 1000, and stated that if necessary the Sheriff powered to draft every available man in the county to fight the fires. The Mayor issued ation calling for volunteers. The city of San Fernando yesterday drafted its whole male population and sent it to the fighting line. The fire last night was approaching the horse was burned to death and two ranch laborers were missing.

$100,000 ranch of Cecil B. DeMille, film magnate, in the Little Tejunga Canyon, was burned over and everything destroyed. Seven buildings and considerable live stock, including 1000 chickens,

A force of men from the Pasadena water department last night to aid the fighters and fifty more from the Rosa Balloon School at Arcadia were dis- danger zone.

Canyon is entirely burned out. Eight houses, including the $3500 summer home of Mrs. R. were burned to the ground.

County Flood Control camp in Pacoima Canyon was destroyed and the big road-building camp in Canyon is also probably gone. Sylmar Sanatorium had a narrow escape.

new fires broke out yesterday in the San Bernardino range and last night had already burned over thousand acres of brush and timber. The new fires near San Bernardino are in Nunez Canyon, off the Cajon Pass, and at Bald Hills, the latter two miles from the Los Angeles city playground. The Bald Hills fire is directly north of the Gate City and about four miles from Thousand Pines, burning on a ten-mile front from Thousand Pines to the headwaters of Little Mojave Creek. One hundred men from San Bernardino are fighting this blaze against a stiff north wind. Another force has gone to Nunez Canyon.

Refugees from the country above Azusa were pouring into that city all day yesterday. The fire swept close to the cultivated belt along the whole line of foothills and many citrus and avocado trees were damaged by the fire and heat.

Ashes fell thickly on the downtown streets of Los Angeles and surrounding towns yesterday afternoon and the air was obscured by smoke.

Yesterday afternoon the fire near Mt. Baldy broke away from the fighters and raced southward to San Antonio Canyon.

JUMPS SAN GABRIEL.

Early last evening the fire leaped to the west bank of the San Gabriel near Azusa and started toward Monrovia. It will probably not be checked before reaching Sawpit Canyon, according to E. A. Bovee, the Azusa marshal.

The fire yesterday swept down San Gabriel Canyon and over the eastern wall, in the direction of Big Dalton and San Dimas Canyon. Three hundred men have been pressed into service from Azusa, and fire fighters are being collected in El Monte, Duarte, Arcadia and Monrovia. Constable Quiggle, in charge of the drafting of men at Monrovia, says every able-bodied man between the ages of 16 and 60 may be called upon. A large number of men, after several days in San Gabriel Canyon, were sent back to their homes in Covina and vicinity yesterday when it became evident that all efforts to check the roaring blaze that swept down the canyon would be useless. Monrovia is covered with a fine powdering of ashes.

The efforts of the fire-fighters yesterday afternoon, in the Pacoima country were spent toward keeping the blaze out of the Big Tejunga Canyon, while an additional force sent to Mt. Gleason was to hold it from the east and south from getting into the Big Tejunga.

DRIVEN BACK.

On the east side of the fire line, in the San Gabriel Canyon, it was necessary to shift the camps of the army of men three times, from Follows Camp, Trail Canyon and the Hutchinson Ranch, so close and terrifying was the conflagration.

Disquieting reports were received

PACOIMA IS BURNED OUT.

Many Homes in Forest's Most Beautiful Gorge Now in Ashes.

Pacoima Canyon, sometimes called the most beautiful summer camping spot in Southern California, is burned out. A raging, roaring sea of fire, driven by a high wind, raced through the beautiful gorge early Tuesday morning, lighting up the sky for dozens of miles with its leaping tongues of flame, and destroying everything in its path except the few summer cabins which were saved by their owners at great risk of life.

People who saw the Pacoima Canyon fire during the darkest hours of Monday night declare that nothing ever before seen in Southern California approached it for pyrotechnic effect. Rangers in charge of the fire declared before midnight that the canyon and its contents were doomed and the fire fighters were withdrawn to render protection in other directions, but the owners of summer cottages in the canyon, headed by Wilbur E. Cummings of this city, organized a company of volunteers, went into the gorge, backfired in the vicinity of counless cabins and saved all but about half a dozen.

COTTAGES BURNED.

Among the summer cottages which were destroyed were those of Mrs. R. L. Craig, and J. E. Treat, of this city, Dr. Lucas, and "Dad" Strickland. The latter is a well-known mountain character. He lost two fine houses. Several tents were destroyed and a couple of stables were burned to ashes.

THREE PRIZE RECIPES.

Baking Days Come Back; Plum Pudding and Doughboys' Dinner Rolls.

Let's find that pessimist who is always writing letters to the papers stating that modern women are the cause of all the present unrest, that their unwillingness to keep house and make homes as their mothers did is responsible for most of the turmoil of the world. To read some of their indictments you'd think there wasn't an old-fashioned home-making, cooky-baking woman left in the world, but we've a stack of letters this week that would indicate that most of the women of Los Angeles are of the genuine variety of thrifty housewives, following the old customs and particularly adept in the baking line.

Most of them send us those dependable "handed down from mother to daughter" recipes, as one of them writes:

In Mother's Pantry.

"In Mother's pantry, such a feast of Good things, cookies, pies and cakes,
Doughnuts, gingerbread and fresh
Sweet rolls with nut-brown tops, and
Some with raisins, sprinkled with Sugar; thick; and cinnamon, too, that Smelled so nice, like when the Dough is full of spice.
And loaves of bread, light,
Sweet and wholesome, with tint
Of golden brown to top each loaf,
And fine smooth texture when the Snowy piles were cut.
There were honey drops and Brown bread, too, the secret
Only Mother knew; for she Believed in household art.
Cranberry tart, and I think
'Twas her smile, and her
Motherly cheer, that made
Everything good and home so dear.
That never again, no time, no place
Will be filled with the sweets
I used to trace on baking-day,
To the bountiful store in Mother's pantry."—Minnie C. Childs, Roseland Studio, Tustin, California.

But Mrs. Childs evidently remembers her mother's recipes as well for she sends us a First Prize Recipe for hot bread that she calls—

Dinner Rolls.

Two cupfuls sweet milk.
Two tablespoonfuls butter or lard.
One square of compressed yeast.
One heaping teaspoonful salt.
Two tablespoonfuls sugar.

Put sugar, salt, and shortening in milk warming it to melt shortening, cool and add the yeast that has been dissolved in a little lukewarm water. Add flour to make a stiff sponge. Beat the sponge for several minutes. Cover and set to rise. When light knead until very elastic and fine grained taking care to keep the dough as soft as can be handled. Cover until light, knead very little and roll out on molding board, roll out, cut with round cutter, dip one edge in melted butter and fold over. Let rise again and bake in hot oven. If rolls are wanted for dinner at noon let the sponge be set the night before, if for the evening meal sponge can be set in the morning.

Our country is such a paradise for picnic and camping parties that this recipe from San Bernardino will surely be in great demand. Isn't it easy to imagine how delicious these cakes will taste after a long hike through the hills?

Dough Boys.
(Second Prize)

Very good for campers, baked in frying pan on top of stove, or camp fire.

Beat 1 egg.
1-2 teaspoon of salt.
1-2 cup of water or milk.
1 heaping cup of flour.
1 heaping teaspoon of baking powder.
2 tablespoons of sugar.

Mix well, have pan hot, put in 1 tablespoon of shortening, then drop a large spoonful at a time, without crowding into pan, cover, let bake over medium fire for five minutes, remove cover, turn cakes (which should be two inches high by this time), let fry five minutes, without covering—serve hot, with butter or jam.

This makes eight large doughboys.—Mrs. A. J. Barck, Box A., San Bernardino, California.

It's not so many weeks now until the holidays, and when planning our Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners we'll appreciate knowing how to make a really delicious

Christmas Plum Pudding.
(Third Prize.)

One cupful of finely-chopped beef suet, two cupfuls of fine bread crumbs, one heaping cupful of sugar, one cupful of seeded raisins, one cupful of well-washed currants, one cupful of chopped blanched almonds, half a cupful of citron, sliced thin; a teaspoonful of salt, one of cloves, two of cinnamon, half a grated nutmeg and four well-beaten eggs. Dissolve a level teaspoonful of soda in a tablespoonful of warm water. Flour the fruit thoroughly from a pint of flour, then mix the remainder as follows: In a large bowl put the well-beaten eggs, sugar, spices and salt in one cupful of milk; stir in the fruit, chopped nuts, bread crumbs and suet, one after the other, until all are used, putting in the dissolved soda last and adding enough flour to make the fruit stick together, which will take all the pint. Boil or steam four hours. Serve with any well-flavored sauce. Submitted by Leonora McLam, 4447 Lockwood st.

Style Tips in Caps.

Something gaily nodding from the tip top of swimming caps gives all the girls a piquant look—in the water—this summer. Some of the new caps fit close to the head, others have a narrow mushroom brim, but both styles have big gathered crowns like inverted bags, and the bottom of the bag—or top of the cap—is drawn up and finished with a nodding pompom or bow or knot of the fabric. One cap of this sort is of white rubber with a pompom of red, white and blue rubber; another cap is of blue and green silk, drawn up by a shirring at the top of the crown, the two-inch heading above the shirring forming the nodding pompom.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT SPANISH COOKERY?

For many of us the greatest romance and charm of California is associated with its early Spanish days. There is fascination in all the old Spanish tales, and in the very names! How much more alluring to travel along El Camino Real than "the Coast road!" How far more eager we are to visit places with names like San Luis Rey, Santa Ynez, San Luis Obispo, than to stop at towns with the prosaic designation of Pottstown or Jones Center.

So much of the historic charm of California has been lost to us that we hail with delight any suggestion of the early days.

Just now there are some wonderful Spanish homes being built in Los Angeles and along with this architectural revival we'd like to see a gastronomic revival as well. How many of you treasure recipes from the early days—enchiladas, Spanish rice, tamales, tortillas, albondigas, all those hearty, satisfying dishes that are eaten with such relish in the cooler days that will soon be here? Be hospitable to the newcomers and tell them how to prepare all those delectable dishes associated with the early feasts of the Southland. They will appreciate and The Times will give prizes of $3, $2 and $1 for the best recipes. These should be in The Times office by Saturday noon, written on one side of the paper only, addressed to the Domestic Editor and with name and address following each recipe.

SANDWICHES.

More excellent sandwich recipes have been received than could possibly be published. Here are a few that sound particularly tasty beginning with an original one from 12-year-old Bethel Humphrey, 505 East Center street, Anaheim. The young lady calls it a—

Chocolate Nut Sandwich.

Four heaping teaspoons of sweetened cocoa, enough water and milk to make paste; add ½ cupful of chopped almond or walnuts spread on buttered slices of brown bread.

Picnic Sandwiches.

1 cup English walnut meats.
1 cup ripe olives, with stones removed.
½ dozen small carrots, raw.

Put each through a meat grinder, separately, then mix and season with salt and paprika, and two tablespoonfuls of mayonnaise dressing. Stir well and spread between thin slices of buttered white bread.

Submitted by (Miss) Eleanor M. Goodhue, 162 Calvert street, Van Nuys.

New Ham Sandwich.

¼ pound boiled ham.
6 large sweet pickles.
½ can pimentos.

Put all through food chopper, then mix with following dressing:

3 tablespoons sugar.
1 tablespoonful salt.
1 tablespoonful mustard.
1 egg.

Mix all together well, then add very slowly ½ cup oil, ½ cup vinegar.

All vinegar may be used if desired. Cook until thick. When cool use about half and mix with the other ingredients. Spread on thin buttered slices of bread. Place a lettuce leaf between slices if desired. Delicious and unusual. Makes about two dozen small sandwiches. Mrs. J. G. Woolery, 716 North Coronado street.

Meat Sandwich.

Put 1 pound of round steak, 1 onion, medium size, ½ spoon salt and pepper mixed through food chopper with a raw egg added. To chopped ingredients add ½ cup of cold water and 1 cup bread crumbs. Form into loaf, then bake in oven. When cold slice and place between buttered or peanut buttered bread. A lettuce leaf may be added if desired. Result—A satisfying, nourishing and inexpensive sandwich that makes a full meal.

Submitted by Mrs. Marcellus Smith, 3803 West Washington street, Los Angeles.

Windsor Sandwiches.

½ cup of butter.
½ cup finely chopped cold boiled ham.
½ cup finely chopped cold boiled chicken.
½ cup grated celery.
Salt and paprika.

Cream ½ cup butter, add rest of ingredients and spread mixture between thin slices of bread. Leonora McLam, 4447 Lockwood street, Los Angeles.

Combination.

Run through a meat chopper:
1 small can sweet red pimentoes.
3 sweet pickles (cucumber.)
1 cup stoned olives.
1 thin slice California cheese.

Spread on crisp lettuce between two slices of bread.

Submitted by Mrs. H. Bither, Fillmore, Cal.

Club Cheese Sandwich.

1 pound New York cream cheese, 1 teaspoon mixed mustard, 4 tablespoons vinegar, 4 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, butter size of walnut. Cream cheese and butter together, add mustard, then vinegar, Worcestershire sauce, salt, pepper. Mrs. E. Sherman, 943 North Mariposa avenue.

Deviled Sandwich.

Chop hard-boiled eggs with herring, equal parts. Herring, salted and smoked; must be best brand. No old or over-salted or dried-out fish will do. Season if necessary with salt, pepper, mustard. Mrs. M. Petersen, Route 2, Box 400, Los Angeles.

A DIFFERENT WAY OF PICKLING CUCUMBERS

Take whole, unpared cucumbers, and pour a good brine over them; let stand over night; in the morning pour off brine and cover again with fresh brine, and let stand over night. Cover for the third night with a hot brine; next morning put cucumbers and brine on and heat well, then cool. Slice them fine (throw away brine.) Make a pickle of one cup sugar, one pint vinegar, whole cinnamon and cloves and allspice; heat and pour over slices, repeat this for three succeeding days; then heat all together, and bottle.—Mrs. Charles C. Bell, Artesia, Cal.

TOO MUCH MUSTARD.

Through some inadvertence the recipe for Pepper Confetti, in The Times, September 17, calls for two tablespoons each of mustard and salt instead of two teaspoons of each. While the larger amount would probably not spoil the taste of the confetti with a salad, it might destroy the colors.

HOME MILLINERY LEADS THE WORLD.

Trips to Europe by millinery buyers are deplored in an editorial in the "The American Milliner."

"The American millinery market," says the editorial, "has assumed an extraordinary leadership in the millinery affairs of the world.

"The tyles originated and produced by our own clever and capable designers are exactly suited to the needs of the smart dressers of this country.

"The 1919 fall models are rich with beauty and charm, classic conceptions of shapes, materials, colors, trimmings.

"And we have only just begun to produce. Our designers are only just now breaking the shackles and striking out in the realms of originality, unrestricted and unafraid.

"The future of American millinery is golden with anticipation and promise.

"Why go to Europe?

"Reports from the other side are not encouraging. Letters, cables, returning tourists tell of chaotic conditions, of strikes, scarcity of materials, increased costs and absolute lack of new things. A nation burdened with war problems is evidently in no mood at present to create inspired styles. Our most kindly and sympathetic feelings cannot overlook this fact. And yet, all the difficulties of restricted production, high costs, delayed shipments would count for naught, but—we must have new ideas.

"The American millinery market is thoroughly able this season to supply fully and completely all the demands for high-lass smart, original millinery."

Was Too Stout.

"Why won't I do?" demanded the lady of 300 pounds displacement, as she indignatly waved the want ad section in his face. "Didn't you advertise for a stout woman to do housework?"

Can you tell a fresh egg from a STORED egg?

Most people are very sure. Particularly housewives.

Do you know what a "KS"-ed egg is?—a BLANCO?

The best merchants in Los Angeles handle them—BLANCOS.

They are eggs that one can place faith in—eggs that one may open with confidence—and serve with pride—BLANCOS.

And "KS"-ed eggs are BLANCO eggs—that is, they have been handled under the "KS" system—in other words, been handled in a new, hygienic way. They are perfect eggs to begin with—and retain their perfection—only an expert can tell the difference.

Every BLANCO egg is pure white—is carefully selected by the "KS" system—candled before and candled when it comes out.

They cook like fresh eggs—this includes poaching, the hardest test for an egg to stand—BLANCOS.

Every BLANCO egg in the dozen proves faithful to your confidence in it.

And BLANCO eggs save you from eight to ten cents a dozen.

WINTER FASHIONS.

The winter will bring us a bit more change in fashion than we have had in some years, says the fashion editor in the September Good Housekeeping.

Once again clothes become of great interest, with many occasions on which to wear them. Some points are already quite definite. Skirts, for instance, will be a trifle longer—not long but still not quite so short as those of last season. The waist line will be more marked. Frocks will be either girdled at the waist line or at the top of the hips, or the corsage will be attached to the skirt at that point, the corsage breaking in little folds about the waist with each movement of the wearer.

Evening frocks with panniers below rather close-fitting corsages will be worn next season. And these panniers are enormous, the skirts being widely distended at the sides and remaining flat at the front and back. However, for street wear a milder variety of pannier may be expected.

PUNCHLESS PUNCH.

There are many drinks the foundation of which is a fruit syrup which may be kept prepared for unexpected occasions.

Wash any desired fruit such as currants, raspberries, grapes or plums, and drain. The fruit should be well, but not over ripened. Extract the juice by presing in fruit press or by cooking in a little water as in making jelly. Strain this juice through a flannel jelly bag, measure and boil ten minutes in an enamel kettle. Add one-half cup of sugar for each quart of juice and boil five minutes, skimming carefully. This syrup may be set away in a cool place where it will keep for several days, or be sealed while hot.

Cherry Punch (with syrup)—One quart cherry syrup, juice of one orange and one lemon. Dilute with water if the flavor is too strong, and sweeten with a plain syrup made of white sugar and water, if not sufficiently sweet. Set on ice until very cold and place in punch bowl just before serving. Add some candied mint leaves or preserved cherries. Have a bowl of chopped ice and place a spoonful in each glass as served. Placing a large piece of ice in the punch bowl dilutes the punch.

Cherry Punch (without syrup)—To a quart of cherry juice as pressed from the fruit add two cups of sugar, add the juice of an orange and a lemon. Blend this thoroughly, add more sugar if necessary, and chill. Before serving add a pint of shredded pineapple.

Iced Tea—To one and one-half pints of sugar add one pint of water and cook until it spins a thread when dropped from the end of a spoon. Have ready one pint of strong tea; four good teaspoons of tea is the amount generally required. When done, pour over the tea from which the leaves have been strained. After cooling, add one cup of orange juice and the juice of one lemon. Serve very cold, with fresh or candied mint leaves, and thinnest slices of lemon.

Iced Cocoa—This is made with a syrup which may be kept several days on ice. For a measure of cocoa, use two of sugar and of water. Boil until it begins to thicken into a syrup and remove from the fire. When ready to serve, place in punch bowl and dilute with a pint or a little more water for each quart of cocoa and flavor with vanilla. Serve a generous amount of whipped cream in each glass.

Currant Punch—This can be made using the uncooked juice with sugar by diluting currant syrup, or by using the uncooked juice and water to taste. That made from the syrup has a richer color and is of surpassing flavor. Serve with a marshmallow in each glass.

Peach Nectar—To a quart of peach syrup add the juice of one large orange. Dilute with water if too thick. Have ready a bowl of whipped cream. Serve the punch in tall, slender glasses with a spoonful of cream.

EXCLUSIVE BLOUSE OF LINEN, HAND MADE.

The blouse exclusive for the midsummer is a dainty affair of sheer, fine handkerchief line, exquisitely fashioned and beautified with hand needlework. The models that have come over from Paris show tiny hand stitches in all seams, hemstitchings, veinings, fagotings—all done by hand—and buttonholes just big enough to fit over the smallest "lace" buttons ordinarily used on baby wear.

These new handkerchief linen blouses are very simple in line, their wonderful fineness and daintiness are the chief feature. A few of them are trimmed with narrow filet crechet or real Irish crochet and others have inset bands and motifs of real filet encircled with designs in hand embroidery. But the plainer models are really more distinguished; and these have tiny hand-run tucks, sometimes criss-crossing in plaid effect; and hand hemstitched collar and cuffs. A graceful model has a shallow round yoke at the top of the blouse and is attached to this yoke with groups of tiny pin tucks—as a baby's little slip is made. The bishop sleeves are gathered into hand tucked and hemstitched wristbands which have small buttonholes through which narrow black ribbon is tied in crisp bows. This blouse fastens at the back with the little lace buttons and fairy buttonholes.

Handkerchief linen of the sheer, beautiful Irish weave is used for these blouses and there is a daintiness and a distinction about this handkerchief linen never possessed by even the finest batiste. Now that linens are obtainable again the sheer handkerchief weave is in especial demand.

CANNING LEFT-OVERS AS MIXED VEGETABLES.

[Department of Agriculture.]

Mixed vegetables are attractive and economical in salads, omelets, escalloped dishes and to use as garnishes for meat dishes. If the small quantities left from packing different vegetables whole are placed in one can, many desirable combinations can be made. A good combination during the spring season is young carrots, peas, string beans and young onions. A mixture which the fall garden might furnish is peppers, celery, onions and small lima beans. Do not use beets in such combinations, because they will discolor the mixture.

All the vegetables are prepared separately as for canning and packed in layers in a well-boiled jar, according to United States Department of Agriculture specialists. Each layer should be packed as tightly as possible before the next is added. Fill jars with a brine. Put on boiled top and rubber. Process in water-bath canner either 120 minutes one day or one hour on three successive days, or thirty-five minutes in steam-pressure cooker under fifteen pounds pressure.

Corn and Tomatoes Good.

Corn and tomatoes make a good combination to can. The resulting product is served as a vegetable dish. Blanch fresh corn on the cob five minutes, dip for an instant in cold water and cut from the cob. Scald tomatoes from thirty to sixty seconds and dip in cold water. Remove the skin and core. Chop tomatoes into medium-seized pieces. Mix thoroughly two parts of tomatoes with one part of corn. Pack the mixture in hot glass jars, add a level teaspoon of sugar and one-half teaspoon of salt to a quart. Fill jars with hot water. Put on boiled top and rubber and process 120 minutes in water-bath canner one day or one hour on each of three successive days, or thirty-five minutes in steam-pressure cooker under fifteen pounds pressure.

A corn, tomato and string bean combination is made by using one part of corn, one part of green string beans and three parts of tomatoes. The corn is blanched, dipped in cold water and cut from the cob. The string beans are cut into covenient lengths and blanched for five minutes. The tomatoes are blanched from thirty to sixty seconds and cold-dipped. Remove the skin and core of the tomatoes and cut into medium-sized pieces. Mix the three vegetables thoroughly and pack the mixture in hot glass jars. Add a level teaspoon of sugar and one-half teaspoon of salt, and fill jar with hot water. Put on boiled top and rubber and process in water-bath canner either 120 minutes one day or one hour on three successive days, or thirty-five miutes in steam-pressure cooker under fifteen pounds pressure.

Concentrated Soup Recommended.

An excellent concentrated vegetable soup can be made from any desired mixture of vegetables. A tasteful combination to can consists of one quart of concentrated tomato pulp (tomatoes boiled down until thick) one pint corn, or tiny lima beans, one pint okra, and four teaspoons of sugar and salt mixture—made by mixing sugar and salt in the proportion of 1-3 salt to 2-3 sugar.

To make the tomato pulp, cook together three quarts of sliced tomatoes, one small chopped onion and ½ cup chopped sweet red pepper. Put through a sieve and remove seeds and skin. Return strained pulp to kettle and cook down to about the consistency of catsup. Measure, add the corn or beans and okra which have been prepared as for canning with seasoning. Cook altogether for ten minutes and pack hot into jars which have been previously boiled fifteen minutes. Put on boiled top and cleansed rubber, partially seal and place on false bottom in water-bath canner with water to cover.

If the single-period continuous method of processing is followed, boil for at least two hours. If the intermittent boiling process is used, boil for one hour on each of three successive days. Before each subsequent boiling, the covers must be loosened and after each boiling the covers must be securely tightened again to make sealing complete.

Processing under steam pressure is recommended. Quart jars should be processed thirty five minutes under fifteen pounds pressure. On removal tighten the tops, invert to test for leaks, and when cool put in a dry, dark, cool place.

WHAT TO DO WHEN WIFEY GOES AWAY.

The average domesticated man is a lost soul when wifey goes away. Here are a few household hints from Nuggets:

Dishwashing is the bane of the temporary widower's existence. A very popular plan is to use up all the clean dishes in the house, then stack them neatly on the fire escape and pray for rain.

There are ways in which one may keep from becoming too lonely. After a man has been a summer widower for five or six seasons he begins to tumble to them. Many a man who is a reasonably good poker player has been able to keep his wife at the resort an extra month.

If the eggs stick to the bottom of the skillet, open the dumb waiter, turn the skillet upside down and bang it vigorously against the bottom of the door frame. If the janitor looks up the dumb-waiter shaft he does so at his own peril. Janitors are snoopy individuals, anyhow.

Don't remove a milk bottle cap by jabbing it with your thumb. If you do, all the cream will enter your right eye, and the remaining milk will drape itself over your shirt front.

The hardened summer widower can eat boiled eggs three times a day, and for variety can piece out on bananas and doughnuts. However, it is best to go to a restaurant once a day and get measured for a square meal.

If you sleep on the davenport you won't have to make up the bed all summer long.

The way to sweep a floor is to push the carpet sweeper ahead of you, like a lawn mower, and not pull it behind you like an express wagon. When the carpet sweeper is full and won't hold any more sweepings, put it away in the closet until the wife comes home.

As for the laundry, you're out of luck if you don't live near a good gents' furnishing store.

After all the towels, bed sheets and tablecloths have been used, the thing to do is to go to a good hotel.

SOME HELPFUL HINTS FOR JELLY MAKERS.

In making jelly a bag cheesecloth of about the same capacity as the kettle you are using will be found a convenience. Put it in your preserving kettle, and put the fruit in the bag, just as you would put it in the empty kettle. A good way to hang the bag to the kettle is to use the spring clothespins. Lift the bag occasionally while the fruit is cooking, to be sure it does not stick to the bottom. When the fruit is cooked lift the bag out and hang it where the juice will drip all night. The next day make the jelly as usual.

An old-fashioned rule for testing jelly, to see if it has cooked sufficiently, is to try it with a spoon. If it runs off the spoon in one straight stream it has not cooked long enough; but if it runs off in two drops, side by side, it may safely be taken off the fire.

To clear juice of clear jelly skim the fruit juice, as it boils, into a fine sieve, using a silver spoon. The clear juice will go through into the kettle, while the scum will remain.

PARTIES AND PUNCH.

Some Combinations that will Add to the Success of Any Gathering.

These delectable recipes were received too late last week to compete in our beverage contest, but we're sure that our readers will want to try them next time they entertain. The first one is a recipe handed down for three generations and comes to us from Mrs. Marden of Riverside. She says her family calls it—

Famous Fruit Punch.

One pineapple or one can grated pineapple, three cups boiling water, one cup of tea freshly made, juice of five lemons, juice of six oranges, five quarts of water, one pint of strawberry, currant or grape juice, one bottle of charged apollinaris water, one quart of sugar (or three cups sugar syrup.)

Grate the pineapple, boil with the three cups boiling water, twenty minutes or a little longer, strain through a jelly bag, pressing out all the juice; let cool, and add the rest of the fruit juice, the tea and syrup. If sugar be used, add to it a pint of water, boil six or eight minutes and cool before using. Add the apollinaris water just before serving; make the punch a few hours before ready to use, then let it stand, closely covered, on ice to chill and ripen. When ready to serve, add the water and the apollinaris. Garnish with strawberries, mint leaves or slices of bananas.

Mrs. Marden also sends us another delicious recipe called—

Pomona Punch.

Two cups canned apple juice or cider, juice of one orange, juice of one lemon, one quart canned apricots, one cup sugar, one cup water. Rub apricots through a coarse sieve. To them add the sugar and water boiled together for ten minutes. When cool, add the other fruit juices; let stand two hours to ripen, and dilute with ice water; or serve in punch glasses, half-filled with crushed ice and accompanied by straws. (This makes twenty small punch glasses.)

Grape Juice Punch.

Make a rich syrup, allowing a pound of sugar to two quarts of water. Cook ten or fifteen minutes, then cool. Add a quart grape juice, the juice of four lemons and two oranges and as much fruit sliced. Lemons, oranges, pineapples, peaches, berries, cherries, or white grapes cut in halves, as desired. Pour over the punch bowl as the ice melts, add more of the syrup and grape juice, preserving the same proportions. Mrs. E. S. McInnis, 2009 North Commonwealth, Los Angeles.

HOME-BREWED DRINKS AT MINIMUM COST.

The accompanying recipes which were received too late for consideration last week will be appreciated by those who would enjoy concocting new beverages but are handicapped by lack of cellars and storage space. The receiver who furnished them says: "These are valuable because they can be made by persons living in flats or single rooms where no apparatus or storage facilities are available. The cost is small and the beverages are ready for use within a few days."

Lemon Beer.

In a small keg put 1 sliced lemon; 1 tablespoonful of ginger; 1 pint yeast; 1 gallon water. In twenty-four hours will be ready for use. If drawn off in bottles, tie corks down.

Artificial Cider.

Dissolve one pound of sugar in one quart warm water. Add 1-2 ounce tartaric acid and 2 tablespoonfuls good yeast. Put in gallon jug and shake well. Then fill with cool water. Let stand twelve hours uncorked and it is ready for use.

Corn Beer.

In a small keg put ten gallons of water, 4 quarts of molasses, 2 quarts ground or crushed corn. Shake well. Let it stand 4 days and it will be ready for use. It should be kept tightly closed.

Orange Cordial.

In two and three-fourths gallons of water dissolve eight ounces of sugar by gentle heat. Press out juice of fifteen oranges and add to the syrup together with the rinds. Put all in cask and keep in a warm place four days. Then close cask and stand in cool place five days, after which it is ready to draw off and bottle.

BUSINESS WOMEN AT HOME.

To be able to successfully accomplish the double duty of bread winner and home maker demands, first of all, system. A place for everything, and everything always where it belongs—no mild hunt for a missing utensil or misplaced article when you've an inelastic half hour to finish breakfast and catch your car.

After system comes the use of every labor-saving device possible to your pocketbook. But be sure they are labor-saving ones. Some are so complicated that they're like having elaborate office systems, it takes all the time to care for the system and leaves no time for business. But there can be no question about the value of vacuum cleaners, electric irons, fireless cookers—they're all time and labor savers, and now that they can be purchased on the installment plan their cost need not deter the home maker from saving strength and time by their use.

Establish the habit of keeping clean after getting clean. Take care of each utensil as soon as you have finished it. A cake of scouring soap over the sink will keep stains from cutlery. A bit of steel wool keeps kettles, and skillets free from rust—and better than the steel wool is a new preparation combining steel wool and scouring soap. A whisk of this and your aluminum ware is shining, your burned kettle is clean and your cooking dishes are as spotless as you china.

Dishwashing loses its terrors in the modern kitchenette, anyway. Apartment houses usually have an abundance of hot water, so no dishpan is necessary. A wire dish drain takes its place. Get one of the wire soap dishes that stretch from one faucet to another. Besides the soap and the steel wool this will hold a dish mop. Hang a roll of paper toweling convenient to your sink. It will aid you in doing away with the old and unsightly and usually greasy dishcloths. A scrap of it wipes any excessive grease from the plates, which under the hot water from the faucet are quickly washed. The rack is filled, lifted into the sink and the scalding water turned over the dishes. They are then set aside to drain and when lifted out are as dry and shiny as if dried and polished with a cloth. The glasses and silver should be wiped with a tea towel. A rubber sink stopper converts the sink into a pan when pots and kettles need washing with soapy water. The dish mop makes it unnecessary to put your hands into the suds and the dishwashing is accomplished quickly without greasy dishwater, unwholesome dish cloths or soiled hands. Cotton crepe makes very serviceable dish towels. They give a fine polish to glassware, are non-linty, do not need to be ironed and they are as inexpensive as any material you can buy.

If your silver is discolored by egg stains, a bit of table salt will remove the stains and save polishing.

There are many satisfactory silver-cleaning pans on the market which do away with the old-time drudgery of polishing the silver, but lacking one of these special devices a satisfactory substitute for silver that is not badly tarnished is to put it in an aluminum pan filled with boiling salt water and leave it there to boil for a few minutes. It can then be easily polished by rubbing with a piece of chamois cloth.

Chamois cloth is a most satisfactory article to use for polishing. It makes an excellent window cleaner and is not expensive, as it lasts such a long time. Linen cloths should never be used to clean mirrors or windows, as they shed lint and often cause streaks. Chamois cloth can also be used to take white marks from a polished wood surface. Dampen it with cedar oil and rub vigorously.

Hammel, 302 South Reno street, will be held at 9 a.m. tomorrow at Pierce Bros. chapel, Eighth and Flower streets. The body will be shipped to Lake Valley for burial.

SEEK RATES AS COTTON CENTER.

Delegation Goes North for Rail Board Hearing.

Forty-Million-Dollar Output in this Territory.

If Necessary will Push City's Case at Washington.

Final preparations have been made by the Chamber of Commerce and the Harbor Commission for the hearing before the District Freight Traffic Committee of the United States Railroad Administration at San Francisco tomorrow on the application for rate adjustments which will make Los Angeles the concentrating, marketing and shipping center for all cotton grown in the California-Arizona cotton belt.

The concentration privilege being sought is calculated to move all cotton grown in California, Arizona and the Imperial Valley in Mexico to Los Angeles after it has been picked and ginned, to be graded here according to character and staple and later reshipped to the markets of the world.

Where shipments are continued from Los Angeles to eastern markets by the transcontinental railroad lines, it is intended that the local freight rates from the growing districts to Los Angeles shall be absorbed, or partly absorbed, into the transcontinental rates.

TO INSTALL COMPRESS.

Should the shipments be made by way of the Panama Canal, or across the Pacific Ocean to oriental markets, the local rates would not be absorbed in the water rates, it is understood.

For the purpose of economizing space both in rail and water shipments a high-density compress will be installed at the harbor by the harbor board. This compress is now on the way to Los Angeles and is expected to be ready for operation not later than November 1.

Because it is believed that a large volume of cotton shipments will continue to go to eastern markets in the United States by rail, facts and figures have been compiled which go to show that by making Los Angeles the chief cotton market for the Southwest the railroads would be conserving their freight-car space and car mileage and still further advancing their own interests by preparing the way for an immediate expansion of the cotton industry in the California-Arizona belt.

The value of the cotton crop in this territory in 1919 is estimated at approximately $43,000,000, an increase of about $15,000,000 over 1918.

MAY DOUBLE ACREAGE.

The total acreage harvested in 1919 is estimated at more than 250,000, and experts figure that with concentrating privileges granted to Los Angeles the acreage will be doubled next year.

The committee named to press the case at San Francisco consists of Clarence H. Matson, traffic manager of the harbor board; Watt L. Moreland, president of the Chamber of Commerce; W. S. Wheaton of the Los Angeles Pacific Navigation Company; J. E. Fishburn, president of the Merchants' National Bank; Edward M. Fowler, cotton merchant; M. G. Scott of George H. McFadden Bros., world-wide cotton buyers; K. M. Turner of Turner, Kuhn & Fraser, cotton factors, and W. P. McDevitt of the California Cotton Oil Company.

After the case is heard in San Francisco it must go to Washington for final decision, and the Chamber of Commerce is preparing to send a delegation there if need be to press for a favorable decision.

UNION AUTO STAGE DEPOT IS DEDICATED.

WEST'S FINEST STATION OF ITS KIND IS OPENED BY MAYOR SNYDER.

What is believed to be the finest union auto stage depot in the United States was formally opened at Fifth and Los Angeles streets yesterday. It was dedicated by Mayor Snyder who made an interesting talk on the progress made in the last few years in auto transportation.

The new depot is the largest of its kind in the West, and can comfortably accommodate 5000 persons a day. It is reported that in the neighborhood of 500 motor stages will leave the depot every twenty-four hours.

Regular auto stage lines to many parts of California will operate out of the depot. Practically every organized stage line in the city will make the depot its terminal and regular trips will be made to San Diego, San Francisco and the smaller towns in this section of the State.

In addition to the address by Mayor Snyder the dedication exercises were marked by a programme of music and refreshments were served.

Charity Head Indorses Fund-Raising Plan for Hospital.

A movement to purchase a motion picture machine by subscription, to be used in the County Hospital for the amusement and entertainment of chronic invalids, has met with the approval of Superintendent of Charities Martin. He yesterday indorsed the canvassing by Mrs. I. Henry Harris, wife of the local attorney; Mrs. Marian Merle Weeks and Gregory Lines, for funds for the machine. These women are deeply interested in the welfare of the hospital patients and already have solicited quite a sum for the machine. Checks should be sent to Mr. Martin at the hospital.

AS CLAIM AGENT.

William C. Fitch, freight claim agent of the Southern Pacific, yesterday announced the appointment of J. R. Nixon as assistant freight claim agent, with headquarters in San Francisco. This change is due to the fact that W. F. Whiteman, who formerly acted as assistant freight claim agent for both the Southern Pacific and Western Pacific, has resumed his duties as freight claim agent of the Western Pacific.

AVIATOR TO TRY FOR INCE PRIZE.

British Flier First to Enter Trans-Pacific Flight.

Says Long Trip Can be Made in Ten Days' Time.

Plans Call for Five Stops at Ocean Islands.

Capt. Eric Donaldson of the Eighty-second Flying Squadron, R. F.C., in the British army, is the first aviator to formally enter his name as a competitor for the prize of $50,000 offered by Thomas H. Ince for the first successful trans-Pacific flight. The prize was offered by Mr. Ince through the Federation Aeronatique, of which the Aero Club of America is the official representative in the United States. Capt. Donaldson arrived yesterday from San Francisco, where he completed arrangements with the Pacific Aero Club to enter the contest. The only conditions stipulated in Mr. Ince's offer are that the flight must be completed by the end of February, 1920, and it must be completed within 288 hours after leaving the Venice field.

Capt. Donaldson, who is an experienced aviator, has been flying for the past four years in the service of the British government. In a bombing expedition on the Lys in October, 1918, his plane was shot down, the observer being killed, and the controls shot away. He managed to land safely, but was wounded in doing so. Capt. Donaldson has made a careful study of the wind and tide conditions of the Pacific, and is confident that the flight can be made successfully. The total distance of 6400 miles he expects to make in five landings, Honolulu, Fanning Islands, Phoenix Islands, Fiji Islands, and Australia, his destination. Twelve days are allowed for the flight, but he allows himself only ten days, with a forty-eight-hour stop at Honolulu, where he will replace the ordinary landing gear of his plane with pontoons.

Yesterday Capt. Donaldson made an inspection of Ince Field at Venice, which he pronounces very good. Accompanying him were Thomas H. Ince, B. H. De Lay, manager of Ince Field; Bert Lemmon, who is conducting the contest for Mr. Ince, and Miss Violet Oliver of Venice.

At Capt. Donaldson's request, Miss Oliver has promised that between now and February she will learn to fly, so that she will be able to escort him a few miles out to sea to give him a good send-off on his long flight.

Capt. Donaldson is to leave New York for London on October 8, where he will receive his discharge from the British army. In England he will purchase the plane with which he will attempt the flight, a Sopwith, of the same type used by Harry Hawker in his unsuccessful attempt to cross the Atlantic. The plane will be shipped to Venice, where it will be assembled, and made ready for the flight. On his flight he will carry a navigator, and the plane will be equipped with a powerful wireless outfit. Leaving Venice at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, he expects to arrive at Honolulu by noon of the following day, and his plans are so arranged as to enable him to make daylight landings throughout the voyage.

Secretary Bibbero of the Pacific Aero Club has announced that preparations are well under way for the trans-Pacific flight. Several pilots have made tentative offers, but Capt. Donaldson is the first one definitely to accept the challenge. Other notable pilots are expected to enter the contest in the near future, however.

Mrs. Lavinia G. Timmons applied yesterday at the Federal Building for a passport to enable her to visit Japan, China, Hongkong and the Straits Settlement, on a pleasure trip. Giacoma Peirano, a bottling machine operator at Oxnard, asked for a passport to visit Italy, where he says he had inherited a large estate.

Niels Mogens Fleming, and his mother, Ellen Fleming, 451 South Hope street, applied for a passport to visit Cuba, Haiti, and the West Indies on pleasure. They will sail from New Orleans October 15. Mother and son were born in Sweden, but became Americans through the naturalization of their husband and father.

Mrs. Lavina G. Timmons applied for a passport to visit Tampico, and other parts of Mexico on personal business.

MARRIAGE WAS JOKE TO HER.

Unusual Story is Revealed by an Annulment Suit.

Had Two Husbands at Once, One Tells the Court.

Explains it by Saying She's "High-Grade Defective."

The remarkable story of Mrs. Vera M. Eckert came to light in Judge York's court yesterday, during the trial of the suit of Clifford R. Eckert to annul his marriage to the young woman, on the ground that at the time he married Vera, April 11, 1910, she was the wife of Charles S. Knight. Four years later, he said, he met Mr. Knight and was told by him that he had married Vera in 1907.

In his deposition, Mr. Knight stated that his wife left him on several occasions. Subsequently he found her living with Mr. Eckert, and he said she did not seem to realize she was doing wrong. In fact, she regarded the second marriage as a joke, he declared.

Mr. Knight had his wife examined by an alienist, who classed her as a supermoron. He declared her to be without moral sense, Mr. Knight testified, and, while he pronounced her incurable, she could not be confined in an institution without her consent, because she was a high-grade defective.

Mr. Eckert testified that his wife used various names, explaining it on the ground that her folks objected to her being employed as a trained nurse.

An unusual phase of this unusual case was that Mr. Eckert and Mr. Knight became friendly and both looked after her and cared for her. The decree was granted.

CONTINUES TO GAIN.

Supervisor Dodge Reported as Recovering Rapidly.

The condition of Jonathan S. Dodge, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, was reported last night at the County Hospital, as very satisfactory. He is progressing well after an operation for appendicitis. Mr. Dodge was stricken Saturday night and the operation was performed Sunday. At first it was reported that his condition after the operation was causing grave anxiety, but now he is getting along well and his physicians look for a rapid recovery.

CAME ON SUNDAY, SO IS NAMED WOODROW.

The latest Woodrow to make appearance in Los Angeles is staying at 516 Bunker Hill street for the time being. Woodrow Hart Herrick is his full name, and as he was born Sunday morning, what could be more appropriate than to name him after the visiting President of our country? Anyway, that is what Edward H. Herrick, the father of the boy, did.

WOULD FINANCE NEW BUILDING FOR ELKS.

TWO OFFERS RECEIVED FROM THOSE FAVORING SITES LOCATED DOWN TOWN.

Interest in the activities of the Los Angeles Elks committee, which will decide where the proposed $1,000,000 clubhouse is to be located, was intensified yesterday with the announcement by the group favoring the southwest corner of Eighth and Flower streets, one of the three under discussion, that a local financier had agreed to finance not only the erection of the building, but also purchase of the lot and furnishings, the whole enterprise involving an expenditure of $1,500,000. His proposal is that he will advance all necessary funds, the bonds of the Elks lodge to be accepted in payment.

Advocates of the southwest corner of Twelfth and Hill streets stated yesterday that a syndicate stands ready to accept Elks lodge bonds on the same basis. It was disclosed yesterday that the first named site has received the highest vote in the committee, the poll standing,—Eighth and Flower Sts., seventeen votes; Twelfth and Hill streets, fourteen; northwest corner of Pico and Figueroa streets, nine votes. The referendum vote now being taken and which applies to the entire lodge membership will be completed by Friday night.

MALES AND MAILS.

Looks like some lost motion when a man takes a course in memory study by mail in order to enable him to remember to mail his wife's letters.

FOR THE FINALS.

The world's series is not going to help any in reducing the high cost of living. There are to be nine games and it would take a Caruso to sing his way in. It needs $5 in real money for a good seat.

MEXICAN NEEDS.

The President intimates that so far as he knows Mexico hasn't a friend on earth. It would take more than a course of Ben Lindsey to make Mexico companionable with a League of Nations. Mexico will have to go to work and go to school before she can be respectable, and it may need an international police force to see that these upward steps are taken.

THE BEAUTY SPOT.

The cost of food in an average family of five is 20 per cent. less in Los Angeles than it is in New York, Boston or many other larger cities of the East. Incidentally the cost of fuel is also much less and there is a saving on raiment and rent. These are matters which merely accentuate the fact that Los Angeles is the most desirable city in America in which to live.

CHANGE OF HEART.

Mexican bandits blew up and looted a passenger train the other day, but the four Americans on board were neither robbed nor harmed. They were, in fact, treated with consideration and courtesy. All of which goes to show that when Uncle Sam shows an intention and an ability to safeguard his sons the word will reach through all circles, even if there is a conspicuous lack of wires.

MISJUDGING THE DEAD.

A party giving the name of Hiram Johnson, who says he is a United States Senator, declares that the heart and soul of Theodore Roosevelt would have revolted at President Wilson's League of Nations. In the first place the league is not the property of Mr. Wilson, and in the second Col. Roosevelt had spoken and written in favor of much the same thing. The Johnson statement must be taken for what it is worth—which isn't much.

GHASTLY TRAGEDIES OF NICOTINE.

In his careless, confident way the smoker goes on. He is calmly obtuse to the frightful fate which is before him. Perhaps he hasn't even read the medical advertisements in which a warning is sounded. What happens to the man who warms up a stogie? According to the veiled prophet he takes his choice of these trifles: General debility, catarrh, indigestion, constipation, nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of memory, lack of will power, heart disease, bronchitis, hardening of the arteries, blindness, tuberculosis and cancer. He can't have all of them, but maybe two or three. Men who have smoked for sixty or seventy years do not seem to comprehend that they are taking their lives in their hands every time they hit the pipe. But if they will not save themselves the man who assembles patent medicines will do it for them. He will slip a dose of nictozone or some other life-saver into their coffee and in a few years they will forget their slavery to a noxious weed and will have the clear eye and amiable brain of a child. Let the smoker get ready to be smoked out.

AUTHOR, AUTHOR!

There was once a newspaper man in London who loved his fellow-men. It gave him pleasure to meet 'em anywhere, in Limehouse or in Piccadilly. He was just as much at home in the "Elephant and Castle" as he was in the Savoy restaurant. He went around the 'alls and hobnobbed with all sorts and conditions of men and women. And how he could write. He told a little story about a Chinaman and his love for a white girl. And then along came a motion-picture director who saw that it was good. He took that story and converted it into a silver sheet wonder. But he was no greater than the man who had the idea and who put it down on paper. Yet when the critics of the Los Angeles papers came to review the "film epic," as they called it, one, who devoted two columns to "Griffith's Greatest Picture," didn't even mention the name of the author, Thomas Burke, while another wrote as if Mr. Griffith was responsible for the story. Mr. Griffith certainly is entitled to abundance of praise for his notable production, but surely it is not fair entirely to overlook the author. Few, if any, men know London, and particularly certain sections of the "Modern Babylon," better than Thomas Burke, and certainly "Broken Blossoms" could never have been produced if years ago Burke had not prowled about Limehouse, Whitechapel, the Isle of Dogs and other sections of London with which it is safe to say he is better acquainted than all the motion-picture producers in the world combined. Yet not even in the advertisements is Mr. Burke given credit as the author

NAUSEATED WITH STRIKES.

One of the encouraging developments of the reconstruction period is the growing disgust of the great body of the American public for strikes and sabotage. Daily the path of the walking delegate is becoming more beset with thorns. The maudlin sympathy that was once bestowed on those out on strike has been replaced with a sterner feeling that every striker is a slacker, if he is not indeed a radical red trying to put into effect that device of the soviets, "This week we pay; next week we take."

Wages of workmen are higher than at any other period in modern history. The general public knows that there is work for every able-bodied citizen, especially if he be one who has learned a trade. He can command good pay, and the product of his labor is needed to replace what the war has destroyed. So workmen who go out on strike to enforce some demand that has nothing to do with hours and working conditions arouse a feeling of resentment in place of sympathy. There have been many strikes attempted during the last six months and the public has suffered much from them, with the result that THOSE FOMENTING STRIKES AND VIOLENCE HAVE COME TO BE GENERALLY REGARDED AS UNDESIRABLE CITIZENS.

Agitators have carried the game too far; and a point has been reached where every new strike is more unpopular than the one before. Workmen themselves have tired of them and the public has become nauseated from the overdose. Strikes mean waste; and waste means higher prices for food and clothing. The Times recently pointed out how a longshoremen's strike in San Francisco had increased the price of butter 10 cents a pound in Los Angeles. The blow fell heaviest on the families of the working classes. The agitators have fomented strikes as a blow at what they term "capital;" but the strikes run counter to economic law, something no government can repeal or modify, which so diverts them that they fall most heavily on the poor, on those who have the least to lose. The class at which they are aimed suffers least. In the country there are about 5,000,000 members of all labor unions and at least 30,000,000 independent workmen. The so-called "capitalist class" does not number more than 500,000. Whenever strikes and sabotage are resorted to the cost of living is forced upwards; the 35,000,000 suffer through an attempt to reach a few members of the 500,000. The fallacy of such a system is self-evident.

II.

THE TIMES is convinced that the great body of the American public is composed of sensible, reasoning men and women. War has taught them to rely only on realities, has convinced them of the danger of following phrase-making demagogues. It has taught them to think correctly; and one of the first uses they are making of their wider knowledge of industrial affairs is to frown on those who preach that enforced idleness can better the conditions of the workers.

Education is a valuable solvent for industrial disturbances. Sovietism succeeded in getting a foothold in Russia because the Russian population is admittedly the most illiterate of all the white populations of the world. The working classes were not sufficiently educated to detect the economic errors in the political and industrial systems that the Bolsheviki proposed. Anarchy has won a temporary victory in Mexico because it has been applied to an illiterate population, to men and women who have not received sufficient education to distinguish between good governments and bad ones. Ignorance is easy to deceive. A person who doesn't know what he needs is not very likely to ask for it.

But education is too generally diffused in this country for the general public to consent to the overturning of American institutions. It would be an insult to American intelligence to attempt to argue seriously the proposition of nationalizing women, destroying the wealth and works of art of the country and turning the industries over to bodies of workmen unlearned in organization, finance and commerce to manage. Our people possess too high a culture to be led into such error. In this country, where the children of mechanics are graduated from the highest universities, where the family life is made the foundation of the State, where the people themselves have not suffered in a hundred years from political misrule or economic slavery—in such a country there is slight prospect that the people will consent to tear down a civilization that has been thousands of years in building, on the rare chance of establishing something superior in the ruins. They ask at least that the proposed Utopian society shall be somewhere established and in good working order before they venture to give it a test here.

III.

THE average American workman knows of his own observation and experience that the trades unions of the country have fallen largely under the control of extremists who have neither knowledge nor regard for the organizations themselves, but who seek to make use of the membership to spread the gospel of discontent which is itself to be used as an excuse to foment revolution. The steel strike is in the hands of radical leaders, some of whom are known to be affiliated with the I.W.W. The steel workers themselves knew this and only a small minority of the workmen consented to lay down tools at the order of the radicals.

There is little real menace in the attitude of the railroad brotherhoods. They will never succeed in tyrannizing the country because the force of public opinion is irrevocably set against them. The American public would see every mile of railway in the country abandoned before they would consent to submit to such tyranny. The soviet idea will not make headway in this country; the tyranny of the closed shop will not be enforced on American industry; the dreams of the union-labor radicals will not materialize; NONE OF THESE THINGS CAN COME TO PASS SO LONG AS THE PEOPLE THEMSELVES ARE AWAKE TO THEIR OWN INTERESTS.

All the great civilizations of the past have been destroyed by some form of tyranny, a thing that was made possible by the apathy of the masses. A civilization that slumbers perishes; a people that fails to keep awake to its own interests soon loses its place in the forward march of human progress. There are Benedict Arnolds in American industry, in the labor unions themselves. Their opportunity for betraying the general public can be frustrated only by wakeful opposition. It may seem to some that The Times harps too often on this subject, that the red menace is largely a creature of the imagination. If they would acquaint themselves with what is actually going on in the political and industrial world they would discover that SENTINEL DUTY IS NECESSARY to protect the majority from a small but organized minority of fanatics and radicals who would hail with joy the collapse of the American republic, because it would give them an opportunity to experiment with their imagination.

Speaking of Miracle Men—

FOREST FIRE PROBLEMS.

Finally it has happened.

It has been clear to the mind of every mountaineer that some day a terrible conflagration would break out in the forest reserves and sweep the watersheds.

At this time no one can accurately gauge the appetite of this roaring monster of flame; but it seems apparent that the worst fire in the recent history of Southern California is being burned into the records.

With these great valleys now thickly populated a severe forest fire is not to be viewed with the complacency of former years. To say the least, the fire now raging must inevitably lower to a material degree the water supply of this region in summer as well as increase the flood danger of the winters. The harbor is threatened with silt invasion; the fertile valleys of Los Angeles county and their products are threatened; the city itself is menaced. Great remedial measures, such as check dams in the mountains to hold back winter floods or spread them over the sands, are demanded at once as a result of this calamity of flame.

Although the present outlook seems rather hopeless, the fire will be extinguished somehow or other. The real problem is not so much how to put the fire out; but how to keep this disaster from happening again.

The government has no adequate way of dealing with the fierce fire problems of the Southern California mountains.

The Angeles Forest Reserve, through which this fire is now raging, consists of 1,159,663 acres. It is one of the wonderlands of the world. Deer, grouse, quail, trout, wild game of many sorts lurk in its canyons.

It is in fact a vast mountain playground at the doors of a great city—such a game park as foreign noblemen cherish, but open to the public of Southern California.

Nearly a thousand persons have little summer homes in its confines, hunting lodge sites being leased from the government at nominal figures. The city of Los Angeles has a great municipal summer camp, while dozens of public resorts flourish in this little summer paradise—not so little, either—being over one hundred miles long by forty miles wide.

Not in all the world is there another tract of land which has offered so much pleasure to the people of small means. Yosemite and Yellowstone Park are wonderlands, too; but it takes a lot of time and money to get there. The great Angeles Forest Reserve is within walking distance of the heart of the city. Trolley cars take you to the portals of this wilderness.

More than 350,000 people visited it in 1916, by the records of the Department of Agriculture. The number has no doubt increased materially since that year.

These facts suggest two conclusions; one is that fires will be next to impossible to prevent with this great horde of people trekking through the wastes every year. Among them must inevitably be some careless boneheads who do not take proper fire precautions.

On the other hand, the facts seem to shut out the oft-suggested idea of closing up the reserves and keeping the public out altogether.

True, there are strong reasons behind this suggestion. Two immense power plants, developing 87,000,000 k.w.h. annually, are dependent upon the streams from this watershed for their power. Millions of dollars' worth of citrus fruit in the garden valleys below is also dependent upon the trees of the Angeles reserve to hold back its irrigation supply.

Primarily there seem to be urgent reasons for keeping the public out altogether and shutting up the precious water supply which means life to so many towns and cities. On the other hand, it seems unthinkable to deprive the people of the enjoyment of this wonderland because a few fools can't be trusted with matches.

As a matter of practical administration it would not be possible to keep the public out if the government so wished, inasmuch as only sixteen rangers guard the whole reserve.

But the fact remains that as long as picnickers roam the mountain reserves there will be fires.

Ordinarily no one gets into the remote fastnesses of mountains except experienced woodsmen. But so close is this forest to Los Angeles that the clerks in the shops may quit at Saturday noon and be in the wilderness before sunset.

A city-bred man loose with a match in a canyon, whose dry vegetation is like tinder, presents rather an appalling problem.

IN UNION SLAVERY.

There is nothing in the world quite so narrow and selfish as a labor union. According to the voices of its leadership a "loyal" union man cannot work under the same roof or sit at the same table save with a fellow member. If the churches were as particular no Methodist would go to heaven unless the place were thoroughly Wesleyized and all Baptists and Presbyterians driven out. If the business world were as exacting no merchant would sell a pound of tea unless the buyer exhibited the button of the Consumers' Union.

The clannishness has now reached that stage where the unions are stepping on one another's feet. In some occupations rival unions are springing up. There are a lot of soft snaps in union leadership and a lot of noisy or ambitious agitators may be after the same job. If they don't get what they want they will try to organize something of their own. The paid organizers have the finest kind of a snap for this type of man—or at last did have until prohibition went into effect. They sat where the foam was at its foamiest and didn't have much to do except count the goats as they passed.

There are half a dozen unions related to the theatrical business that are so much in one another's way that they are kicking shins. Likewise in other lines there is growing confusion and a doubling up into discord. If this thing keeps on we will presently have the Blonde Typewriter Queens as aggressive rivals of the Amalgamated Brunette Stenographers. A corporation would have to have its office girls all of one hue or else there would be trouble. For that matter, there would be trouble, anyhow. If the boss hired all blondes the brunettes would picket the place as unfair and throw rocks through the windows after the manner of the male of the species.

They call them labor unions because the leaders do not labor if they can help it. They have to devote their time to the strike. They don't care so much for the eight-hour day as they do for the sixteen-hour strike. And how selfish they are about it. They will neither work themselves nor permit anybody else to work. At that, they won't have any but their own kind in the room. One prominent citizen says he thinks the leaders are so clannish because they smell bad and are justifiably jealous of their own perfume.

But it is funny how the followers get to be almost proud of their nose rings. They don't care so much for the job or the wife or the family, but, oh, you button!

Once they fancied the Union put down slavery, but it wasn't a patch to the union slavery of today.

Where are the girls who were to return to the kitchens after the conclusion of the war work, as was predicted? Where are they? Not in the kitchens; and trades and professions utilizing female help are unable to locate them. Perhaps, like Francois Villon's girls, "The wind has blown them all away." They can't all be in the movies.

The national Prohibitionists declare they will continue to function. But a man's cellar is his castle, or words to that effect. The long-hairs should have a care.

ENGLISH SCOFFER AT OUR DROUGHT.

A Witty Satire on the American Rage for Prohibition.

BY C. B. OSBORN.
In the London Morning Post.

America has been dry for two months and some of the consequences of preferring to be sober rather than free are now more or less clearly apparent. One had a distressing vision of 100,000,000 American citizens, all "naturally born free," according to the preamble of their written Constitution (which now has as many holes in it as a Gruyere cheese,) living through the hottest season of the year with their tongues, and even the tabs of their boots, thirstily hanging out at full length. It is not altogether a true picture. America is not yet bone-dry. The wealthy man can still drink as much "hard" stuff as he likes at home. There are plutocrats in New York and other cities, both great and small, who have hundreds of barrels of whisky and other staunch liquor stored up in the cellars of their brown-stone residences. A New York journal gives a list as follows of the effects of prohibition in the metropolis:

It is impossible to buy whisky unless you have money.

Scotch and cocktails are served in coffee-cups.

"Sherry" is the new trade name for ardent spirits.

The large hotels are keeping strictly to the law, but there is always a place near by.

One restaurant, which made a specialty of wines, is losing $1000 a day.

At one restaurant cocktails may be had in the telephone booth.

Free lunch has been re-established on an elaborate scale.

The savings banks report business about normal.

A leading pawnbroker notes a slight improvement.

Domestic strife as revealed in the Domestic Relation Courts continues without armistice.

Bellevue Hospital reports an increase of cases in the psychopathic ward for July, 1919, over July, 1918. Other hospitals note little change.

Generally speaking, then, the drought which has been imposed on a population that was never directly consulted has the aspect of a Puritanical imposture. We are supposed to be a nation of hypocrites—but America can beat us at the game of hypocritical look-see as easily as a first-rate professional team from New York or Chicago could out-shout and out-play a side of cricketers at baseball. In the course of a single year some 30,000 acts, many of them enforcing dictates of a sky-high morality, are placed upon the statute books of the various sovereign States in the Union. But barely 1 per cent. of these acts will ever be carried out, or, for that matter, were ever intended to be carried out. Prohibition, if we judge it by the intentions of the men who prohibit and the men who are prohibited, is the most sublime and the most ridiculous of all these legislative impostures.

Mr. William H. Anderson, who has been chiefly responsible for bringing about the great American drought, has been interviewed by the Forum (New York.) Mr. Anderson lays it down that there is no such thing as personal liberty, which is a remarkable thing for an American citizen to say, and requires no comment. Asked if the churches thought that light wine and beer affected a man's religion, he gave a qualified affirmative, asserting "that it is wrong for a man to drink alcoholic liquor as a beverage, because he thereby defiles his body as a temple of the Holy Spirit." He promises to finance a world-wide campaign against the cup of kindness which you and I take at times; the whole planet is to be governed by his pussy-foot soviets. But I do not think he will find Englishmen as easily deprived of personal liberty as his American compatriots, and should he try to preach his cocoa-Bolshevism over here, I think he will get a kick from John Bull's sturdy booted leg which will land him back in the middle of his own thirsty continent.

Prohibition has had some curious commercial effects. Picture theaters and ice-cream parlors are doing a vastly-increased business. Enormous numbers of appliances for making liquor are being sold; for $10 you can procure your own private still. Immigrants of wine-drinking races are flocking out of the United States; many, no doubt, will go to the Latin-American states and help to build them up into first-class powers. Vast stores of wine and spirits are being accumulated at strategic points outside United States territory—in readiness for the time when the drought breaks up and the average American is no longer compelled to drink 2.75 per cent. beer and a host of gaseous substitutes for the decent tipple he formerly consumed in moderation. A thunder of trundling kegs will echo round the world when the "wets" call the bluff of the "drys" and Mr. Anderson and his lieutenants ride out on fence-rails in tar and feathers. It is certain that these cocoa-Bolsheviks will use their temporary victory with tyrannical insolence—their next step is to abolish tobacco as has already been announced. . . . Well, I lift my glass of nocturnal port (it has a fine ruby glow in the soft light of my shaded reading lamp) and drink to the happy destiny which made me a free-born Englishman and not a poor, thirsty, cringing subject of King Anderson.

It has been figured out that the expedition of Columbus which resulted in the discovery of America only cost $7000—the average monthly stipend of an American shipbuilder under the schedule that prevailed during the war.

AIN'T IT JUST SO?

THREL FALL.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

WEARINESS.

If you're tired, O toiling brothers, of the chores you have to do, there are forty million others who are just as tired as you. Sometimes when my back is aching and my feet are sad and sore, I remark, "It's no use making earnest efforts any more; for I'm weary of my burden, and my heart is cold as ice; and I fail to see a guerdon I consider worth the price. Oh, I'm tired of splitting kindling and I'm tired of packing coal; all the dreams I had are dwindling and my hopes are in the hole. All the jobs I do are botches and I'm weary of it all; I am tired of winding watches. I am tired of playing ball." And I look around for pity and I find to my surprise that the whole immortal city fairly swarms with weary guys.
They are tired of digging 'taters, tired of dodging the police, tired of shoeing alligators, tired of herding ducks and geese. They are weary, ever, always, tired of all this world provides; they are tired of growing galways, tired of tanning children's hides. So I'm tired of being weary when I hear the others sob; though

PROFITEER IN HADES.

Oh, the devil he sat on his great high chair; on his chair of state sat he, and he was so mad that he could not swear, which is mad in a high degree. "Now what do you mean," he said to an imp, "by letting that profiteer in? You ought to have known, you imbecile simp, he would wreck the City of Sin!" Then his tears fell down in a dismal flood as he thought of his wrecked desires, and he sadly said, "Now my name is Mud, for we'll have to put out the fires!"

"Now what is the matter?" the little imp said; "watinel is the matter-ter?" said he. "If a profiteer hasn't a place at the spread, wareinel should his residence be?"

Oh, the tears that the devil then shed were hot, so hot that they stewed his skin, as he madly said, "You ought to be shot for letting that profiteer in!" "I guess I am it," the little imp said; "I reckon I'm it no doubt, but I wish you would tell me upon the dead what in hades it's all about." "Ah me!" quoth the devil, "alas and alack! and also some oodles of woo! That derned profiteer has cornered our stack of sulphur—the fires can't go!"

But the little red imp was tickled, you bet, as he said, "It's exceedingly clear, since a profiteer never in heaven can get and now he'll be exiled from here, that he'll have to stay out in the chaos of space, in the vortex of terrible night, where only grim monsters forever have place—and you bet it'll treat the cuss right!"—[A. J. Waterhouse in Sacramento Leader.

Inherited It.

Vincent was altogether too garrulous in school to please his teachers. Such punishments as the institution allowed to be meted out were tried without any apparent effect upon the boy, until at last the headmaster decided to mention the lad's fault upon his monthly report.

So the next report to his father had these words: "Vincent talks a great deal."

Back came the report by mail duly signed, but with this written in red ink under the comment: "You ought to hear his mother."—[Chicago Daily News.

Veering Toward Home.

A man who hailed from Australia came to St. Andrews for a three months' holiday. He had a very faint idea how to play golf. Engaging a caddie, he proceeded to go around the course. When driving the first tee he knocked his ball about five yards and after that he could not take a drive without lifting the turf.

His caddie became irritated and said: "Hi, sir, whar did ye learn to play golf?"

The gentleman said: "In Australia."

"Weel, sir, if ye gang on in the way ye're daein' ye'll soon be hame."—[London Tit-Bits.

Wanted to Feel It.

An old farmer who, by hard work and parsimonious habits, had got together a little fortune, decided that the time had at length arrived when he was justified in ordering a family carriage. He went to a carriage-builder's and described in detail the kind of vehicle he wished to buy.

"Now, I suppose you want rubber tires?" said the carriage-builder.

"No, sir," replied the old farmer in tones of resentment. "My folks ain't that kind. When they're riding they want to know it."—[Weekly Scotsman.

TUNNEL SLIDE DELAYS ANGELS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEATTLE, Sept. 23.—There will be no game between Seattle and Los Angeles until Thursday. The Los Angeles team was delayed by a tunnel slide at Redding, Cal., and will not arrive until Thursday morning. Double-headers will be played Saturday and Sunday.

Then by another tall catch he saved Mausel a bad error in the fifth.

FOGGY AIR.

Forest fires in the suburbs fogged up the air considerable, and the outfielders acted as though handicapped by cinders lodging in their eyes. Ashes were falling freely much of the time, and some of the tourists present seemed to think that the town was being bombarded by a volcano. The town has been so thoroughly smudged that there is no fear of a killing frost inside the city for the next few days. Through the smoke the sun looked like the moon with a heat on, and caused some of the outfielders to think that the universe in general had been thrown out of gear.

However, these things did not displease the bugs. It is not often that the bugs get a ball game and the fumes from a forest fire for 30 cents. They would have appreciated it more, however, had the forest fire been delayed until later in the fall when the city needs heating.

BUYS SKY PIECE.

The forest fire was little less than a calamity. Jim Morley had just invested $17.20 in an autumn hat heavily coated with fur. He had intended to dazzle the congregation with it yesterday, but the raging fire made it necessary to postpone the first public appearance of the hat. Yesterday Jim's head would have evaporated in a wild and woolly hat like that. Head sweats are dangerous for demi-magnates, frequently causing the brains to ooze out through the pores of the scalp. So Mr. Morley will either have the hat clipped like a French poodle, or lay it aside until the fires subside. Meantime, he has some misgiving lest the heat cause the hat to grow more hair on its surface. He doesn't care for the shaggy Newfoundland type of lid. He prefers his hats well barbered.

Some confusion was caused to persons attending the game in their automobiles because of a stray church that located in the middle of that busy thoroughfare. Apparently the church had first intended to move inside the ball park, and found the entrance too small. So it settled down in the street, where it is in position to snatch from the way of sin joy riders who are headed down Washington street straight for perdition.

TO SAVE SOULS.

It makes no difference whether perdition is located in an easterly or westerly direction. The joy riders will find it hard to get by this church without smashing into it, and in that way saving their own souls. Where the church came from nobody seems to know. It has holy rollers under it, and until it

MOTORISTS HAVE NEEDLESS WORRY.

SIGNALING DEVICES NOT REQUIRED ON ALL CLOSED CARS OR TRUCKS.

That motorists have been needlessly exciting themselves in regard to a certain clause of the Motor Vehicle Act because of incorrect statements sent broadcast throughout the State, is the opinion issued yesterday, from the Automobile Club of Southern California.

It involves the installation of mechanical signal devices on any type of car, but the mistake applies particularly to closed cars and trucks, says the club, where hundreds of inquiries in regard to the interpretation of the law have been answered since Monday.

INCORRECT.

"Publicity appearing throughout Southern California to the effect that mechanical signal devices are required on all closed cars, trucks, etc., is incorrect, "stated Secretary Mitchell yesterday.

"Section twenty, Article 'N' of the State Motor Vehicle Act, specifically provides either by the use of his hand and arm, which shall be visible from the rear, or by the use of an approved mechanical or electrical device.

"Inquiries are constantly being made at club headquarters and at all branch offices on this feature of the law, and club representatives have been requested to quote the law as it really is, and not as it is misquoted elsewhere."

As this phase of the law is incorrectly interpreted motorists have believed, in some instances, that every closed car or truck positively had to be equipped with some approved patent device or home-made device for signalling. The club points out that the "or" in the clause, should remove the nervousness from automobilists who already feel that they have enough to worry about with headlight lenses and other matters.

A telegram from P. J. Tehaney of the State Motor Vehicle Department at Sacramento received yesterday, by Secretary Standish Mitchell of the Auto Club confirms the above interpretation of the law.

COAST STARS SHINE IN WORLD'S SERIES.

SEVERAL BIG LEAGUE EXPERTS WERE STARTED TOWARD FAME IN P. C. L.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—When the world series contenders had apparently narrowed down to the Chicago Americans and the Cincinnati Nationals, sports followers here began to point out the probable performers in the big show who got their start on the Pacific Coast.

Walter H. ("Dutch") Reuther, when he was pitching for St. Ignatius College, San Francisco, in 1913, hurled a game against the Chicago White Sox and it is thought probable that as twirler for Cincinnati he will pitch against some of the same players in the world series this year.

Morris Rath, second baseman for the Reds, used to play with the Salt Lake club of the Pacific Coast League.

The Portland Northwest club started William ("Big Bill") James, Chicago White Sox pitcher, on his way up. Later he pitched for the Portland club of the Pacific Coast League.

Other Chicago players who formerly were stars of the Pacific Coast League include: Claude Williams, star left hander; Bert Lynn, and Arnold ("Chick") Gandil, once with the Sacramento club; George ("Buck") Weaver, formerly of San Francisco; Charles ("Swede") Risberg, formerly with Vernon, and Fred McMullin, who played with Los Angeles.

MORLEY INSISTS ON COAST RULES.

St. Paul of the American Association has experienced a belated outburst over the spitball, which is taboo in that league.

In a document received by the Vernon and Los Angeles clubs yesterday, President Hickey suggests that the rules of the two leagues alternate from day to day during the series. That is, he would permit the spitter to be used one day and barred the following.

Jim Morley, business manager of the Angels, promptly wired pack that the Los Angeles club would insist on using the same pitching deliveries than won for it in the Coast League, provided it wins.

Bill Essick of the Tigers seems less concerned. In fact, he is not going to make Hickey's proposition a matter of contention.

"Such an arrangement would not work any particular hardship on us," said the Tiger manager. "I would not use spitball pitchers every day, anyway. At least, it is a point which will not be allowed to interfere with playing the series as far as the Tigers are concerned."

Hickey's proposition that a coin be tossed each day to decide which club shall go to bat second is agreeable to the two local clubs. The club batting last generally feels that it has the edge.

A. L. THOMSON CREATES SENSATION WITH GUN.

The United States Army expert rifle course was the star match shot by the riflemen of the Los Angeles Rifle and Revolver Club, at their Glendale range last Sunday. Two other matches were staged at 200 yards, off-hand. Ned Cutting won a pocketful of silver, winning the ten-shot match. Leon Dezert also captured some more loose silver, winning the last match of the day.

Only six of the trigger squeezers will be awarded the expert button by the War Department.

A. L. Thomson created the sensation of the day, shooting the Springfield rifle left-handed for the first time, as he recently lost the sight of his right eye in testing a Ross rifle, the bolt piece blowing back from the breech and practically tearing away the right side of his face. However, Mr. Thomson had no trouble in qualifying as an expert.

DETROIT DEFEATED.

CALIFORNIA VARSITY RIPS THROUGH FROSH.

COACH ANDY SMITH LIFTS THE CURTAIN OF SECRECY ON TEAM PLAY.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERKELEY, Sept. 23.—Coach Andy Smith set the University of California football mad this afternoon when he lifted the curtain of secrecy which has surrounded the movements of the Blue and Gold varsity pigskin artists ever since they started their first practice over a week ago.

For the purpose of showing some 4000 university football fans who crowded the stands just what the varsity could do in their first regular scrimmage of the season, Coach Smith lined them up against the fast frosh eleven and let 'em got to it. Although still lacking the clockwork action of a finished team, the Blue and Gold varsity showed plenty of fight and an aggressiveness that brought joy to the hearts of the many fans who have waited ever since the opening of the university to see how the varsity would line up.

In today's scrimmage the two halves, Capt. Fred Brooks, former Los Angeles High star, and Byron "Pesky" Sprott, former San Diego High athlete, ripped and tore through the frosh line to their hearts' content. From what these two lads have already shown, they are expected to be the greatest ground-gaining combination in the West this season.

"Dummy" Wells at full, and Karl Deeds, who called signals for the championship San Diego High eleven in 1916, at quarter, complete the back field, which will be counted on to carry the Bears through to victory this season.

In only one position did the freshmen show any superiority over the varsity players in their first practice tilt, and that was on the right end of the line. This position is held down by "Brick" Muller, the sorrel-topped San Diego lad who takes great pride in smearing his opponents whenever they try to get around his end of the line.

The varsity line, however, showed up to good advantage against the husky cubs, and it is going to take some mighty fast backs to make yards through the Blue and Gold line this season. Cline, Engelbretsen and Fischer, all veterans, are fighting it out for the positions at end. Majors, last season's field captain, and Wilson are the lads counted on to fill the positions at tackles, while Barnes, who played center on last year's team, Boucher and Stewart are showing up mighty well at guard. Latham is at center.

VIETH'S SWIMMERS IN CLUB TROPHY RACES.

Vance Vieth announces a 220-yard handicap race for the Wallace MacDonald trophy tomorrow night in the Los Angeles Athletic Club pool. The swimmers have been battling for this cup three months, Gerald Vultee having won two legs, on it and Arthur Summons and Guy Sylvester one apiece.

Kenneth Carraher, who won third place in the ocean swim at Venice Sunday, will swim from scratch with "Old Man" Guy Sylvester.

Following the 220-yard race Karl Doerr, Richard Stith and Eugene Kern will tangle in a 500-yard handicap. Doerr and Stith each have a dicap swim for the Louie Cole trophy. Doerr and Stith each have a win on the cup. Stith will swim from scratch, Doerr and Stern each having a twenty-eight second handicap.

PROTEST IS FILED.

A protest or remonstrance of F. M. Bastian against the improvement of Carillo street, which was presented to the Council yesterday, was ordered held by the Public Works Committee, until the Second-street tunnel case has been settled in the Supreme Court.

NO DEPRESSION IN SOX FAMILY.

Element of Nervousness is an Utter Stranger.

Expect to Add the Finishing Touches to Indians Today.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Are the White Sox downhearted?

They are just as much chagrined and dispirited as Jack Dempsey at Toledo after the third round. The men of Comiskey and Gleason are just as downhearted as the American doughboys were sweeping through Chateau Thierry or wiping out the St. Mihiel salient.

Sure, the Sox may still lose the flag which seems almost within their grasp. They will lose out provided they lose every game, while Cleveland is winning all of its contests.

Despite this dismal prospect, which is at most a remote possibility, the element of nervousness seems an utter stranger to those veterans, who passed through the fiery ordeal of a post-season climax with the New York Giants in 1917 and won out.

OUT FOR THE COUNT.

"It is tough to kick a fellow when he's down," said Buck Weaver, "but we have to do it. We will give the Indians a poke Wednesday that will put them down and out for the full count."

This seems to be the unanimous opinion of the whole Sox club. There is only one St. Louis pitcher who stands a chance to topple the Sox, and he is Allen Sothoron. This eminent spitballer may not work Wednesday, and even if he does and wins the Indians will have to defeat the Tigers to remain on the inside looking out. If they are trimmed in one game they will go sprawling through the ropes and be knocked out of the big baseball finals.

The White Sox are feeling so frisky over the way things have turned out that all chatter of going on a strike has faded, to all intents, from the club. There was talk at one stage of the race of a strike if the second and third placers in the American and National leagues were cut in on the big melon.

THEY LIKE IT.

Boosting the world's series to nine games seems to have appeased the wrath of the players. Most of the Sox seem to like the long classic. It means one more game in which they will participate. It makes the post-season games a big boon to the players. One Sox veteran estimates that the winners this year will drag down almost as much as the victors in 1917, even after the bits of the second and third clubs have been subtracted from the contenders' share.

Kid Gleason is feeling real optimistic despite the pair of reverses suffered by his boys in the land of the bean and the cod. Eddie Cicotte will be right on edge when the big series is under way, said Gleason.

"I felt he was right once more and he proved it in Boston, where he stood the Red Sox on their domes last Friday. After the first inning, the only fellow who got a smell of a hit in a pinch was Ruth, who blazed out a double, and that big hitter is liable to make a wallop any old time.

READY AGAIN.

"Eddie was under the weather, and caught a cold in his forearm, but that has faded and he has proved he is ready to pitch in the big series. Eddie was keeping in condition daily. We are amply supplied with other pitchers to hold up our end in the games here and in Cincinnati."

It is Gleason's contention that two games added to the world's series will not bother the White Sox one whit. Personally Gleason favored the seven-game series. So did Ray Schalk and several other prominent members of the White Sox. All admit the long series will not injure their chances of repeating their successes of 1917.

The Sox now feel confident they have four eligible pitchers for the important clashes instead of two as generally supposed. They are Eddie Cicotte, Lefty Williams, Dick Kerr and Bill James. Grover Lowdermilk also may break into the big rumpus with his terrific speed.

SOLONS NOT TO PRESS THE SEATTLE CLAIM.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 23.—Announcement was made here today that the directors of the Sacramento baseball club of the Pacific Coast League had voted not to press their claim against the Seattle club for $1500 in connection with the trade involving Pitchers Harry Gardner and Walter Mails.

According to Sacramento directors the local club traded Gardner for Mails, and Seattle agreed in addition to pay $1500 to Sacramento. President James Brewster of Seattle recently refused to pay any money, stating that misrepresentations had been made to Seattle regarding Gardner's physical condition and that Gardner had been unable to continue playing ball because of his health. The controversy had been placed before President A. T. Baum of the Pacific Coast League, but Sacramento directors said there action would make a decision by him unnecessary.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DEL MONTE (Cal.) Sept. 23.—The State juvenile golf tournament to be held here at Thanksgiging time, November 27, 28, 29 and 30, will be the first regular championship event for boys and girls ever held in California.

The tournament will be a meeting of youngsters under the age of 16 years who are barred by the California Golf Association from participating in the regular championship. The number of very young golfers has been greatly increased by the laying out of municipal courses by many cities of the State.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, Sept. 23.—Charley Roselli, bantamweight champion of the Pacific Coast, will defend his title against Danny Kramer, a Los Angeles boy, next Friday evening in the Silver Spray arena. Roselli has appeared three times in the Long Beach ring and has dazzled the fans with his fast and clean work. On all three occasions he won his fights. Kramer is well known to Southern California boxing fans, and has not been defeated in several months.

In a special event Humed Kala Pasha will meet Bert Woods in twenty minutes of comedy, super-heavyweight wrestling.

In the semifinals of the boxing events Jack Oliver and Gene Watson will clash at 142 pounds. The preliminaries include a four-round melee between "Philadelphia" Brown and Paul Brewster, the Long Beach shipyard slugger; Joe Burns and Joe Miller, and Ted Levin and Joe Cappelli. Johnny McManus will meet Mike Sotello at 118 pounds in the curtain raiser.

STEVE DALTON DEFEATS SHADE.

Almost Floors Bay City Boy in Third Round.

Herb Brodie and Young France go a Draw.

New Referee Keeps Customers Satisfied.

BY ED O'MALLEY.

Steve Dalton established himself as a real prime favorite at Jack Doyle's pavilion last night by trimming Billy Shade. The San Francisco lad was hardly at his best and did not show up so well as he did against Young George a week ago last night. He frankly acknowledged that Steve had beaten him, but still adheres to the belief that he won over Young George.

Dalton was at his best. He started in like a winner and heaped almost a two to one lead in the first round. His best blows were a half awkward left swing to the face and a wicked left to the stomach. Toward the end of the round he sank two nasty lefts in Billy's dining-room that shook the latter up considerably.

AT HIS BEST.

Shade showed at his best in the second, reaching Steve on several occasions with lefts and rights to the face. Toward the end of this session, however, Dalton moved up fast and the round was his by a small margin. In the third, Steve forged way ahead again. A nasty left to the jaw delivered with all the force he could summon sent Shade rocking and the latter fell into a clinch to save himself.

Steve mussed up Billy considerably in this session, piling up a big advantage. In the finale Dalton tore after his man like a mad bull, landing frequently with lefts to the face and stomach. Shade was bleeding from the mouth and nose and was pretty tired when the gong sounded. It was Dalton's fight all the way.

SEMI-WIND-UP.

In the semi-wind-up Herb Brodie and Young France fought to a draw. The bout was somewhat unsatisfactory, both lads being all fied up

Fighting a Giant Sea Tiger

Weighing 211 pounds and landing him high and dry in twenty-six minutes was the good luck of Judge Frederick K. Pendleton of New York yesterday at Catalina. Judge Pendleton has fished in many waters, but he admitted that the swordfish put up the hottest fight of any animal he had ever seen.

LANDS RECORD SWORDFISH.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

AVALON, SANTA CATALINA ISLAND, Sept. 23.—A giant sea tiger weighing two hundred and eleven pounds was landed in the record time of twenty-six minutes at Catalina yesterday, by Judge Frederick K. Pendleton of the Supreme Court of New York, while out fishing in the Mable F with Capt. Laurance Mott. Judge Pendleton is an ardent angler, but up to the present season had passed most of his vacations fishing in Florida waters where he has killed his tarpon, the rare and elusive sail fish and many other specimens of game fish with which the east coast abounds.

His trip to Santa Catalina this year was with the avowed determination to kill his first swordfish. Judge Pendleton arrived at Catalina two weeks ago with his son, George Pendleton. During their first week of fishing at Catalina they brought to gaff marlin swordfish weighing 168 and 133 pounds respectively.

Young Pendleton had to leave for college last week and his father returned with him to mainland intending to return to New York, but the lure of the royal sport found on the shores of the Magic Isle proved too strong and Judge Pendleton came back to Catalina two days ago from Santa Barbara for another "go" at the sworded sea fighters before starting on his journey to New York for the beginning of the court term. Yesterday's big catch rewarded the judge for "playing his hunch."

In a personal interview Judge Pendleton said:

"I had to catch the afternoon boat for the mainland, and it was already getting close to 12 o'clock. We were some five miles off Seal Rocks when I hinted to Capt. Mott that it was time to head the Mable F toward Avalon. The captain wanted to make one more circle and when half way around, a fish struck my bait, but so lightly that I thought it must have been a small torpedo shark which had bitten my flying fish in two. I reeled in slowly and not until the bait was well toward the boat did the big fish come to life. He made a sudden dash and Capt. Mott sang out, 'swordfish!'

"It was, and a big one. He made a plunging leap some three hundred yards from the launch, and then I fought him as hard as I could, determined to land him as quickly as possible. Capt. Mott put on full speed and drew alongside. Before the marlin knew what was happening, the gaff was in him and a spectacular struggle began. Spray filled the air and the sea tiger's sword beat against the side of the boat while the powerful tail lashed the sea and threw spray all over us, drenching us to the skin. After ten minutes of this battle royal Mott deftly slipped a rope through the gills, and made our prize secure. The marlin weighed 211 pounds, and the actual time of fighting with the rod was twenty-six minutes. Not a bad record.

"I have reason to greatly respect the fighting qualities of the marlin," concluded the judge, rubbing his blistered palms, "and although his tactics are somewhat those of the sail fish, the marlin is much more spectacular in his display of leaping powers."

So delighted was Judge Pendleton with the charms of Catalina Island that he likened it to Sicily, and promises to return early during the summer recess of next year and "camp on the trail of the tuna with Capt. Mott."

SAGE HEN WARRIORS GO THROUGHT LIGHT WORK

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, Sept. 23. — The 1920 gridiren season got away to an auspicious start here today when a squad of twenty-odd Sage Hen moleskin warriors went through a general loosening-up, process-passing, punting, falling on the ball, and practicing starts. Among the letter men who turned out for the first rehearsal were Capt. Greathouse, "Covy" Covington, "Hod" Chambers, the big Elliott twins, Warren and Bruce, and Stover; three of this bunch, Greathouse, Covington and Stover, are two-year men.

Other stellar grid artists who were present at the initial workout were Pooley, McQuiston, Gardner, Valle, Baker, Allen, Oliver, Bell and Kingman. Widdess and King, the latter a former varsity star at end, will arrive soon, and will don the moleskins in a day or so.

Charley McClain, who starred at full-back in his freshman year, has returned for his sophomore year, and looks like a safe bet for the battering-ram position. "Chuck" has been in the service for two years, a part of which time was spent overseas. Kingman, McQuiston and Widdess also saw service in France, while several others of the squad are veterans of the "late unpleasantness."

With such a constellation to choose from, the Pomona mentor is extremely confident of turning out a pennant-winning combination. The Sage Hens have copped the conference flag two seasons in a row, and promise to make it three straight this fall. All the men are in first-class condition, and with more gridiron veterans returning each day, everything points to a prosperous year in the Sage Hen college.

AQUA-PLANING NEW SPORT FOR GIRLS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 23. — Aqua-planing in tow of a seaplane is a new sport started here by Miss Georgina de Long, a New York girl who has been active in swimming at San Diego this summer.

Miss De Long said it was easier to maintain the balance of the small surf board when towed by a speedy seaplane than when going alow behind a launch.

Robert Edgren, leading sporting authority of America, was at the ringside at Vernon last night. He will write his views and give his decision on the bouts, also draw one of his inimitable cartoons of the fight, exclusively in tonight's Express.—[Advertisement.

BASEBALL NOTES.

President Hickey of the American Association, accompanied by Mrs. Hickey, will start for this city in advance of the St. Paul team, according to a wire received yesterday by Lou Anger and Jim Morley. President Hickey is coming early in order to assist in the final arrangements for the series. Accompanying the St. Paul team will be about half a hundred fans from that city, who hope to boost their champions into victory in the western world series. Reservations for these have been made at the Van Nuys. The writer has received a wire from Vick Harris, sporting editor of the St. Paul Pioneer Press, stating that he will be here for the series. Other scribes are expected to accompany the team.

In doping out the chances of the clubs in the western world series it should not be overlooked that there are no small parks in the American Association, says Bill Clymer. Bill points out that there are no parks in the association circuit like Salt Lake to bolster batting averages. "In St. Paul there are deep fences in center and right," said Clymer. "The left field fence is about the same as at Recreation Park in San Francisco, and it takes a good wallop to clear it. The Kansas City right field fence is very short, but outside of this the grounds of the circuit are large enough to make a batter work for his percentage."

Eddie Herr and his Salt Lake athletes have convinced Tiger fans that they have no heart. That they should trounce the Tigers in Salt Lake was expected, but it was hardly thought they would get so fresh down here despite bitter memories of their last visit. But Bill Essick is not the only manager in the world with a worry or two. We know of at least one more. That is Red Killefer. Red and the Angels, according to a wire received by Morley yesterday, are held up near Redding. A tunnel up there caved in ahead of the train on which the Angels were riding, and they will not reach Seattle before Thursday or Friday. Should they not land until Friday it means that only the full series can be played by putting on double-headers on that day, Saturday and Sunday. That would just about wreck Killefer's pitching staff, and leave it in wretched shape for the battle with Vernon.

In view of the recent work of Killefer's pitchers, many figure that he must go into the Vernon series with at least a three-game lead if the Angels are to grab the flag. For while the Tigers are losing to Salt Lake they look strong enough to whip the Angels with the sort of pitching the latter have had the last few weeks.

Fatty Arbuckle occupied his well-known seat in the amen row, and necks were craned all around the arena to get a view of the famous magnate-comedian. Ordinarily, Arbuckle's smile just about covers the front of the grand stand, but yesterday his smile wasn't working.

Krug of the Bees, always a top-notcher in the field, has been going like a whale with the bat. In the last five weeks he has gone from something like .345 in his hitting to .412.

• •

Borton came within about three feet of putting the pill in the right field bleachers in the sixth. Rumler managed to get under the ball. Had the air not been so heavy with smoke, which held the ball back, Babe might have had a home run.

STEVE DALTON DEFEATS SHADE.

most of the time in fiddling for an opening. France was inclined to throw his blows and had little system to his attack. Brodie hit like a thoroughbred, but failed to land simply because he dreaded that landing of a wild swing by his opponent.

Joe Brown and Leo Houck scrambled all over the ring for four fierce rounds without any regard for art or judgment of distance. Brown hipped the dipper around his man like a grasshopper on a red-hot gridiron. If Brown were to practice boxing with his feet he would be a marvel. He fought with everything he had but his fists. The only real hard blow struck during the melee was a right of Houck's to Joe's jaw that almost put him out of business.

BEST ON CARD.

Jimmy Branton had the honor of uncorking the real fisticuffs of the evening when he larruped Ted Frenchie to a frazzle. Jimmy went about his work like a master mechanic and just mauled Teddie whenever and wherever he listed. Jimmy could have kept a quarter on top his head through the four rounds without ever disturbing its resting place. His victory was clean-cut throughout.

Frankie Munroe was handed a decision over Gus Williams, and Harry Beecher put it on Mark Gay.

Tom Kennedy officiated as the new referee, vice Dick Donald. Tom got through all right and his work in the main was satisfactory. He entered the ring looking very much like Zy Ebyzake, the wrestler, and came out very much like Jimmy Austin. Tom must have consumed eight gallons of water during the festivities and used up an even dozen towels. He must have lost thirty pounds during his session in the ring as a human fountain. Charlie Chaplin led the chorus of "Tom Kennedy's All In" and in the twinkling of an eye half of the spectators joined in the melody.

Carl Morris, who recently put Larue out of the running as a fit adversary for Jack Dempsey, was introduced and was well received.

A week from next Friday night Doyle will again start in to give two shows each week, one on Tuesday and one on Friday night, until his new pavilion is erected.

YANKEES FILE THEIR BRIEF.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The New York American League baseball club filed its brief today in the suit against Ban Johnson, president of the league, growing out of the suspension of Pitcher Carl Mays by Johnson.

The brief asks that the preliminary injunction granted last August by Justice Luce be continued with judicial condemnation of what the brief characterizes as "the high-handed and furtive methods of Mr. Johnson to accomplish his selfish and despotic purposes."

It is claimed that Mr. Johnson's course as to Mays was "well calculated to trap the Boston club by injuring its property and standing."

It is further contended that Mr. Johnson had a personal motive in that he was heavily interested financially in the Cleveland club, which was said to have been negotiating for Mays during the time Mr. Johnson had taken no action and that he took no action until it became evident that not the Cleveland club, but its closest competitor in the race, had succeeded in getting Mays.

A point made in the brief is that, under the constitution of the American League, the president had no power, after the Boston club had determined that Mays had not been guilty of desertion or breach of contract with it, to reverse its action and to discipline Mays for such an alleged offense, particularly as it had not been committed on the ball field.

der any circumstances. Evans, I understand, is a good man and made good in Illinois, but just the same—"

Let's analyze the statement about the Stanford men mentioned.

EACH MADE MARK.

Each has made his mark in Stanford athletics, but of the eight mentioned, only two have had any experience to speak of at the American game. Holt played on the Cardinal S.A.T.C. team that was snowed under by California last year to the tune of 67 to 0. Wark was quarter-back on the San Pedro Reserve Sailor team, coached by Sam McClung, formerly of Occidental.

The remaining men are as green as the proverbial pea at the American game. What coach with any gray matter in his make-up would care to trade his trained flock of moleskin artists for a bunch of greenhorns?

It takes time to get the Rugby germ out of a player's system. Andy Smith can vouch for the verity of that statement. Not until he had cleaned the last of the adherents of the near-beer game, out of his squad did he develop an eleven of championship form.

California had all the material in the world in the way of beef and brawn and speed, but the Bears were unable to win games without men versed in the arts and wiles of the American game. What the Blue and Gold coach needed was veterans, and he had narry a one.

Occidental, Whittier and U.S.C. all took turns at walloping the Berkeleyites. In the case of the first two named colleges their entire registration would be only a drop in the bucket when compared with the enrollment of the freshman class alone at the University of California.

Stanford has giants like Reggie Caughey, the winner of the shot put in the Allied games at Paris last summer, and "Herc" Bihlman, but California had just giants and was unable to win games. They hadn't learned the strategy of the American game when playing Rugby, and Coach Andy Smith was not long in finding out that a Rugby veteran and an American veteran were as dissimilar as the holes in a piece of limburger cheese.

In the East a man is not considered a veteran until he has put in four years of football at schools like Phillips Andover and Exeter, for instance, and played a couple of years of college football.

Coach Bob Evans has not a single veteran, with the possible exception of Holt, last year's quarter-back on the Stanford S.A.T.C. team and the only man on the eleven who displayed any football knowledge worthy of note. It's a foregone conclusion that he won't turn out a winner this year, but he'll put a fighting bunch of pigskinners on the field.

FIRST BASEBALL GAME IN EGYPT?

Sphinx Must Have been Some Diamond Arbitrator.

Alexander Cartwright Credited as American Inventor.

Knickerbockers of New York Played Initial Contest.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—With the coming of the world's series baseball takes a paramount place in the thoughts of many persons. The word "baseball" as a designation for the national pastime came into existence in the thirties of the last century, according to historians, and is the evolution of the name "round ball," which later became "town ball" because the game was played at town meetings.

There are two schools of thought on the origin of the game of baseball. Some claim that the game is the evolution of the old English game of "rounders," while others claim in their writings that the sport is of strictly American origin. Writers of the first group say the game of "rounders" can be traced to The Netherlands, and in turn to Egypt, even going so far as to suggest that the Sphinx "may have been the first umpire."

Those who favor the idea that the game originated with Americans, by Americans, and for Americans, are in the majority, however, and to Alexander J. Cartwright, a New York man, the credit for originating the game as now played is given by many writers.

"ONE-OLD-CAT."

In 1842, it is written, Cartwright broke in on a game of "one-old-cat" which a gang of New York boys was playing on the Murray Hill grounds, and with a stick scratched a diamond in the dust, telling the boys this was the game they should play, and suggesting a player for each base, three "scouts" in the outfield, a pitcher and a catcher. In the early days when the game resembled cricket and any ball hit by the batter was "fair" the catcher had a scout to assist him.

The game as suggested by Cartwright took form quickly and on September 23, 1845, the Knickerbocker Club in New York was formed, having the honor of being the first baseball club, according to historical writers of the game. The first contest of the new game was played between the Knickerbocker Club and another New York team on the Elysian fields, Hoboken, N. J. The New York team won, 23 to 1. The first tabulated score ever kept of the game, histories record, was that printed by the New York Clipper July 16, 1853. The contest was played on July 5 of that year between the Knickerbocker and Gotham teams.

RUNS CALLED ACES.

In the early days runs were called "aces" and a team had to make twenty-one to have enough to win. Rule one of the early set of rules, copies of which have been preserved, says that all players "must be punctual and observe the time for the commencement of the game." This precaution was necessary because in those days no bases on balls were possible and it was not uncommon for the pitcher to throw for half an hour before the batter decided to strike.

Very few changes in the basic principles of the game as set forth in the original twenty rules, made in 1845, have been made. In rule two of the original set it is provided that "before the commencement of the game the president shall appoint an umpire who shall keep the game in a book and note all the violations of the rules," and rule seventeen states that there shall be no appeal from the umpire's decision in case of a dispute. In 1848 a rule making it necessary for a player to be "touched out" was added to the original code and at this time sliding to the bases made its appearance. Other changes were made from time to time, making the principles of the game the same as they stand today.

Beginning with the Knickerbocker and Gotham clubs, other organizations sprung into being and a pioneer convention of baseball clubs was held in May, 1857. The next year twenty-five clubs sent delegates to New York and "The National Association of Baseball Players" was formed.

In the late fifties the game spread to Boston, Portland, Me., took up the pastime in 1858 and Buffalo and Rochester, N. Y., followed. Chicago started the game in 1856 and two years later was playing match games with Milwaukee.

GUN PLAY IN FRISCO.

When the game spread to San Francisco in 1859 it developed into a wild sport. Professional gamblers who infested the Pacific Coast town in the early days bet heavily on the games, according to historical accounts, and the "spectators" were in the habit of shooting off revolvers when a fielder was about to catch the ball.

Records show that New Orleans became interested in baseball in 1866, then the Civil War put a stop to the sport temporarily, but the soldiers in the camps played and writers say the war had a great deal to do with the spread of the sport over the entire country.

In 1867 the Savannah team, accompanied by a band and rooters, went to Charleston to play for the championship of the South, it is chronicled.

Harvard University combined with the town boys in 1865 and organized the first college baseball team. Later Tufts and Yale followed. In 1864 and 1865 the "Atlantics" of Brooklyn won all their games and held undisputed title until 1866, when the Philadelphia Athletics stepped in and handed the champions a defeat. The two teams played before a crowd estimated at 30,000 on October 1, 1866, and the Athletics won, 21 to 12.

FISHING NOTES.

Mackerel are running heavy at practically all of the Southern California beaches, according to reports handed in to Ceph Salisbury of Dyas's. Sea trout are the favorites at Redondo Beach. The Long Wharf at Santa Monica is about the only spot reporting yellowtail fishing. Following is a summary of the fishing possibilities at the different Southern California beaches:

Long Wharf, Santa Monica—Yellowtail, halibut, sea trout very good; small mackerel, jack smelt excellent.

Municipal pier, Santa Monica—(This pier is now open to fishermen at their own risk; it was not condemned, simply closed to the public during examination.) Mackerel, smelt, perch and herring, excellent; halibut, croaker, good; pompano, few.

Ocean Park—Small mackerel and smelt very good; halibut, croakers and yellowfin fair.

Venice—Small mackerel and smelt good; yellowfin, fair.

Del Rey—Mackerel, smelt and herring good; sea trout, halibut and yellowfin fair.

Hermosa—Mackerel, smelt and herring good; yellowtail, pompano, halibut, yellowfin and croaker, few.

Redondo—At the municipal pier mackerel excellent, yellowtail and sea trout good; croakers few; at wharf No. 2, halibut, sea trout and mackerel very good; at wharf No. 3, yellowtail, sea trout and mackerel very good; few pompano.

Long Beach—Small mackerel, smelt, herring, tom cod and perch very good; some sea trout; halibut, croakers, yellowfin and corbina fair; some yellowtail.

HUNTING NOTES.

Good news for the duck hunters' Fred Raymer, who is getting things ready for the opening of the season October 15 at the Alamo Gun Club near Calipatria, writes Ceph Salisbury of Dyas's that never in history extending back ten years has he seen so many ducks. During the hot weather Raymer has been sleeping outside. Monday morning, according to his letter, he awoke just in time to see fully 10,000 geese flying overhead.

Doves galore at Elsinore, report a party of prominent sportsmen who returned from that region after a successful Sunday quest, which resulted in all securing the limit. Those in the party were Norman Jack, Ed Franklin, Coody Barker, Howard Salisbury and Ceph Salisbury. The latter reports that he saw more ducks on the Sabbath than he has seen since the opening of the season.

ALAUZET IS BEST HANDBALL PLAYER.

Alauzet defeated Haskell 21-14, 21-11 in the special exhibition handball match between the two on the courts of the Los Angeles Athletic Club yesterday noon. Haskell apparently suffered from stage fright and did not put up his usual game. The set-to was witnessed by a large gallery, and not a little money was wagered on the result.

Two good matches are on the card today. At 11 o'clock Frank E. Garbutt will meet Nolan Allen in the second round of the Class A schedule. Following that Maynard Laswell will take a crack at Dick Retzer in the championship class.

Yesterday's results follow:

Class D—Aubrey Austin defeated Bill Nevin, 21-18, 21-16.

Class E—J. Johnson defeated Homer Atterbury, 9-21, 21-3, 21-6; Ralph Jesson defeated J. D. Horan, 21-9, 21-11.

TOM FERRANDINI OFF TO COLLEGE

Tom Ferrandini, the local junior tennis crack and one of the most promising players of the younger set, leaves this morning for Ithaca, N. C., where he is to enter college.

Ferrandini is junior singles champion of the Coast, and recently won the city championship at the tournament held on the Y.M.C.A. courts. With Hinckley he holds the city doubles junior championship. He has been playing with Frank Smith's Tufts-Lyon team in the Los Angeles County League, w hich opened its winter schedule last Sunday. He expects to return to Los Angeles next spring at the close of the college session.

bogged down was doing about four miles an hour and hot on the trail of Satan. The edifice gives every evidence of having had hard usage, but probably is still water-proof enough to attract those evildoers who feel like coming in out of the wet next winter.

The game opened by Maggert grounding to Mitchell. Johnson walked and went to third when Ross, in trying to nip him off first, threw the ball into the bleacher boxes. He scored on Krug's single to center. Brooks flagged Krug trying to take second on a short passed ball, and Sheeley grounded to Borton.

FANNED BOBBY.

The Tigers started off in a hot manner, Mitchell leading off with a double. Chadbourne sacrificed. Markle then gave an imitation of the stuff which he had up his sleeve by fanning Meusel and Borton. So Johnny perished in sight of the promised land.

After Brooks had fanned in the third, Ross singled infield to Mulligan back of third. Mitchell walked. Chadbourne popped to Sheeley. Markle then tried to throw a fast one past Meusel, or something of the kind, and Bobby busted a triple to the scoreboard, scoring both runners. Borton filed to Maggert.

HIT WISHBONE.

One out in the fourth, when Krug singled off Johnny Mitchell's wishbone. The runner went to second on Sheeley's out, and Rumler was passed without compunction. Mulligan flicked a fly to short left. Hughie High made a hard try. He hitted the ball near the ground, did a couple of cartwheels and came up without it. Out of the mess Mulligan got a double. Krug scored and Rumler took third. Mulvey's fly to High ended the frame.

A grounder by Rumler which Mitchell could get only one hook on started the winning run in the seventh. Mulligan followed with a triple to left, putting Bill across. The three-bag hitter was held at third while Ross knocked down Mulvey's liner, and threw him out at first. Byler followed with a fly to Edington.

STUMPY NAILED HIM.

Mulligan cut loose for the plate with a catch. Stumpy heaved in low and true, the ball ricochetting along the sod for the last third of the distance into the hands of Brooks. Clarence stretched out to meet the pill with his back to the runner, and throwing his arm around tagged the sliding Mulligan without even seeing him.

In the home half of the seventh it seemed that Vernon would tie the score, if not more. Edington, first up, singled and High walked. Fisher sacrificed both men along a peg. Brooks drove to Mulligan, who threw to the plate. Edington ran back to second with Byler following. Just before reaching the base he stuck his arm up in front of Byler's throw and was called out for interference. Otherwise, Stumpy would have been safe, as he had the play beaten. Ross flied to Rumler. Nothing doing with Markle in the eighth and ninth, he being there with a ninety-horse-power finish.

FLASHES.

NOVEL HEADLINER.

BRONSON AND BALDWIN HAVE FUTURIST ACT.

By Edwin Schallert.

Hats off to Percy Bronson and Winnie Baldwin, and also Jack Lait, the author, for turning the shadowland of the future into a delectable reality of entertainment in their "Visions of 1969" this week at the Orpheum. This new act is a crystal glance at a half-century hence from the jazz angle—and a smart little satire on present day doings, as well. We hope all the things that are supposed to happen in 1969 don't, but we're quite ready to enjoy imagining that they do for half an hour.

Everything that isn't up in the air in the sketch is topsyturvy. The blow that kills father is the fact that several decades before the men have lost the vote, and the country is still dry. The styles are all to the lingerie for neckties, while the women's garb is the type that has generally been fashionable in China, which shows that those responsible for the sketch haven't overlooked the possibility of things moving in cycles.

These enlivening circumstances are background for the revue of melody and mirthmaking that the duo put over with their usual charm and naturalness. Bronson gets the laughs with his spree on the last bottle of whisky in the world. Miss Baldwin is very amusing in her imitations of the Show Girl in the Follies and the soubrette. The dancing is of the effervescent variety which the pair have made a delight for their audiences, and the costumes elegance-plus.

Of course, there are airplanes, and wireless telephones and all the other appurtenances of an advanced age. At the close of the act Percy and Winnie leave their roof-top bungalow for a twenty-minute trip to Paris to see a show.

Still appearing in the place of Nell Lockwood, Enrico Aresoni stopped the show with his operatic airs and ballads; his voice quality is good and he sings to his audience; his chief fault is the tendency to slur.

A pretty fantasy in its idea is "Heartland," in which Mary E. Ryan is the bright particular star. J. K. Emmet does a Francis Bushman style hero, as the character of success.

Keene and Walsh are also newcomers who amuse with their Irish and darky brand of witticisms.

Holdover acts include: "Putting It Over" Tina Lerner, Lloyd and Christy and McIntosh and the Musical Maids.

Ford to Go East.

Harrison Ford is making ready to leave Los Angeles the first of next week for New York City, where he will be leading man for Marguerite Clark, now appearing at Grauman's, in her next Uaramount-Artcraft picture, "Easy to Get." He was Miss Clark's leading man in "Girls," the first of the five pictures she made at the Morosco studio during her Los Angeles stay.

"Easy to Get" will be filmed in New York City under the direction of Walter Edwards, who already has gone East. The film will be sent here to be cut and titled at the Morosco studio, where the script was prepared.

Veiller's Pet Superstition.

Superstition, according to Bayard Veiller, author of "Danger" at the Majestic, has just as strong a hold on the imaginations of people today as in past years, and this belief finds expression in all of Veiller's works. Superstition stalks in the world of the stage with sometimes humorous, sometimes tragic effect, too, says the author.

Mr. Veiller admits there is a trace of superstition in his make-up, too. It is common knowledge that in the rehearsal of a play the "tag line" or final speech in the manuscript is never spoken but is held silent until the first performance. This is a tradition of the stage which has existed for generations. Mr. Veiller goes beyond this in that he will not turn over to a company the final act in his play until the members have rehearsed the preceding acts and the last segment is necessary to complete the production. In submitting a drama for a producer's decision Veiller retains the manuscript of his final act though he, of course, offers a detailed description of what the act embraces.

"Of course I am not superstitious—that is," amended the great playwright, "very superstitious. But far be it from me to upset tradition."

Cohan Play Coming.

"A Prince There Was," George M. Cohan's recent comedy success, will be the attraction at the Mason Opera House beginning Monday night. The cast includes James Gleason, Ena Lewis Willey, William Slider, Josephine Williams, John Bedouin, Loucille Webster, John E. Sanders, Adelaide Wilson, Will T. Goodwin, James Bradbury, Jr., Marie Nelson, Joseph Oddo and Muriel Nelson.

TALLY ANNOUNCES PLANS FOR KINEMA.

FILM EXHIBITOR AND SON LEAVE ON HUNTING JAUNT.

Following his announcement of the acquisition of the Kinema Theater on Grand avenue, hereafter to be known as Tally's Kinema, T. L. Tally and his son, Seymour Tally, decided to call it a day, locked their desks and left on a hunting trip to the mountains. Prior to his departure he stated that the policy of the theater is to be materially advanced in every respect, particular care to be paid to presentation of the big features already booked and to musical accompaniment. Several changes of stage and interior, as well as the front of the house are already being contemplated. George Dumond will continue as manager of the theater.

The Rex Beach cinema, "The Girl from Outside," has been slated to follow Mary Pickford's "The Hoodlum," the first feature under the new management, the Goldwyn office graciously allowing this move to give Miss Pickford the opening honors in the near future. Clara Kimball Young, in "The Eyes of Youth," will also be played. Then will follow in quick succession productions of the First National Exhibitors Circuit of which Mr. Tally is vice-president. They include all Pickford cinemas, Marshall Neilan productions, the Charles Chaplin comedies, the D. W. Griffith productions, Anita Stewart plays, and others.

Upon Mr. Tally's return from the mountains further announcements as to the future policy of Tally's Kinema are to be made. The George Loane Tucker production of "The Miracle Man" will hold its place on the Kinema screen until next Sunday.

"Lombardi" a Beauty Special.

Alice Lake, Juanita Hansen, Virginia Caldwell, Thea Talbot, Ann May and Jean Acker comprise the sextette of lovely girls who surround Tito Lombardi, in his fashionable Fifth-avenue dressmaking establishment in "Lombardi, Ltd." to show next week at the California. Miss Lake and Miss Hansen, in the two chief supporting roles, are both very attractive young women of contrasted types. Miss Lake is dark and vivacious; Miss Hansen is a statueque blonde.

Miss Lake was selected for the part of Norah Blake, Lombardi's assistant in his gown shop. This role was enacted in the stage production by Madge Kennedy. Miss Hansen is cast as Phyllis Manning, Lombardi's fiancee. Winifred Bryson played this role on the stage. In addition to the girls who have principal roles, there are many types of beauty appearing as mannequin, fashionable shoppers, etc.

Kosloff in Moonlights.

Theodore Kosloff, famous Russian interpretive dancer, wore a dress suit for the first time in pictures the other day while working in C. B. de Mille's "Why Change Your Wife?" at the Lasky studio.

Charter Craft for "Sea Wolf."

George Melford will leave Sunday night for the Bay City district to make scenes for "The Sea Wolf," a Paramount-Artcraft special. With him will go practically the entire company, but the roster is not yet announced. Fred Kley, a studio manager at Lasky's, has just returned from San Francisco, where he bought a ferryboat and chartered a schooner for the picture.

Miss Hawley Busy.

Wanda Hawley has just recovered from a slight indisposition and is finishing up in "Hawthorne of the U.S.A.," with Wallace Reid as star, and James Cruz as director.

PATHE TO ERECT BUILDING.

Pathe Exchange, Inc., completed arrangements yesterday for the erection of a new office building on the east side of Olive street, between Ninth and Tenth, to be used as a distributing center for the Pathe product, which will be considerably increased this season.

The building is to cost $250,000, and will occupy a space 50x150. A modern office will occupy the front portion of the building, with poster and shipping room at the rear. An additional building separate from the main structure will be built in the rear for inspection of film and adjoining this will be a vault for storing films.

On the roof of the building there will be erected a theater de luxe, where exhibitors may view their films under the most perfect conditions. All the latest equipment will be installed for this purpose.

The Pathe organization will handle many of the big stars, including productions featuring Frank Keenan, Blanche Sweet, Marjorie Rambeau, Mae Murray, Fannie Ward, Dolores Sassenelli, Edgar Lewis, Creighton Hale, Virginia Pearson and June Caprice. Special productions by J. Stuart Blackton, Mrs. Sidney Drew, Edgar Lewis, Frank Keenan and Albert Capellani will also be released through Pathe.

Field Carmichael, in charge of the southern territory, completed the deal for the new building with the Bowles Realty Company.

PICTURE COMPANY FORMED IN NEVADA.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

RENO (Nev.) Sept. 23.—Ida May Heitman, motion picture actress of Los Angeles, is one of the incorporators in a $250,000 company, according to a charter filed with the County Clerk today. The Tri-State Motion Picture Company is the name of the new concern, with offices in the Ferdonia Building. The other incorporators are W. M. Plank, who will be president, and F. R. Capra, all of whom give their residence as Reno.

Miss Heitman states that the new organization will erect a big studio here and will produce five-reel pictures to be marketed throughout the United States. She says that work of construction is to be started immediately and that the scenic advantages of Nevada and especially around Reno should make the venture highly successful.

De Luxe Attractions.

Enid Bennett in "The Virtuous Thief" will have its last showing at the De Luxe this evening. Tomorrow and Friday, Elsie Ferguson in "A Society Exile" will be featured. This film was adapted from the famous play, "We Can't Be As Bad As All That" and plenty of opportunity is given Miss Ferguson to use her dramatic gifts to great advantage.

Washburn Coming Back.

Bryant Washburn will be back from Chicago this week. He went there to do some important scenes for his new Paramount-Artcraft picture, "It Pays to Advertise."

Although Mabel Normand is known as the "Village cut-up" of the Goldwyn studios, she is one of the most earnest workers on the big lot. No sooner had she completed her big circus picture, "The Jinx," now showing at Tally's, than she plunged at once into a new picture with hardly a day's rest. After "shooting" a few necessary scenes at the Culver City studios, she took her entire company, headed by Victor Schertzinger, her director, to Victorville, Cal., where this section of the Mojave Desert afforded unusual locations for exteriors.

In the old days, Victorville was one of the stops on the original Santa Fe Trail. It was a trading post for wagon trains and the terminal of the stage-coach line in that section of the country. Many Indian fights and daring hold-ups took place on its outskirts, and while now a perfectly law-abiding and peaceful place, the spirit of its early history still pervades it and is suggested by the surrounding country.

New Beach Film.

Rex Beach's Alaskan story "The Wag Lady" will be produced by Goldwyn under the title of "The Girl From Outside." Prominent in the cast are Clara Horton, Cullen Landis, Hallam Cooley, Sydney Ainsworth, Walter McNamara, Ernest Spencer, Colin Kenny, Wilton Taylor, Bert Sprotte and Billie Bennett; also Louie Cheung, a Chinese player.

'TWAS EASY TO EMOTE.

Helene Chadwick was making wonderful time, Goldwyn-ward—motor cops to the contrary notwithstanding—one morning of the past week. And just when she was deciding she was breaking her record for arrival by about twenty-six seconds, a horrid big truck lumbered out at her from a side street and abruptly stopped her progress. Incidentally it meant a bill for repairs of about $500 and Miss Chadwick remembered that her insurance had expired only the preceding day. So when, in "The Cup of Fury" picture that day, her director introduced a number of crying scenes, Miss Chadwick had no difficulty at all in turning on real tears.

HELEN EDDY'S PEACOCK RING.

Once upon a time Helen Jerome Eddy, appearing in "Pollyanna" in support of Mary Pickford, and who has a penchant for artistic handwrought jewelry, bought herself a peacock ring. The bird's breast was a ruby, the tail feathers were set with emeralds and pearls. Its designer was a Czecho-Slovak, whose little shop is situated on one of Los Angeles' side streets.

Though she had not purchased the ring at this shop, she strolled into it the other day, attracted by the window display, and when the artist saw her hand he exclaimed, in glad recognition: "You have my peacock ring!" Miss Eddy was as pleased as he, and she ordered other rings, using some old family heirlooms that needed resetting.

The Czecho-Slovak did not know that Miss Eddy was in pictures, but he recognized a kindred spirit—a genuine artist—when he saw one. He needed an assistant, for business was brisk, and he offered the job to Miss Eddy. The opportunity for work under such a man was tempting, but Miss Eddy had to decline, as she had just begun rehearsals.

A SERIAL THRILLER.

"Smashing Barriers" is the thrilling title of the newest William Duncan serial. Members of Mr. Duncan's company believe that a more elucidating title for this Duncan thrill-serial would be "Smashing Barriers—and Everything Else." They have a variety of scars and red-blooded anecdotes to offer in confirmation of their choice of title.

The Ewins Wedding.

At 3 o'clock last evening Miss Mary Louise Ewins of this city and Mr. Clemons Edward McNamara of Kansas City were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pierce Ewins, by Rev. Frank Richardson. The ceremony was read in the living-room before an altar banked with woodwardia ferns, lavender asters and Sunburst roses, and lighted by cathedral candles. Tall vases of Sunburst roses on either side completed the mantel decoration. The dining table held the bridal cake, which was surrounded by Sunburst roses and orchids. Mrs. Charles Stanley sang "Ecstasy" before the wedding march was played by Mr. Tandler and his orchestra.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white brocaded velvet-striped Georgette, draped over Victoria satin, which was banded at ankle length by a broad flange of white panne velvet. A cape of Chantilly lace formed the long flowing sleeves. The high waist line was girdled by a rope of pearls, while loops of pearls held the panne velvet train, which fell from the shoulders. The veil of old ivory silk net was draped and confined by a double band of pearls and fell to the end of the train. She carried a shower bouquet of orchids and bride roses.

Her sister-in-law, Mrs. John Ewins, who was matron of honor, wore a gown of lavender silver cloth, and carried a shower bouquet of Sunburst roses and lavender flowers. The bridesmaids, Miss Guinveve Pray of Kansas City and Miss Katherine Robbins and Miss Alma Barman of Los Angeles, wore gowns of lavender Georgette in corresponding shades, with hats of tulle and ostrich trimming. They carried shower bouquets of Sunburst roses. Mr. McNamara was attended by Mr. Robert L. Hedges of St. Louis. Clarence Dale of Kansas City and Albert Robbins of Los Angeles were the ushers. Mr. and Mrs. McNamara left for a trip in Northern California, Washington and Oregon, and will be at home after October 15 at 3915 Paseo, Kansas City. Among the out-of-town guests noted were Mr. and Mrs. E. J. McNamara, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Pray of Kansas City, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Hedges, Guy Cooper and Miss Marie Cooper of St. Louis.

Engagement Told.

Anticipating her early departure, a surprise shower was given Miss Josephine Murray Tracy of 2215 West Tenth street by a few of her close friends—former schoolmates at the Girls' Collegiate School. Formal announcement of her engagement to Mr. George Gage Eddy of Cortlandt, N. Y., a lieutenant in the United States Regular Army, was made by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gallatin Tracy of this city and Carlsbad, N. M. Lieut. Eddy is a graduate of West Point, detailed to the ordnance department, and now stationed at Watertown arsenal, Watertown, Mass. He was formerly with the Seventh Cavalry at Fort Bliss, Tex., and spent a year upon the Mexican border. The Tracys are returning to New Mexico today for the winter.

WANT A FRANCHISE? HERE'S ONE FOR SALE.

The Council received a report yesterday from the City Attorney regarding the city's offering for sale a street car franchise on Maple avenue, from Seventh to Thirty-second streets, and its failure to receive any bids therefor. The City Attorney states that he took up the matter with the Los Angeles Railway officials, and that they suggest the advisability of deferring any other action until such time as the State Railroad Commission completes its survey and investigations of the financial situation of the street railway system.

TO FEED THE ANIMALS.

It will cost $185.50 for meat to feed the animals at the Griffith Park zoo next month. The Park Commission yesterday asked the Council to make an appropriation of this amount for use during October.

THEY'D TRY IT ON THE JUDGE.

Shenk Decides Against Any Smudge Demonstration. Canaries Like It—

Judge Shenk decided yesterday that he did not care for a demonstration of what a smudge pot looks like when it is going well. The experiment was suggested in the injunction suit of D. C. Cruikshank, and J. C. Curran against the city of Pomona to restrain the municipality from enforcing the ordinance declaring smudge pots within the city limits a nuisance.

The plaintiffs declared that many canary birds had been used to demonstrate that the fumes from smudge pots are not poisonous, as has been charged. In this connection it was stated that during the late war canary birds were employed to detect poisonous gases, they being unusually susceptible to poison fumes. It was declared that canary birds hung in the orchards banned by the ordinance suffered no inconvenience from the fumes, but seemed to thrive on them.

BAN SOLICITING.

Long-considered Traffic Ordinance is Passed at Last.

An ordinance, long considered, regulating soliciting at the railway stations and the standing of passenger-carrying vehicles on portions of the public streets, was adopted by unanimous vote of the Council yesterday, after a further hearing of the proponents of the ordinance and the independent taxicab drivers.

The districts in which soliciting for hotels, cafes or passenger-carrying vehicles is prohibited are as follows: Santa Fe avenue, between the southerly line of First street and the northerly line of Third street; Central avenue, between Sixth street and the prolongation of the easterly line of Gladys avenue across Central avenue; First street, between the easterly line of the official bed of the Los Angeles River and the westerly line of Anderson street.

Areas in these districts are also defined within which it shall be unlawful for vehicles to stand, except while engaged in loading or unloading, and when this does not take more than ten minutes. The ordinance also defines the limitations within which solicitation for hotel, cafe and passenger-carrying vehicles may be carried on.

SERVED SMILES OUT OF GASOLINE CANS?

OIL STATION OWNER HELD TO ANSWER IN FIRST CASE OF KIND HERE.

Hilarity in an oil station at Alameda street and Florence avenue resulted in the arrest of Thomas Hewitt, owner, on a charge of selling liquor in an unincorporated section of the county, and he was yesterday held to answer by Justice Cassidy of Huntington Park.

Hewitt was arrested Saturday by Detectives Smith and Grist of the District Attorney's office after they had traced jovial spirits of the neighborhood to the oil station. The officers testified that they entered just as Hewitt was "stuck" for the drinks, and they watched him serve liquor out of a gasoline can to three men who had been matching dollars for the drinks at 50 cents each.

The officers seized six quarts of whisky, two dozen bottles of beer and fifteen gallons of wine, which was produced in court. Whisky, it was said, sold at $5 a pint.

Thomas B. White appeared on behalf of Hewitt, securing his release on bail of $500 pending trial in Superior Court. The charge is a high-grade misdemeanor and is the first case of this kind handled by the county authorities since the country went dry. Deputy District Attorney Dennison produced three witnesses who admitted that they regularly got a "smile" out of the gasoline cans.

DISCUSS LONG BEACH PLANS FOR BRIDGES.

CONFERENCE DECIDES TO GET ADDITIONAL REPORT ON CHANNEL STRUCTURES.

The Long Beach channel proposition, which has been under discussion for some time, was again considered yesterday at a conference between Mayor Lisenby and officials of Long Beach, and Supervisor Cogswell, County Counsel Hill, Deputy County Counsel Morgan and D. E. Hughes, representing the United States Engineer's office. The question discussed was the construction of additional bridges over the channel, and whether the work of construction should be from Serritos trestle south to the ocean, or from the ocean north, with the view of preventing diversion.

Long Beach wants the county to put in a bridge at Broadway, in addition to the bridges decided upon at Ocean View, Seventh street and Anaheim road. The Board of Supervisors stands firm in declining to construct the Broadway bridge, and there has been much discussion on this subject.

The Long Beach City Engineer will give a report as to what diversion would be brought about by the construction from the north. This will be considered by the Long Beach Commissioners and decided.

The Supervisors will be ready to proceed with the work as soon as the order of construction is decided and the location of the streets is accomplished.

SAY AMERICAN BEGAN MUTINY.

Long Beach Man Held in Jail by Mexican Authorities.

Was Close Friend of Man Just Executed, is Claim.

Efforts to Secure Release Have Proven Fruitless.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CALEXICO, Sept. 23.—Albert N. Tribolet, Long Beach resident, at present held in the jail at Mexicali by the Mexican authorities on a charge of attempting to smuggle arms into Mexico, it now appears was a close friend of Refugio Acero, ringleader of the mutiny at Algodones, who was executed after being found guilty before a military court. Efforts of two sisters at Long Beach to secure the release of Tribolet have proved fruitless and it is hinted that the Mexican authorities believe they have captured the real agitator of the attempted revolution.

To the undoubted fact that there was a revolution which was carefully planned and well executed and which failed because it was started prematurely, Tribolet's arrest adds confirmation and color.

It has been rumored in Mexicali that a revolution had been the hope of certain classes, or the representatives of these classes, and that this movement was checked by the prompt action of the government in quelling it. There are not a few who claim it would have resulted in serious consequences had not Acero grown impatient, failed to carry out his part and started several days earlier than had been intended. Acero made many dangerous admissions while on trial.

Tribolet, now linked with the uprising by the authorities, has made several statements to the officers. He is alleged to have a father living at Mesa, Ariz. The Mexicans declare he was expelled from Sonora in 1914 because of his agitations.

A few days before his arrest Tribolet is reported to have attempted to rent a vacant business place in Mexicali from the Chinese owner to be used as an automobile tire repair shop. To others he is said to have made the statement he was going to open an auto agency and Acero reported he was going to open a cigar factory.

Acero is said to have made no effort to conceal their acquaintance and the fact that they worked together. Tribolet, on he other hand, is reported to have at first denied that he knew Acero, but is said to have later admitted he "heard of Acero in Arizona and knew him slightly."

Acero retained remarkable composure before he was executed. By one of the officers who acted it is related that he showed an absolute disregard for his fate when the final moment came. He asked no mercy, spoke no word of farewell and appeared not to miss those that might have been spoken by others to him. As the handcuffs were being removed from his hands, just before he was shot, he turned and said to the officer:

"I would like, if you please, to face the east. I want the morning sunlight to be shining in my face as I pass out."

"Very well," answered the officer. "You may stand as you wish, so that you face the squad."

That is why the few spectators noted that Acero looked off across the desert to the east, over the heads of the firing squad and soldiers until he knew the second had arrived. Then he gazed calmly at his executioners—and waited.

WALNUTS WORTH WEIGHT IN GOLD.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENTURA, Sept 23.—What is believed to be the highest price per acre ever obtained for Ventura county real estate has been paid by John P. Thille to Chester Knox for thirty-five acres of his ranch in the Mound district near Ventura. Mr. Thille paid $2250 an acre, the entire purchase price being $78,750.

The land is planted to walnuts.

LOS ANGELES CONVICT ESCAPES, RECAPTURED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

FOLSOM, Sept. 23.—E. M. Amidon, serving terms in Folsom penitentiary for burglary and grand larceny, of which he was convicted in Los Angeles county, escaped shortly before noon today, but was recaptured in a few minutes. He was one of a gang of convicts constructing a fish ladder in the American River, and when guards and convicts fell back on the discharge of a blast he fled into the nearby brush.

A large force of guards immediately started in pursuit of Amidon, who was surrounded and captured. According to Warden J. J. Smith, Amidon had served a penitentiary sentence before he was committed for his present terms.

PUPILS CROWD CITY SCHOOLS.

Crown City Asks Court to Stop Jazz Dance Music.

Fire Scare Sends Children from Schoolhouse.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Sept. 23.—There are more pupils in the Pasadena schools, which opened for the fall term this week, than the school authorities can accommodate. Some of the schools will have to provide two sessions a day.

Superintendent J. F. West is working out "double-shift" schedules for the more congested schools and expects to put the plan into operation in the next day or so. All the overcrowded grades will go on half-sessions, one class attending in the morning and another in the afternoon.

The schools where it seems necessary to adopt this policy are the McKinley, Jefferson, Washington, Longfellow, Wilson, Lincoln and Roosevelt. The first grades and the fifth, sixth and seventh seem to be the most congested.

CITY FIGHTS DANCE HALL.

The City Commission, by a vote of three to one, today instructed City Attorney J. H. Howard to bring action in the Superior Court to stop Mark Hall from conducting his dancing academy on Summit avenue, a popular residential thoroughfare. Some months ago the commission voted in favor of a new ordinance prohibiting dance halls in the district where the Hall Academy is situated but the proprietor was granted an extension of time. He owns his building there and represented that he would lose much money if forced to get out at once. Neighbors, however, have protested that the noise of the jazz keeps them awake and petitioned the Commission to stop the dancing as a "public nuisance." Commissioner M. H. Salisbury was the only commissioner present to vote against today's resolution to carry ouster procedings to the Superior Court. He said other dance academies were not interfered with and considered that Mr. Hall was the target of discrimination.

FIRE SCARE AT SCHOOL.

Clouds of smoke filled the Columbia school while classes were in session this morning, causing the alarm of fire. The children were sent from the smoky building without accident. It was discovered that the school incinerator back-fired its smoke, there being no fire in the building.

ROUND-UP OF NEWS FROM IN AND AROUND VISALIA.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VISALIA, Sept. 23.—Acoidentally shot in the leg, with resultant fracture of both bones, S. J. Dougherty of Lemoore lay in a tent in Russell Meadows, in the Sierras, eighty miles east of here, for nearly two days before a surgeon from Visalia could reach him, and with only such rough relief as could be given him by others of his party. He was finally carried on a stretcher a distance of thirty miles to the headquarters of Sequoia National Park, nearly dead from loss of blood. Unless blood poisoning develops Dougherty should recover, the physician says

GAMBLING RAID.

As a result of a raid on the oriental quarter conducted by State and county officers, with Marshal C. E. Rowland, twenty Chinese, Japanese and Filipino residents of that section were booked at the County Jail on charges of gambling.

In a general search of the quarters raided the officers secured a large quantity of gambling materials and a considerable sum of money, included in the latter marked coins which operatives of the Sheriff's office had introduced into the games.

NEED MANY TEACHERS.

Despite the fact that in many instances the highest salaries are being offered, several rural schools of Tulare county, scheduled to open next week, are still without instructors. J. E. Buckman, the County Superintendent, believes that with the work now being done these schools will be supplied in due course. Salaries being paid in other lines of work, much above the level paid school teachers, accounts for the shortage, Mr. Buckman says.

Grammar schools which opened today are: Ash Springs, Coho, Deer Creek, Dennison, East Lynne, Elbow Creek, Elk Bayou, Grand View, Linder, Linwood, Lovell, Outside Creek, Sultana, Union, Visalia, Waukena, Willows, Wilson and Windsor.

HOUSE SHORTAGE.

So acute has become the housing problem in Visalia that provision of more properties to rent is to be taken up as a community development under direction of the officers of the Board of Trade. A plan is now being worked out for financing a building corporation to secure the funds for construction of a number of modern places, which will be sold on the installment plan. Impetus was given to the proposal through reports which have reached the publicity organization of a number of families compelled to change their plans with reference to residence in Visalia when they were unable to find suitable homes for rent.

SOLDIER HERO DIES.

Injuries Received while in Service Prove Fatal.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Sept. 23.—Lieut. E. W. Shirk, recently of this city, and a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kimberly of Kimberly Crest, died at St. Luke's Hospital in Chicago of septic meningitis. He had suffered from an injury to the inner ear caused by his jumping overboard from a transport en route to Brest to save a Belgian who had fallen over. He underwent an operation at the hospital for the removal of a part of the mastoid bone, but did not recover.

Lieut. Shirk was a wealthy man. He wanted to get into the service as soon as the United States declared war, but had government contracts on hand. He got these out of the way, then leased his factory and went into the Naval Reserve Flying Corps as a lieutenant. He had charge of the assembling at the new base at Queenstown.

For jumping overboard and saving the Belgian he received the Belgian Cross and was recommended for the United States Life-saving Medal. His wife was Miss Mary Emma Kimberly, who was a popular society woman here.

CONDUCT SERIES OF EXPERIMENTS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LINDSAY, Sept. 23.—Citrus growers from all parts of Tulare county have made a formal contract whereby the orchard owners will meet all the expenses of a series of soil experiments which are to be conducted in Tulare county for the next five years under the direction of experts of the citrus experiment station in Riverside.

By the terms of the contract, which is guaranteed by the various associations and exchanges, four ten-acre experiment tracts are to be provided, the salary of the director is to be paid and all costs of fertilizer, irrigation, automobile hire and orchard labor will be met.

When these experiments are completed the university hopes to be in a position to furnish scientifically accurate data as to the best practice to be followed in irrigation, cultivation, fertilization and sanitation of Tulare county orchard soils.

VOTE TO IMPROVE IRRIGATING SYSTEM.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 23.—Practically a unanimous sentiment in favor of constructing a storage water system was expressed at a special meeting of the South Tule Independent Ditch Company, when the stockholders voted to increase the capital stock from $24,000 to $90,000 and proceed immediately with construction which will entail an estimated expenditure of $70,000.

It is proposed to impound in a reservoir near the borders of the Tule Indian Reservation the entire seasonal flow to which the irrigation company is entitled from the Tule River, and to distribute this water through cement-lined canals to the 1000 acres of valuable citrus orchards in the Success Valley. There are no engineering difficulties to be surmounted, and the water rights were validated by court decree some time ago.

DEMAND REFUND OF PART OF TAX MONEY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 23.—Whether the counties of Riverside, San Bernardino, Imperial and possibly Los Angeles will be reimbursed by the State for money expended on the roads under the act of 1915 is a very live question in this district.

It is the general sentiment in San Bernardino and Riverside counties that inasmuch as in last July, $20,000,000 bonds were voted for these same roads, it is only just that the counties who have already expended large sums should be reimbursed by the State. At a conference recently held between the boards of Supervisors of San Bernardino and Riverside counties it was decided to seek concerted action with Los Angeles and Imperial counties to that end. The Riverside Supervisors stated that at a conference in San Francisco in July last, that they had received assurances that such a reimbursement clause would be included in theact voted at the July election, and that they had supported the bonds as a result of these assurances.

COMMUNITY FAIR SELF-SUPPORTING.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 23.—Financial reports for the community fair at Poplar, a rural community west of here, show that the attendance the last two days was more than 5000 people and that the receipts for the period the fair was open will be more than sufficient to pay all expenses. The showing was a unique one, in view of the fact that Poplar is seven miles from a railroad and the entire community has a population of not more than 200 people.

Judges who awarded the prizes and who are acknowledged experts, declared the stock shown compared very favorably with the best exhibited at the State fair.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

When Financial News is Advertising; More Hotels Needed; Who's Who.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

The exact point of contact where the line of legitimate publicity touches that of advertising is nebulous. Especially is this true in matter pertaining to financial and business topics, for in this field it is practically impossible to discuss the day's developments without bringing them into relationship with individuals or firms; indeed, to attempt to separate them destroys the news value of the item.

On the other hand, every financial writer is constantly being importuned to mention this, that or the other enterprise; boost this, that or the other stock, or include in some way the name of Thomas, Henry or Richard. No one is more alive to the advantages of favorable mention than the dealer in attractively-printed stock certificates.

These sage remarks are called forth because the eternal vigilance which is the price of safety, and of making a business review stand for something besides an adjunct to the advertising columns is a national requirement. So much so that one of the principal addresses at the annual convention of the Financial Advertisers' Association being held today in New Orleans is devoted to the subject. The speaker, Mr. James I. Clarke, manager of the service department of the National Bank of Commerce, New York, is authority on the subject. May I not quote a few excerpts from the address?

"Publicity," Mr. Clarke said, "should be built from the viewpoint of the newspapers to which it goes rather than of the corporation from which it comes. Publicity that is not based on public interest is not worth getting. Legitimate publicity seeks to inform the public, not to sell them. Our worth-while periodicals print news because it is news, and advertising because it is paid for. In so doing they give true service to both advertiser and reader. Publicity is the application of a science and the results of legitimate publicity will be manifest in the progress of our own institution and in the healthy business development of America."

Little Acorn Great Oak.

There would be nothing unusual in the opening of a Pomona branch by a Los Angeles business or financial house, but when the process is reversed and a Pomona concern opens a branch office in Los Angeles it is time to sit up and take notice. This has just happened in the case of the Mutual Building and Loan Association of Pomona, which has established a branch office at 1024 Van Nuys Building. This is one of the original institutions of the kind in Southern California, and from its home office several bankers who afterwards made their power felt in the wider fields of finance were graduated. It is the boast of the company that it has had but four foreclosures in the twenty-six years of its existence. Latterly the Los Angeles business has been growing so fast that the town office became imperative and it has been established under the direction of W. A. McCormick. The resources of the association now aggregate $1,605,537.85, a growth of $279,377 in six months, the bulk of which is in first mortgages and savings at 5 and 6 per cent. Its gross earnings for the first six months of 1919 were $31,279.72. Mel Campbell is president of the association.

Hotel Dwellers.

Are we turning into a nation of hotel dwellers? Gad Morgan, Los Angeles manager for S. W. Straus & Co., is inclined to think that we are, and he bases this observation upon the acute building shortage, modern living conditions, the servant problem and high costs. Mr. Morgan has just returned from an eastern trip which he made with Ferdinand Thieriot, Pacific Coast manager for the Straus company, and he says that from coast to coast hotels are unable to meet the space demands upon them, and patrons are compelled to seek shelter wherever accommodations may be available. Mr. Morgan, of course, does not attempt to conceal the fact that his company is financing some great hotel projects, among them the new Linnard California in this city, but aside from this circumstance, there is much truth in what he says, and it seems essential, especially in this community, where there is such a constant demand for guest room, that, if there is to be a continuance of our growth and prosperity, new hotels of the highest type must be erected as rapidly as possible. It is also true that this is a form of investment which has only recently become available to the general public, but which is finding a ready response. The housing problem in Los Angeles is not being solved nearly as fast as it should be. We are behind other and less needful cities in this respect, and many persons will find it desirable to fall back upon the comforts and resources of the modern, up-to-date hotel.

Stoneham Handbook.

The Stoneham yearly handbook issued by Charles A. Stoneham & Co. of New York is ready for distribution. It reviews 800 oil, mining, industrial and miscellaneous securities covering capitalization, management, market fluctuation, dividends, earnings, etc., and is a valuable source of general and statistical information.

After Twenty Years.

When Admiral Dewey floated the Stars and Stripes over the native huts and the fifteenth century Spanish modernities of Manila it would have been a bold prophet who would have ventured to forecast an announcement which is appearing in eastern papers today offering $1,500,000 of three-year 7 per cent. gold notes of the Manila Electric Railroad and Lighting Corporation. This corporation has been paying dividends on $6,000,000 of common stock since 1906 and provides electric light, power and railroad service to a population of 350,000 people. There is nothing unusual about the offer which will be quickly oversubscribed except in the light of accomplishment and the expansion of a new field for financial development.

Who's Who.

The Trident Packing Company, which is now offering $100,000 of 8 per cent. preferred stock, is said to have taken over the entire business and plant of the Pacific Packing Company, located on Channel No. 2 in Los Angeles Harbor. The company proposes to pack fish and other sea foods for market in an extensive way, and to store during the season when the price is low sardines, tuna, albacore, barracuda, mackerel, herring, cod, sea bass

POTATO MARKET AGAIN WEAKENS.

HEAVY SUPPLY BRINGS PRICES DOWN; OTHER PRODUCE STEADY.

Activity characterized the dealings on the floor of the local produce exchange yesterday, with a general firm tone prevailing on most lines of produce. Yesterday's offerings were in good condition, and with a brisk demand in evidence, dealers on the floor were able to dispose of their stocks early and at good prices. Heavy late arrivals caused a slight reaction during the closing hours of trading, but, although the late arrivals moved more slowly, the dealers were able to dispose of them at fractionally lower figures, and the market closed strong on nearly all lines of produce.

The potato market, which opened weak on Monday morning, showed further decline in prices yesterday, when Stockton Burbanks fell 25 cents per hundredweight, others, best, shunned 15 cents, and the toover grades sold at $2.25 for the most part, a few selling as high as $2.50. The present condition of the potato market is attributed to heavy arrivals of the last two days, 39 cars arriving Monday, and 23 cars arriving yesterday. On Monday's arrivals, 15 cars were left on the track, leaving yesterday's market with 38 carloads on hand. Dealers say that the present heavy arrivals are due to the fact that a strong market for this product has held here during the past week, with the result that shipments to this point have become heavier than the local trade can stand. This condition, with lowering prices on account of heavy arrivals will adjust itself, and no loss is expected by local shippers.

Peaches were a little weaker on yesterday's market, arrivals being heavy, while demand remained at about steady. The best local varieties sold at prices ranging from 5½ to 6 cents per pound, while lug boxes declined 10 cents each, selling at $1.90 for the top price.

On other lines of fruit the market is steady. Apples, although arrivals during the past few days have been heavy, continue to hold firm on all varieties except Bellefleurs, which declined 5 cents per lug box yesterday.

Corn, best roasting ears, brought prices ranging from 75 to 85 cents per lug box of three dozen yesterday, an increase of 15 cents over Monday's prices. Good quality in this line is in active demand, while the late arrivals have not been of the best grade.

The market for plums is firm, with an upward tendency for first-class Ridgevirns. Yesterday this variety advanced 1 cent per pound, with an active demand, and quality and condition generally good.

All lines of vegetables continue to hold firm, with little variation in price, and with a steady demand for most produce. Although the tomato market is sluggish, with prices varying according to quality and condition from day to day, the general tone of the market for this product is firm, with good stock bringing from 60 to 75 cents per lug box. No variation other than the usual fractional price changes that occur daily in the course of trading have been noted on other vegetables during the sessions of the past two days.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Trading in stocks today was dull and uncertain of tone after the firm opening, but became active and strong in the later dealings, when steels and other popular issues rose to top prices of the session. Advices from leading centers indicated no pronounced change in the steel strike.

Shorts again hesitated to avail themselves of such advantage as might accrue from existing labor conditions, although emphasizing disadvantage of a protracted strike among related lines of manufacture, notably equipments and motors.

Distinctive steel shares were under restraint from the outset, but in no case was the setback more than nominal. United States Steel was 1½ points lower than its minimum, but responded to substantial buying at the end, closing unchanged at 102⅜.

Tobaccos, oils and food issues again ran counter to the general tendency, gains in these divisions ranging from 2 to 7 points, with American Tobacco, retail stores, Mexican Petroleum, Texas Company and American Sugar as the chief features of strength. Rails of the lower grade, especially Wheeling and Lake Erie common and preferred, the various express company issues and leathers embraced other prominent and strong stocks, but investment rails, coppers and local tractions shaded 1 to 4 points. Sales amounted to 975,000 shares.

Liberty issues were firm and the international group moderately irregular, but the general bond market eased on reactions among speculative rails and utilities. Sales, par value, aggregated $13,650,000. Old U.S. 4's rose 1-4 on call.

JURY DISAGREES IN WHITE SLAVE CASE.

After an hour's deliberation, the jury in the case of Daniel Steele, keeper of a garage in Kansas City, Kan., charged with violating the Mann White Slave Act, disagreed last evening and was discharged by United States District Judge Trippet.

The woman in the case is Miss Helen McCabe, his stepdaughter, who celebrated her sixteenth birthday by arriving in Los Angeles with Steele, July 31, it being charged that Steele had brought her from Kansas for an immoral purpose. Miss McCabe, who looks almost like a child, told a sordid story of mistreatment, by her stepfather, to which the defendant made a vigorous denial.

ON CAR SITUATION.

City Officials May Appeal to Huntington to Re-employ old men.

Mayor Snyder, the City Council and City Attorney, held a further conference, yesterday morning, in the Mayor's office regarding street car traffic conditions, but no definite results were reached. Another similar conference is scheduled for this afternoon.

Some of those participating in the conference, which was held behind closed doors, intimated that the action most probable is a direct appeal to Henry E. Huntington, either by the Mayor or a committee of Councilmen, for the purpose of securing his agreement to concessions that will restore to service experienced men who left the railway's employ.

It was also indicated that legislation may be recommended, as a safeguard to the public, that will require several weeks of schooling or experience before motormen and conductors will be permitted to run service cars.

TO MAKE THEM HIGHER.

City's to Charge Domestic Rates Where Irrigation Water's Pumped.

For many months past the Board of Public Service Commission has had under consideration the problem of irrigation rates for districts where the water has to be pumped, which increases the cost of service. In various instances, the irrigation rates in such districts have resulted in actual loss to the Water Department, so yesterday, the board adopted a resolution declaring that irrigation rates for pumped water will be discontinued, and straight domestic rates, which are higher, will be charged for all pumped water after April 1 of next year. This will affect irrigation in Rose Hill, Sierra Vista, Bairdstown, Garvanza, Annandale, and some other localities.

INQUIRY GOES OVER.

Owing to other cases coming before the county grand jury, the inquiry regarding the death at the State Hospital at Norwalk of William J. Rogers, a miner, was not taken up yesterday by the inquisitors, it was said at the District Attorney's office.

"No matter how hard you may try, you will not be able to forget 'Broken Blossoms.'"—Chicago Journal.—[Advertisement.

TWO NEW FOREST FIRES BREAK OUT IN HILLS.

Los Angeles Municipal Playground and San Bernardino Resorts Menaced by Fresh Conflagrations.

during the day of the situation in the San Gabriel country, with news that the fighters had been compelled to shift their camps from Bichota Canyon, and establish themselves in Burro Canyon. Another stand was being made at Susana Creek, west of Camp Bonita.

A telephone message from Ranger Mendenhall to the effect that the fire had more advance Monday night than for the last three days, indicating the extreme dangers of the situation. This was relative to the San Gabriel situation. The men were trying to hold it at the main forks of the San Gabriel, with what success is yet to be demonstrated.

Yesterday afternoon, the Board of Supervisors recognizing the gravity of the situation, sent County Forester S. J. Flintham to co-operate with Ranger Mendenhall at the forks of the San Gabriel, and authorized him to call on the men occupied in the work of erecting the check-dams under the Flood Control management, to co-operate with Flintham in any way to assist in putting out the fire.

A message from a rancher named McGuire was received asking for more men to fight the flames between Trail Canyon and Hanson's ranch, where the prospects were good for another outbreak when it was supposed that the flames had been permenently stayed. The request was immediately complied with.

During the afternoon a wireless telephone was installed at the forks of the San Gabriel, by Ranger Mendenhall, the first time the device has ever been used in the local forest.

A telegram was sent to San Francisco late yesterday afternoon, asking the assistance of District Ranger Coert DuBois, and a party of trained men accustomed to handling fighting crews will be on the job this morning. They will be sent at once to points in the San Gabriel country, and along lines of threatened danger in the vicinity of Pacoima Canyon.

One of the elements that has contributed much to the stubbornness of the epoch-making blaze, is the fact that the wind has been blowing almost a hurricane from the north for a week, and embers and burning limbs of trees have been carried in the air for miles, causing the fire to make unexpected jumps. It would seem that it is stopped in one spot only long enough for the tired fighters to discover it appear in almost an instant in another some times miles away. This has the effect the lengthening the fire line, and making concentrated effort almost impossible.

Every man able to be secured has been sent to the force along the fire line, thirty-five more leaving yesterday for Mt. Gleason, where what is known as the Ravenna fire jumped across Santa Barbara Reserve, and into the Angeles. There was danger that the flames would get into Mill Creek, and a force of rangers established a camp at Mt. Gleason in the hope of beating it back. It is the second time that this section has been threatened.

Two Mexican fire fighters who were reported lost in the blazing woods yesterday turned up in Pasadena late last night after narrowly escaping losing their lives. James Granell, who was packing supplies for the fighters into Switzer's Camp in the Arroyo Seco, was almost hemmed in by the flames. He managed to escape and saved all his burros, but was forced to abandon part of the supplies.

Maj. B. K. Yount, in command of March Field, Riverside, has placed his entire establishment at the command of Supervisor R. H. Charlton, consisting of airplanes, wireless telephones, observers, pilots and operators. The airplanes have been especially valuable in locating the exact locations of fires, that on account of the almost inaccessible points where they are found would make identification impossible, for some of the worst spots are in places where even a burro cannot travel.

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, through its officials, have offered any aid it is able to furnish, to stamp out the blaze, the calamity following the threatened destruction of the entire western end of the local reserve being deprecated and provided for, if the tenders made are accepted.

DE MILLE RANCH BURNED.

The De Mille ranch, with all its improvements was valued by Mr. De Mille at $100,000. Seven houses had been built, one of them a particularly picturesque structure with a giant oak tree as its center. The grounds around the buildings had been beautified at great expense, and the ranch was well stocked with live stock, including more than 1000 chickens. Word sent Mr. De Mille yesterday was that flames had whipped over the ranch, completely destroying everything in their path.

The director-general of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation first learned Friday afternoon that his ranch was in danger. In an effort to learn the true situation, he flew over the location in his airplane, but could see little because of the smoke and his inability to fly lower than 3000 feet, due to the intense heat.

On his return to Los Angeles he had given up hope of saving his property, but all through the night a force of men fought the flames and on Saturday morning he was informed that there was still hope. Immediately fifty more men were sent to aid those who had waged the all-night fight. Ever since, the uneven battle has been carried on and at times the danger seemed averted.

Though the fire fighters were not successful in keeping off the flames, they did give Mr. De Mille time to remove from the danger zone certain possessions which he regarded as priceless. Among them was one of the largest collections of Navajo rugs privately owned, including what is said to be the biggest Navajo rug ever made. He also had a rare collection from the Denver museum, trophies of his big-game hunts, objects of art and various other relics. These were all saved.

Mr. De Mille said last night he will rebuild at once.

SEND MORE HELP.

Despite encouraging reports of the checking of the fire nearing the Arroyo Seco, Forest Rangers W. G. Marx and A. J. Berg, yesterday afternoon, recruited new forces at Pasadena and returned to the fight with supplies. With them were twenty Pasadena firemen, assigned to the task by the Crown City fire commission. Engineer R. B. Morris, of the Pasadena Water Department said last night that the watershed is practically out of danger.

Wild rumors, partly borne of the terrifying fall of ashes over the city, were circulated about Pasadena yesterday. One was that the city was menaced by a fire already sweeping the Arroyo Seco, another that the Mt. Wilson Solar Observatory

BELGIAN RULERS WILL COME HERE

King Albert, Queen Elizabeth to be Our Guests.

Expected to Arrive Latter Part of October.

Will Also Visit Yosemite and San Francisco.

The King and Queen of the Belgians will visit Los Angeles during the week of October 19, it was announced yesterday, by Senator Phelan in Washington. They are expected to be in San Francisco October 15 and to go from there to Yosemite Valley, where they will rest for several days, before coming south.

Following their national park visit, King Albert and Queen Elizabeth, will come here and it is thought by the Senator that they will remain three or four days. Arrangements were being made yesterday, for the welcome of the distinguished visitors, Charles Wissel, Belgian Consul, stated that a committee of 200 Belgians will co-operate with the committee recently appointed by Mayor Snyder. The two will work together, he said, to make the Los Angeles celebration distinctly western in its hospitality.

The King and Queen sailed yesterday, from Ostend on the George Washington, the ship that took President Wilson across each time.

DENY RIGHT OF THE POLICE TO ARREST.

HABEAS CORPUS WRIT SUED OUT FOR PAIR HELD AS CHICAGO FUGITIVES.

Efforts of the Chicago police to obtain the extradition from this State to Illinois of Mrs. Minerva Jane Buchanan an James Gordon Buchanan, her stepson, will be fought out in the local courts, it was indicated yesterday, when a writ of habeas corpus was sued out in behalf of the two by John L. Richardson, their attorney. Mrs. Buchanan and her stepson were arrested by the police in this city upon the complaint of A. G. Buchanan, of Chicago, husband of the woman and father of the young man, who is 22.

Upon request of Mr. Richardson, Judge Craig continued a hearing on the writ of habeas corpus until Thursday, when the jurisdiction of the local police will be argued. While this was taking place, Deputy District Attorney Becker issued a fugitive warrant against the mother and stepson, accusing her of stealing a trunk, said to be worth $25, and him of passing fictitious checks in Chicago.

"Mrs. Buchanan, according to the information on which she was arrested here, was taken into custody for stealing a trunk she owns," said Mr. Richardson. "Her stepson says he never even issued a check in Chicago, let alone a fictitious one."

The writ will be argued upon the right of the local police to hold the pair pending the arrival of extradition papers.

FROM POWER SALE.

MANY SEE FASHION SHOW.

Latest in Stylish Apparel is Displayed for Benefit of Children's Hospital.

BY OLIVE GRAY.

Regaling eager eyes upon garments resplendent, hundreds of Los Angeles society folks turned out last evening to refill the exchequer of the Children's Hospital, at the Fashion Show staged at Trinity Auditorium.

Garment after garment, costume after costume—the triumphs of French and American courturial genius—were exhibited to the admiring gaze, while whispers and exclamations of approval were heard throughout the audience assembled for the worthy charity. A large sum was realized.

Not only were the creations such as to force homage from even the most jaded taste, but as worn by the lovely screen stars who thus contributed to the good cause they gained in beauty and in interest.

Gowns, cloaks, suits, and three-piece dresses, by such makers as Paul Poiret, Hickson, Madelene et Madeleine, Lanvin, Callot, Magnone, Chanel, Drecol, Arviotty and other world famous clothes composers, shared glory with hats by Marie Guy, Joseph, Lucie Hamar, Jean Duc, Evelyne Varon, Suzanne Talbot and Thurn. Wonderful negligees, breakfast coats, rest robes and other garments were also displayed.

Clearly outlined, in one's recollections of the delightful event is, among others, a superb evening cloak by Drecol, the fabric resembling a gay partierre of many-colored flowers seen through a coppery mist. Upon closer inspection the material of this creation was seen to be of copper bullion brocade, under-wooled with broad petalled blossoms, in the rich tones of tulips. The collar, high and broad, of course, was of nutria, and the lining of burnt orange, which color, with the other tints composing the material of the cloak, blended into several sumptuous tassels, giving the final note of luxury in this imperial wrap.

A suit by Mangone, was of Kordovan duvetyne, the coat marked by the new flaring skirt, and the stole-like seal collar extending to the hem of its hip-length. Pockets cleverly concealed just below the breast-line are a feature quite unique.

An extremely smart tailleure by Hickson is in leather brown, the fabric that suede-like duvetyn which this leading American maker delights to fashion.

GENIUS SHOWN.

A three-piece suit by Poiret, proving that war has not dimmed the genius of this always interesting designer, sounded the Cossack note in the flaring skirt of the half-length coat, which is gathered upon a heavy silver cord, the cord stopping short, and ending in a flare of scarlet tassel. The blouse with this unusual suit, of castor colored Rodier cloth, is of flamme Georgette, edged with a band of embroidered Rodier ribbon in ivory and black, the same material forming the high, wrinkled collar which fastens in the back. Rows of buttons covered in the embroidered ribbon, travel down the front of blouse and skirt.

An evening wrap of capucine velour, is embroidered in a huge cross over shoulders and down the back, black and yellow, touched with gold. A swathing collar of natural mink extends broadly across the shoulders.

A cloak of velour in that shade which is an intermingling of pomegranate and rose, is characterized by a collar and broad cuffs of Siberian squirrel interest with bands of blue and gold brocade, overfilmed with smoke-colored Georgette. A black and gold satin brocade, which composes a stunning wrap, gave an impression of glowing sunset seen through the foliage of tall, growing canes.

An evening gown in flamme color, has a train composed wholly of ostrich feathers uncurled and invisibly attached to tulle, the decolletage also formed from flamme colored ostrich plumes.

A three-piece suit of black chiffon velvet, is builded upon lines unique, and is enriched by a myriad of colors in the smock-like blouse, which matches the silken lining of the somewhat abbreviated coat.

Among the noted hats is one by Talbot, yielding to the Spanish influence in shape of crown and brim, both of which are encrusted with celophane, the sole other adornment being elongated pendant of dropping jet, which falls above one ear. Another is a picture shape of gold metallic cloth and tulle, overset with monkey fur, brim and crown dripping with this trimming which has in a measure usurped the realm of uncurled feathers; then there are a portrait shape in black Lyons velvet, owing its charm to a broad, sweeping plume of vulture feathers; a toque of velvet, smothered in natural ostrich, each flue weighted with a tiny bead of jet; a navy blue velvet shape of marvelous grace, enhanced by a cloud of dust-colored ostrich; a turban of capucine and gold, the feathers posed in that new mode, seeming to caress the neck and chin of the fair wearer. Unusual placing of feathers is the chief characteristic of the season's most modish millinery, in fact.

A CHINESE EFFECT.

Among the beautiful negligees, none are more striking than that in Chinese effect, the long velvet train of brocade in the color of a pomegranate, lined with a heavenly shade of blue; or the one of ivory white embroidered Canton crepe, the square collar falling to the waist line, both back and front. The lace with which this unusual collar is enhanced lends an air ethereal to the garment.

The audience, as if to pay tribute to the creation on the gowns show, was handsomely attired, rare jewels, rich furs lovely gowns and head dresses, lending a gala air to the evening's event.

The programme was as follows:

HE'S LATE, BABY WAITS, BIBY PAYS.

LITTLE GIRL STARTS NEW LIFE WITH ANOTHER NAME AND NICE BANK BALANCE.

Frank Hall, sales manager of the California Vegetable Union, and his wife, Frances E. L. Hall, were in Judge Reeve's court yesterday on one of the happiest days of their lives. They were about to adopt a rosy-cheeked baby, 6 months old, as their heir. They had retained John E. Biby as their attorney, and Mr. Biby was late.

Baby Isabel, as she is named, played at the lawyers' table, making friends with everyone. The minutes fled. Finally, Mr. Biby came hustling into the courtroom. He apologized to Judge Reeve for being late.

"I shall fine you $50," said the judge, but he had a twinkle in his eye as he said it.

"I want you to open an account in a savings account for this baby," he continued, addressing the happy foster parents, as he passed over the $50 check Mr. Biby had drawn up. "It is for Isabel, and I hope the account will grow into a substantial sum."

Mr. Biby expressed his pleasure at the outcome of the fine.

TO ASK FEDERAL AID.

Western States Want Government to Help Care for Tubercular.

In an effort to relieve Western States of the financial burden of caring for dependent tuberculosis cases which drift out from Eastern States, the Federal government will be asked to assume the care of all such cases and to pay $3 a day a patient while they are in western hospitals. This announcement was made yesterday in connection with plans for the southwestern tuberculosis conference to be held at Long Beach October 1 to 3, when California, Arizona, Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas and Colorado will be represented by public health officials, medical experts and social service workers.

Dr. Livingston Farrand, chairman of the Red Cross Central Committee of America, who was sent to France by this government to direct the warfare of science against tuberculosis, will speak on this subject at the conference.

TO BOARDER'S TANK.

Truck Driver Has the Money, but Won't Pay It to Family.

"She can look for something to eat; I am going into the boarder's tank," said W. Earl Ross, a Whittier truck driver, who was committed to the County Jail by Judge Myers yesterday because he was in arrears for alimony to his wife and two children.

Ross thereupon proffered a $5 bill to Bailiff Gates, and was taken to the boarder's tank. The court found that he had paid $79 on the order of $11 a week; had not paid any alimony since April 21, and was in arrears $295. His wife, Helen Edith Ross, is suing for divorce.

POLICEMAN DIES OF CRASH HURT.

Romero of Flying Squadron Second Collision Victim.

Inspector's Injuries Very Serious, Doctors Report.

Motorman, Held Blameless by Jury, is Freed.

Patrolman Joseph Romero, 34 years of age, of 118 Alta street, a member of the police flying squadron, died early yesterday afternoon as the result of injuries sustained when a police machine in which he was riding was struck by a street car at North Main and Marchessault streets early Monday morning. The policeman's body was removed from the Receiving Hospital, where he died, to the undertaking parlors of Heath, Gamash and Edwards.

Motorman J. E. Spencer, who was operating the street car that struck the police automobile, and who was placed under arrest by Police Detectives Bowe and Taylor following the accident, was released from the City Jail late yesterday afternoon after the evidence in the case had been placed before the District Attorney by the investigating officers. According to the District Attorney the evidence did not justify a complaint. No other charges will be brought against the motorman.

A Coroner's jury yesterday returned an open verdict at an inquest over the body of G. H. Woods, a merchant of Long Beach, who was instantly killed in the collision between the police machine and the street car. Woods was riding in the rear seat of the police machine and was pinned beneath the wreckage. The jury failed to place the blame for the accident, but held that Motorman Spencer was not responsible.

The text of the verdict follows: "Fracture of the skull in street car accident in which the motorman was in no wise to blame, and in which the driver of a Ford car appeared to be probably the cause, but was not to blame, and in which the police machine appeared to be out of control."

Police Inspector Hubert M. Kittle, who was driving the car, and who escaped death himself by being pinned behind the steering wheel of the automobile, was reported late yesterday to be more seriously injured than at first was believed. Kittle, who is being treated in the Receiving Hospital, may, according to police surgeons, have sustained internal injuries. His condition yesterday, according to the physicians, was bad. X-rays will be taken today in an effort to learn the extent of his injuries.

According to the official police report, Inspector Kittle attempted to turn from the North Main street into Marchessault street and was struck by the street car, northbound. The automobile was struck on the side and demolished. Woods and Romero were pinned in the wreckage in the rear of the machine and Kittle was jammed behind the wheel. No one on the street car was injured.

THIS WEAK, NERVOUS MOTHER

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. Worthline, 2842 North Taylor St., Philadelphia, Pa.

The majority of mothers nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal healthy condition, as it did to Mrs. Worthline.

If it's exercise she needs—why not a trapese in the office?

Why not helpful exercise rather than an excess of tiresome, tedious motions?

But, who ever heard of a stenographer taking a job for the exercise she can get out of it? It isn't the function of a business office to develop methods of exercise. Still, the injurious practice of reading notes at the side is still in vogue by our best stenographers. Thousands of motions are made per day that actually lower the physical powers without giving anything healthful in return.

These motions—this exercise—i. e., the constant twisting of the body, head and the shifting of the eyes from notes to letter sheet is ridiculous.

The Line-a-Time System of Transcribing is therefore logical, practical and a physical upbuilder. It is the means of cutting out those unnecessary motions and saving the girl by placing her notes right back of the typewriter so that one thought at a time can be exposed for transcribing.

There is a reason why the head stenographer of the Remington Company, for instance, prefers Line-a-Time Operators.

There is a reason for keeping girls fit to do the kind of work for which they educated themselves—and do it accurately.
